Ulster County Fair Opens For Annual Two-Day Stand

Early Judging Begins at Forsyth Park Under Clear, Blue Sky; Arlene Dahl Plans Visit on Thursday

The annual Ulster County Fair opened at 10 o'clock this morning at Forsyth Park for its two-day stand amid predictions that another record turnout will flock to the uptown park by the time the fair ends Thursday night.

An ever-increasing crowd poured into the park early this morning and heard a speech of welcome given by Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly. The city official welcomed the many organizations who have exhibits at the fair and also tendered an invitation to the visitors who appeared early.

Also speaking at the official opening this morning was Albert Kurdt, executive-secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

During his address of welcome this morning, Acting Mayor Kelly also called upon his young listeners in the audience to continue the fine work they have displayed in the annual fairs held in Kingston.

Actress to Attend Thursday

Meanwhile, an official announcement was made by the county fair committee today that Miss Arlene Dahl, Hollywood's newest glamour girl, who will make a personal appearance in Kingston Thursday in connection with the premiere of her latest picture, Caribbean, will attend part of the fair program Thursday afternoon at Forsyth Park.

The usual holiday atmosphere prevailed at this morning's opening.

The weatherman drew a big assist, giving the fair committee an ideal day, sunny skies and cool weather.

Dance Set Tonight

Judging was in progress throughout the fair early today, most of which will be completed during the course of the day with the exception of the horses.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight the 4-H Club girls will model their handmade dresses and garments near the park wading pool.

Later tonight music for dancing will be furnished on the tennis courts by Musicians' Protective Local 215.

Exhibits Draw Interest

One of the most extensive series of exhibits is that of the 4-H Club which drew considerable interest at this morning's program. One by the Lake Katrine Club consisted of a red barn, diminutive farm machinery and figures of animals.

Another of the many exhibits drawing interest was the demonstration in the care of baby chicks sponsored by the Ulster County Poultry Club.

Among the other exhibits attracting attention included the Future Farmers of America, Girl Scouts, Rip Van Winkle Council of Boy Scouts, Catholic Youth Organization, Ulster County Health Department, the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association and the Ulster County Branch of the Cancer Society.

Horse Judging Thursday

Judging of the horses, one of the main attractions at these annual county fair programs, will take place Thursday, the final day of the two-day fair. The fair is scheduled to wind up proceedings at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Today's fair, to which no admission is charged, is again being sponsored by the Ulster County Agricultural Society, of which C. C. DuMond, Jr., is president. Other officers are Albert Kurdt, secretary and Pratt Boise, treasurer.

U. S. Planes Strike Red Ammunition

Attack Occurs 25 Miles North of Pyongyang; MIG Damaged

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 20 (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said about 200 air force and navy warplanes today hit a Communist ammunition supply and troop billeting area on the Korea west coast about 25 miles northwest of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

The air force said U. S. Sabre jets damaged one of four Russian-made MIG-15 jets intercepted about 100 miles north of Pyongyang.

Planes from American carriers operating on the Korean east coast hit the target first—shortly after noon. They were followed by Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers.

58 Buildings Damaged

Returning pilots reported claims of 58 buildings demolished and five damaged. Big explosions rocked the area as bombs smacked into ammunition stores. Flames raged through the target, a center of more than 300 buildings.

The warplanes struck as bright sun broke over the quiet battle-front, soaked by typhoon rains.

The U. S. Eighth Army said 3,134 Reds were killed or wounded in the week ended Aug. 14, highest weekly toll in two months.

U. S. Marines inflicted most of the casualties in the hot battles on Bunker and Siberia Hills near Panmunjom. The marines seized Bunker Hill from the Chinese Aug. 12 and beat off seven big Red attempts to recapture it. UN troops early today threw back a probe against Bunker Hill in five minutes.

Eighth Army said the battle-front was relatively quiet. The only actions were minor enemy probes easily repulsed and small patrol skirmishes.

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The position of the treasury August 18: Net budget receipts, $158,842,702.28; budget expenditures, $196,330,685.89; cash balance, $7,390,434,442.06; customs receipts for month, $26,724,144.38; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $6,068-899,455.36; budget expenditures fiscal year, $9,544,583,142.42; budget deficit, $4,093,451,056.52; total debt, $262,907,916,660.23; increase over previous day, $10,867,-115.22; gold assets, $23,343,473,-782.80.

Senate House Is To Get Central Heating System

State Asks Bids for Work; Will Remove Hot Air Furnace in Building

The State Department of Public Works announced today that bids for installing a heating system at the Senate House here, will be opened at Albany Sept. 11 at 2 p. m.

The public works department is advertising for the bids on behalf of the education department. They will be received by Henry A. Cohen, director of the Bureau of Contracts and Accounts, Department of Public Works in the state office building, Albany.

Drawings and specifications may be examined free at the Senate House, the state office building in Albany or at the office of the public works department's district engineer in Poughkeepsie.

To Remove Furnace

A public works official at Albany said the present hot air furnace in the Senate House will be removed and the system installed will pipe steam from the Senate House Museum building. This will be converted in the smaller structure to hot air heat.

Action to have this work done was taken last year by Governor Dewey-appointed trustees of the Senate House Association. Conferences regarding the necessity of this move were held with Dr. Albert B. Corey, state historian, and Senator Arthur H. Wicks. The trustees felt the present heating system, in addition to being dirty and detrimental to the building, constituted a fire hazard endangering the reputedly oldest public building in America.

127 New Casualties

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 127 battle casualties in a new list (No. 632) from Korea which included 23 killed, 92 wounded, six missing and six injured.

Eisenhower To Give Talk On Policies

Republican Nominee Is to Assail Democrats, Ask Middle-Ground Course

Opposes Ism Gains

Boston Woman Added to Staff to Work for Women's Votes

Denver, Aug. 20 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower loaded his campaign guns today for a speech attacking the Democrats and calling on America to follow a middle ground course, "rejecting both the extreme left and right."

The Republican presidential nominee flies from his Denver headquarters to Boise, Idaho, for a major address from the state capitol steps (7 p. m. EST). Aides were describing it as the general's first frankly political speech since he became the party's standard bearer July 11.

Eisenhower arranged to confer first in Boise with the Republican governors of 10 western states. They planned a campaign discussion of matters of special interest to the west—such as reclamation, soil conservation and water power.

Points Set Forth

In advance of the campaign speech, Eisenhower's executive secretary, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., put out a statement setting forth points the general expected to cover. Vandenberg said:

"General Eisenhower in his speech today at Boise will denounce the attempts of leftist political groups to monopolize agreed social goals and to claim that theirs is the only way to achieve them.

"The present administration, the general will charge, is running this year with new faces but will continue to offer schemes like the Brannan (farm) plan, socialized medicine and bigger and more centralized government as its only solution to some of the pressing problems that confront America today.

"The general will say that some goals on which Americans today are agreed—employment and good wages, adequate security for old age, better education, better housing, protection of the rights of labor, protection of the right to earn and save, stable agriculture—can be won only if America chooses a course squarely down the middle, rejecting both the extreme right and extreme left."

To Insure Peace

Eisenhower told a group of prominent Republican women yesterday that his goal is to insure peace and progress for America and to prevent the "creeping paralysis of any kind of 'ism."

He told the group of GOP leaders that women can be a great help in helping to achieve that goal because "I believe their hearts and minds turn in the directions of peace, fairness and justice in the world."

The purpose of the conference was to map plans to woo the women's vote in November.

To that end, the general announced appointment of Mrs. Katherine G. Howard of Boston, national committeewoman from Massachusetts, to his personal

Voters Oust Officials In Primary

Two Congressmen, Five State Legislators Are Dropped in Scattered Areas

Hollowell Loses

Former City School Principal Is Beaten at Penn Yan

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Scattered voter discontent was blamed today for the ouster of two Republican congressmen and five state legislators in New York's dull, fall primary election.

Bowing out were Rep. Edwin Arthur Hall of Binghamton; Rep. John C. Butler of Buffalo; GOP State Senators William J. Bianchi of Manhattan, Orlo M. Brees of Endicott and Fred S. Hollowell of Penn Yan, Democratic Senator Harold I. Panken of Manhattan and Republican Assemblyman Richard H. Knauf of Binghamton.

(Senator Hollowell formerly lived in Kingston. He was at one time principal of School 6.)

In the feature battle of yesterday's primary, Rep. W. Sterling Cole of Bath swamped Hall by almost a 2-1 margin to haul in the GOP nomination in the reapportioned 37th District of Broome, Chemung, Steuben and Tioga counties. The Democratic-Liberal candidate is Miss Jean Ivory of Binghamton.

Hall announced he would run for mayor of Binghamton next year. Democrat Donald W. Kramer now holds the post.

No Pattern Noted

There was no discernible pattern to pinpoint the unrest among the voters. There were only 39 formal contests, but enough protest votes were produced to dump the seven incumbents.

A nip-and-tuck contest in Broome county between incumbent Richard H. Knauf and Darwin R. Wales for the GOP Assembly nomination will be settled Monday by a board of election canvass. One unofficial count gave Wales a 25-vote lead, 6,594 to 6,569. Another unofficial count gave Knauf a 44-vote margin, 6,588 to 6,544.

If Knauf is the loser, Broome will be swept clean of its present representatives. State Senator Orlo M. Brees was defeated by Warren M. Anderson in his bid for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Anderson is the son of Justice Floyd E. Anderson of State Supreme Court, who resigned from the Senate last spring to accept the judicial post. Brees won a special election to fill out the term.

Butler was downed in the new 42nd Congressional District of Erie county by John R. Pillion of Lackawanna, the organization's choice in 1950.

Coudert Is Renominated

Incumbent GOP congressmen winning renomination were Frederic R. Coudert Jr. of Manhattan's 17th District, Ralph A. Gamble of Larchmont in the 26th District of Putnam and part of Westchester, Clarence E. Kilburn of Malone in northern New York's 33rd District and Edmund P. Radwan of Buffalo, in Erie county's 41st.

Democrat Chester C. Gorski of Buffalo won his party's nomination in Eire's 43nd District.

E. Dent Lackey of Niagara Falls and Mariano A. Lucca of Buffalo were neck and neck in the 40th District's Democratic race. With 11 districts missing, Lackey had 2,887 and Lucca 2,694.

A retired utility executive, John H. Ray of Staten Island, stood off two young GOP insurgents in the realigned 15th District of Richmond and the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn. His opponents were John C. Mundt Jr. of Brooklyn and Robert T. Boody of Staten Island.

Democrat Claims Ike Must Act on McCarthy's Charges

Attacks Reported On U. S. Personnel

Reimposition of Martial Law Expected—Six Are Assailed

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 20 (AP)—In a renewal of assaults on U. S. military personnel, six Americans including two lieutenant colonels, were attacked today by Red-inspired Iranians as the Americans drove through Tehran's streets.

One of them—Master Sgt. Paul Goodwin of the U. S. embassy staff was struck on the arm by a cabbage. Army officials said he was the only American hit.

Bricks and stones were thrown at other American cars in widely separated sections of the city.

There were growing indications that martial law, lifted only last week, would be reimposed shortly.

The government was forced to call out troops last night to quell Communist youths wielding knives and rocks, who battled police and soldiers in the center of the city. Two policemen and one soldier were stabbed in the skirmish before the rioters fled under a tear gas attack.

The battle climaxed a series of nightly clashes between the Reds and members of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's Nationalist fronts.

During the fighting, nearby headquarters of the Communist Partisans Peace Organization and another building housing a Communist newspaper were set on fire but both blazes were brought quickly under control.

Alaska Reported Safe

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Alaska is safe from enemy attack as a result of perfection of the "heartland concept" in the last two years, the acting chief of the air force told the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce Monday night. Fresh from briefing on the latest problems and achievements in the defense program, Gen. Nathan S. Twining said "Alaska now is safe." Twining was introduced as the originator of the defense concept which has been set up to make the territory invulnerable to a surprise attack.

Rhode Island Head Says Attack on Marshall Is Now Issue of Campaign

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—A Senate Democrat said today Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, must state publicly whether he agrees with a top adviser that Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) made "fantastically false" accusations against Gen. George C. Marshall.

A 60,000 word denunciation aimed by McCarthy at Marshall—wartime chief of staff and post-war secretary of state—in a Senate speech June 14, 1951, has become a campaign issue.

In the Senate speech McCarthy linked Marshall's name to what he termed "a conspiracy of infamy" to make the United States on easy victim of Kremlin communism. McCarthy later had the speech published as a book.

Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Ford Foundation and high in Eisenhower campaign councils, said in sworn testimony yesterday "I consider the (McCarthy) charges fantastically false."

Hoffman, who had served as the first head of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) which handled the Marshall Plan to combat communism's spread in Europe, declared firmly:

"Gen. Marshall's Americanism and patriotism need no defense from me. His * * * is a record of selfless devotion to his country that has been equalled by few and surpassed by none since this republic was founded."

Eisenhower has announced he will support any Republican nominee this fall. McCarthy is a candidate for another Senate term.

Sen. Green (D.-R.I.) promptly interpreted Hoffman's testimony as "a development which reopens this subject."

"Mr. Hoffman's testimony has put an issue squarely before Gen. Eisenhower, and it's an issue too vital for him to ignore it," Green told a reporter.

Dems Will Raise Issue

"Eisenhower must state publicly whether he agrees with what was said by Mr. Hoffman, his political adviser, or whether he believes the things that McCarthy alleged."

Green added that Democratic campaign orators "will raise the issue if Gen. Eisenhower does not."

Hoffman testified at a pre-trial deposition hearing as a prospective defense witness in a two million dollar libel-slander suit McCarthy has filed against Sen. Benton (D.-Conn.).

McCarthy accused Benton in the suit of defaming him with unfounded charges of fraud, perjury and deceit. Benton has announced his chief defense will consist of efforts to prove those accusations were well founded, including one that McCarthy's denunciation of Marshall was "a towering lie."

The Wisconsin senator brought the suit on the basis of remarks made by Benton in his efforts to have McCarthy expelled from the Senate.

Quake Is Recorded

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Columbia University seismograph station recorded a moderately severe earthquake about 2,800 miles from New York, probably off the west coast of Canada, at 10:32:30 (EST) today.

Primary Voting Is Light; Returns Show No Contests

Locally yesterday's primary day vote was the customary light vote with some interest being shown in certain districts. From early returns received at the Board of Elections office on John street there apparently were no contests and the candidates designated at the unofficial conventions will be the candidates on election day.

Candidates recommended at the conventions held last month are:

County Treasurer, Horace Boice, Republican. Fred C. Harder, Democrat.

District Attorney, Howard C. St. John, Republican. Thomas J. Plunket, Democrat.

Coroner, Dr. Charles Rosenstock, Republican. The Democratic party made no designation.

In addition to the county candidates this fall there will also be elected a representative in Congress. J. Ernest Wharton, Republican, has been re-named and Walter C. Donnaruma has been designated by the Democrats. Assemblyman John Wadlin has been again designated by the Republican party and John L. Schoonmaker on the Democratic ticket.

For State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, present majority leader of the Senate has been named by the Republican party and William F. Hagan is the Democratic candidate.

At the primary Tuesday the Democratic party named dele-

Politburo Abolished From Setup

Broader Reorganization Is to Take Place in Party — Congress Is Announced

Strength Is Seen

West's Observers Feel Leaders Must Be Sure of Power

Moscow, Aug. 20 (AP) — The Soviet Union's ruling Communist party announced today it will hold its first party congress in 13 years on Oct. 5 to give the party a sweeping reorganization and set up a fifth five-year plan to increase Soviet industrial output 70 per cent by the end of 1955.

A decree of the party's central committee, published in all Moscow papers, said the party's top control body, its politburo, would be replaced by a "praesidium" which would have the function of "guiding the work of the (party) central committee between sessions."

The changes in party organization are provided in a new statute to be taken up by the congress.

Ruling Body

The politburo, deriving its power theoretically from the central committee of the Communist party, is in fact the ruling body of the Soviet Union, and thus of world communism. It is made up of Prime Minister Joseph Stalin, party general secretary, and 10 others, plus a number of alternate members, and has wielded unquestioned authority under Stalin.

The party secretariat, however, remains under the new statutes.

The new statutes also provide for changing the two-decade-old name of the party—from the all-union Communist party (Bolsheviks) to the "Communist Party of the Soviet Union."

Most Vital Session

Western observers here considered the meeting would be the most important held in the Soviet Union since the end of World War 2.

(In western capitals officials and observers also saw the scheduling of the party congress as a major event, though they were reluctant to immediately speculate exactly what it might mean. For some time westerners have considered that the failure of the Soviet Communists to call a party convention indicated posible weaknesses in the party structure at home. Today's announcement could mean that Russia's Communist rulers now feel they are strongly enough entrenched to face the party members.)

Today's party decree said the congress would consist of two delegates for each 5,000 members of the party — one with a vote and one with an "advisory voice."

Higher Prices Due For Metal Goods

OPS Plans Order to Allow Increased Ceilings Within 10 Days

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Higher ceiling prices are in prospect for just about all metal goods.

The Office of Price Stabilization today was drafting an order permitting manufacturers to hike ceilings on all products containing steel, aluminum and copper.

Officials said the regulation probably will come out within the next 10 days.

The ceiling rises will stem directly from price increases granted producers of the three major metals. Under present OPS plans, manufacturers will be allowed to raise their ceilings by the full amount of the increases.

Wholesalers and retailers in turn will add their markup to the higher cost to determine consumer ceilings.

OPS officials made clear that the higher ceilings will not necessarily mean that selling prices will go up. The selling price will be just what the public is willing to pay.

The ceiling increases will affect such items as refrigerators, automobiles, hardware, household utensils, metal construction materials, farm machinery, and equipment, and electrical goods and appliances.

Hollowell Loses

Former City School Principal Is Beaten at Penn Yan

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Scattered voter discontent was blamed today for the ouster of two Republican congressmen and five state legislators in New York's dull, fall primary election.

Bowing out were Rep. Edwin Arthur Hall of Binghamton; Rep. John C. Butler of Buffalo; GOP State Senators William J. Bianchi of Manhattan, Orlo M. Brees of Endicott and Fred S. Hollowell of Penn Yan, Democratic Senator Harold I. Panken of Manhattan and Republican Assemblyman Richard H. Knauf of Binghamton.

(Senator Hollowell formerly lived in Kingston. He was at one time principal of School 6.)

In the feature battle of yesterday's primary, Rep. W. Sterling Cole of Bath swamped Hall by almost a 2-1 margin to haul in the GOP nomination in the reapportioned 37th District of Broome, Chemung, Steuben and Tioga counties. The Democratic-Liberal candidate is Miss Jean Ivory of Binghamton.

Hall announced he would run for mayor of Binghamton next year. Democrat Donald W. Kramer now holds the post.

No Pattern Noted

There was no discernible pattern to pinpoint the unrest among the voters. There were only 39 formal contests, but enough protest votes were produced to dump the seven incumbents.

A nip-and-tuck contest in Broome county between incumbent Richard H. Knauf and Darwin R. Wales for the GOP Assembly nomination will be settled Monday by a board of election canvass. One unofficial count gave Wales a 25-vote lead, 6,594 to 6,569. Another unofficial count gave Knauf a 44-vote margin, 6,588 to 6,544.

If Knauf is the loser, Broome will be swept clean of its present representatives. State Senator Orlo M. Brees was defeated by Warren M. Anderson in his bid for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Anderson is the son of Justice Floyd E. Anderson of State Supreme Court, who resigned from the Senate last spring to accept the judicial post. Brees won a special election to fill out the term.

Butler was downed in the new 42nd Congressional District of Erie county by John R. Pillion of Lackawanna, the organization's choice in 1950.

Coudert Is Renominated

Incumbent GOP congressmen winning renomination were Frederic R. Coudert Jr. of Manhattan's 17th District, Ralph A. Gamble of Larchmont in the 26th District of Putnam and part of Westchester, Clarence E. Kilburn of Malone in northern New York's 33rd District and Edmund P. Radwan of Buffalo, in Erie county's 41st.

Democrat Chester C. Gorski of Buffalo won his party's nomination in Eire's 43nd District.

E. Dent Lackey of Niagara Falls and Mariano A. Lucca of Buffalo were neck and neck in the 40th District's Democratic race. With 11 districts missing, Lackey had 2,887 and Lucca 2,694.

A retired utility executive, John H. Ray of Staten Island, stood off two young GOP insurgents in the realigned 15th District of Richmond and the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn. His opponents were John C. Mundt Jr. of Brooklyn and Robert T. Boody of Staten Island.

Attacks Reported On U. S. Personnel

Reimposition of Martial Law Expected—Six Are Assailed

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 20 (AP)—In a renewal of assaults on U. S. military personnel, six Americans including two lieutenant colonels, were attacked today by Red-inspired Iranians as the Americans drove through Tehran's streets.

One of them—Master Sgt. Paul Goodwin of the U. S. embassy staff was struck on the arm by a cabbage. Army officials said he was the only American hit.

Bricks and stones were thrown at other American cars in widely separated sections of the city.

There were growing indications that martial law, lifted only last week, would be reimposed shortly.

The government was forced to call out troops last night to quell Communist youths wielding knives and rocks, who battled police and soldiers in the center of the city. Two policemen and one soldier were stabbed in the skirmish before the rioters fled under a tear gas attack.

The battle climaxed a series of nightly clashes between the Reds and members of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's Nationalist fronts.

During the fighting, nearby headquarters of the Communist Partisans Peace Organization and another building housing a Communist newspaper were set on fire but both blazes were brought quickly under control.

Alaska Reported Safe

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Alaska is safe from enemy attack as a result of perfection of the "heartland concept" in the last two years, the acting chief of the air force told the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce Monday night. Fresh from briefing on the latest problems and achievements in the defense program, Gen. Nathan S. Twining said "Alaska now is safe." Twining was introduced as the originator of the defense concept which has been set up to make the territory invulnerable to a surprise attack.

Rhode Island Head Says Attack on Marshall Is Now Issue of Campaign

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—A Senate Democrat said today Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, must state publicly whether he agrees with a top adviser that Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) made "fantastically false" accusations against Gen. George C. Marshall.

A 60,000 word denunciation aimed by McCarthy at Marshall—wartime chief of staff and postwar secretary of state—in a Senate speech June 14, 1951, has become a campaign issue.

In the Senate speech McCarthy linked Marshall's name to what he termed "a conspiracy of infamy" to make the United States on easy victim of Kremlin communism. McCarthy later had the speech published as a book.

Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Ford Foundation and high in Eisenhower campaign councils, said in sworn testimony yesterday "I consider the (McCarthy) charges fantastically false."

Hoffman, who had served as the first head of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) which handled the Marshall Plan to combat communism's spread in Europe, declared firmly:

"Gen. Marshall's Americanism and patriotism need no defense from me. His * * * is a record of selfless devotion to his country that has been equalled by few and surpassed by none since this republic was founded."

Eisenhower has announced he will support any Republican nominee this fall. McCarthy is a candidate for another Senate term.

Sen. Green (D.-R.I.) promptly interpreted Hoffman's testimony as "a development which reopens this subject."

"Mr. Hoffman's testimony has put an issue squarely before Gen. Eisenhower, and it's an issue too vital for him to ignore it," Green told a reporter.

Dems Will Raise Issue

"Eisenhower must state publicly whether he agrees with what was said by Mr. Hoffman, his political adviser, or whether he believes the things that McCarthy alleged."

Green added that Democratic campaign orators "will raise the issue if Gen. Eisenhower does not."

Hoffman testified at a pre-trial deposition hearing as a prospective defense witness in a two million dollar libel-slander suit McCarthy has filed against Sen. Benton (D.-Conn.).

McCarthy accused Benton in the suit of defaming him with unfounded charges of fraud, perjury and deceit. Benton has announced his chief defense will consist of efforts to prove those accusations were well founded, including one that McCarthy's denunciation of Marshall was "a towering lie."

The Wisconsin senator brought the suit on the basis of remarks made by Benton in his efforts to have McCarthy expelled from the Senate.

Politburo Abolished From Setup

Strength Is Seen

West's Observers Feel Leaders Must Be Sure of Power

Moscow, Aug. 20 (AP) — The Soviet Union's ruling Communist party announced today it will hold its first party congress in 13 years on Oct. 5 to give the party a sweeping reorganization and set up a fifth five-year plan to increase Soviet industrial output 70 per cent by the end of 1955.

A decree of the party's central committee, published in all Moscow papers, said the party's top control body, its politburo, would be replaced by a "praesidium" which would have the function of "guiding the work of the (party) central committee between sessions."

The changes in party organization are provided in a new statute to be taken up by the congress.

Ruling Body

The politburo, deriving its power theoretically from the central committee of the Communist party, is in fact the ruling body of the Soviet Union, and thus of world communism. It is made up of Prime Minister Joseph Stalin, party general secretary, and 10 others, plus a number of alternate members, and has wielded unquestioned authority under Stalin.

The party secretariat, however, remains under the new statutes.

The new statutes also provide for changing the two-decade-old name of the party—from the all-union Communist party (Bolsheviks) to the "Communist Party of the Soviet Union."

Most Vital Session

Western observers here considered the meeting would be the most important held in the Soviet Union since the end of World War 2.

(In western capitals officials and observers also saw the scheduling of the party congress as a major event, though they were reluctant to immediately speculate exactly what it might mean. For some time westerners have considered that the failure of the Soviet Communists to call a party convention indicated posible weaknesses in the party structure at home. Today's announcement could mean that Russia's Communist rulers now feel they are strongly enough entrenched to face the party members.)

Today's party decree said the congress would consist of two delegates for each 5,000 members of the party — one with a vote and one with an "advisory voice."

Primary Voting Is Light; Returns Show No Contests

Locally yesterday's primary day vote was the customary light vote with some interest being shown in certain districts. From early returns received at the Board of Elections office on John street there apparently were no contests and the candidates designated at the unofficial conventions will be the candidates on election day.

Candidates recommended at the conventions held last month are:

County Treasurer, Horace Boice, Republican. Fred C. Harder, Democrat.

District Attorney, Howard C. St. John, Republican. Thomas J. Plunket, Democrat.

Coroner, Dr. Charles Rosenstock, Republican. The Democratic party made no designation.

In addition to the county candidates this fall there will also be elected a representative in Congress. J. Ernest Wharton, Republican, has been re-named and Walter C. Donnaruma has been designated by the Democrats. Assemblyman John Wadlin has been again designated by the Republican party and John L. Schoonmaker on the Democratic ticket.

For State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, present majority leader of the Senate has been named by the Republican party and William F. Hagan is the Democratic candidate.

At the primary Tuesday the Democratic party named dele-

Higher Prices Due For Metal Goods

OPS Plans Order to Allow Increased Ceilings Within 10 Days

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Higher ceiling prices are in prospect for just about all metal goods.

The Office of Price Stabilization today was drafting an order permitting manufacturers to hike ceilings on all products containing steel, aluminum and copper.

Officials said the regulation probably will come out within the next 10 days.

The ceiling rises will stem directly from price increases granted producers of the three major metals. Under present OPS plans, manufacturers will be allowed to raise their ceilings by the full amount of the increases.

Wholesalers and retailers in turn will add their markup to the higher cost to determine consumer ceilings.

OPS officials made clear that the higher ceilings will not necessarily mean that selling prices will go up. The selling price will be just what the public is willing to pay.

The ceiling increases will affect such items as refrigerators, automobiles, hardware, household utensils, metal construction materials, farm machinery, and equipment, and electrical goods and appliances.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 20, 1952

TWENTY-ONE ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

Monday's issue of The Freeman carried news stories of 21 accidental deaths. Two of the fatalities were drownings, the other 19 were highway traffic deaths.

Page one of that issue alone carried seven separate stories about violent death.

Of the traffic deaths reported, four occurred in Ulster county, and two in neighboring Orange county. Six of the dead were members of a family from Sullivan county, six others occurred in Binghamton, and one in Massachusetts. Both the drownings occurred in Ulster county.

In addition to the accidental deaths, there were in Monday's newspaper six obituaries of local or county origin, and one Associated Press obituary, making a total of 28 dead. And that's not even mentioning the 22 known dead from floods in England, subject of a picture on page one. There were five pictures of local and county origin of damaged automobiles, and one AP picture of a damaged racing car.

We don't know, because we don't usually keep track of such things, but Monday's issue must have been some sort of a record in this respect. It is a record we hope we never again equal or surpass.

ONCE TOO OFTEN

The pitcher went too often to the well. The Tennessee Democratic primary defeated Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, who was finishing his sixth term and trying for a seventh.

His victor, Congressman Albert Gore, frankly raised the question of McKellar's age, 83. This was legitimate. A business which could, in six months or a year, reconsider its decision might let a veteran official stay on for a while longer. If, as with a senator, the choice lay between immediate dismissal or retention for six years without a chance to reconsider in the meantime, no firm would take the risk of continuing an emyloye of 83. At that age a man might still be competent to hold office, but that does not mean that he would necessarily be so at 89.

McKellar had doubtless a special reason for wishing re-election. Had he won, he could have set a new record for length of senatorial tenure. The existing mark, 37 years, was held by the late Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, General Pershing's father-in-law. A few years ago Ellison D. Smith ("cotton Ed") of South Carolina, reached his sixth term, but like McKellar, failed a seventh. Had either been successful, the record would have reached 42 years and would probably have stood for a long time.

SALUTE TO ENGINEERING

Engineering is unquestionably the backbone of the American technology which has made this nation richest and strongest in the world. It accounts for the fact that the United States, with seven per cent of the world's population and six per cent of its land area has 76 per cent of the world's automobiles, 31 per cent of the world's radio and television sets, 40 per cent of its electrical production, 27 per cent of its newspapers and 68 per cent of the world's telephones.

These accomplishments are being hailed at the Centennial of Engineering which opened in Chicago recently. The program, designed partly to attract qualified young people into the engineering field, will end with a world convocation in September. Over a thousand engineers from all over the world are expected, reservations at Chicago hotels are for 30,000 people—more than at either political convention.

Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry is the focal point of the Centennial. There a spectacular musical show, "Adam to Atom" is being produced. Other exhibits will show other contributions, including mechanized farm equipment which in the last hundred years has reduced percentage of the population needed to feed the country from 84 per cent to 16 per cent.

Engineeers can justifiably take pride in their achievements. They have removed the burden of almost incessant labor from the backs of people, facilitated redistribution of wealth, given rise to conditions which encourage education and give people of all classes leisure to follow intellectual pursuits. They have not yet made the world a paradise, but they have certainly made it pleasanter.

OUR MINERAL RESERVES

For years, I have been calling attention to the over-rapid consumption of our mineral reserves. This is a matter of primary importance because our particular civilization, on its material side, is based on iron and steel, petroleum and other metals and minerals. When we are forced to import these essential commodities in proportions that are excessive, we shall have to export too large a share of our foodstuffs and manufactured goods, and we shall be required to do that at prices low enough to compete in markets unwilling to take them except as gifts.

The loss of our minerals can make us a dependent nation. It is always forgotten that empires have risen and fallen and that raw materials and the food supplies were factors not to be ignored.

For many years, this nation has been dumping metals, minerals, food-stuffs and manufactured goods for free into the so-called weak and backward nations under all sorts of aid plans. While it is humane and charitable to assist those who are willing to accept our assistance, it is nonetheless dangerous to our future as a nation, to the destiny of our country and to the welfare of our grandchildren and great grandchildren to waste our irreplaceable wealth of metals and minerals.

Now along comes the President's Materials Policy Commission with a report which says (in digest):

"A complete census of the minerals industry should be taken by the Bureau of the Census every five years; that governmental programs of fact-gathering and economic analysis concerning minerals, particularly in the Department of the Interior, should be improved to make good present serious lacks in data, and that complementary programs of fact-gathering and analysis by industry groups be undertaken or strengthened.

"The United States Geological Survey should speed up the geological mapping of the United States and Alaska, and take leadership in establishing a national system of assembling geologic data from drill cores and other sources."

The report clearly indicates in tone and data that the investigators found conditions frighteningly unsatisfactory.

According to this commission, this country is rapidly moving into the position of a raw-materials deficit nation and if present consumption continues, we shall reach that state in 1975 which is not too far away. Should a war occur during the next 23 years, present estimates would be outmoded because the velocity of consumption would naturally increase. Our success in the past two years has been entirely due to our productivity and mobility. The factories did it.

The present policy of our government of giving away approximately $6,000,000,000 a year in various forms of aid is responsible, in part, for the over-rapid consumption of our raw materials. More devastating have been two wars during which we contributed principally supplies to our allies and our own forces.

For purposes of this discussion, it is no value to argue whether our policies were or are right or wrong: the significant fact is that we are going broke in our reserves of metals and minerals which cannot be replaced. It is possible to plant and grow wheat and cotton; it is possible to plant trees and in time to have supplies of wood. It is not possible to replace iron ore or copper or zinc or lead. Once taken out of the ground, they are gone forever.

Already our steel companies are making arrangements to import iron ore from Labrador, Venezuela, Chile, Brazil and other places to make up for the rapidly depleting Mesabi range. Already copper is coming in from Chile and South Africa. Already the production of petroleum in this country requires high costs and deep drilling.

This has nothing to do with whether private enterprise or government operations are involved. When the stuff is gone, nobody can put it back. When it has to be bought outside this country, the seller will control the price. The best example of that is that the United States, having become dependent upon Canada for newsprint, Canada fixes an unconscionable price, not only to charge us for newsprint but to improve the value of her currency. The industry in Canada has been cartelized and the Canadian government decides what Americans must pay for newsprint.

This is not an issue that can be dodged by honest and responsible men. It ought to be discussed seriously in the campaign.

INFLAMMATION OF GUMS

Mouth breathing in boys and girls can lead to chronic inflammation of the gums. This statement is made in The Journal of the American Dental Association by Drs. Maury Massler and Jack D. Zwemer of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, Chicago, and Dr. Ronald D. Emslie of London. The habit of mouth breathing, if unchecked, may result in loss of teeth in young adults. Inflammation of the gums is called gingivitis and gingivitis leads to more severe infection of the gums which are needed to protect the supporting structures of the teeth.

While pointing out that mouth breathing can have many causes, these dental scientists noted that the habit of mouth breathing is found mostly in long-faced, slender individuals with long, narrow noses.

We can readily understand that narrow nose passages are more easily packed by such obstructions as adenoids. Large tonsils in the narrow-faced child may also cause the habit of mouth breathing.

A point emphasized, however, was that mouth breathing caused by adenoids is common only between the ages of four and twelve, while tonsils usually wither away eventually. This means that many instances of obstructive mouth breathing are corrected by nature during adolescence or the teen age.

Another point of which parents should take note is that mouth breathing may continue after a nasal obstruction has been removed. We mentioned recently that when adenoids and large tonsils are left in the mouth too long, the child develops a vacant expression.

What can be done for mouth breathers? They take moisture from air entering the lungs instead of this moisture coming from the nose, the lining of which warms, moistens and filters air before it enters the lungs. These dental scientists recommend as effective a mouth screen device to be worn while sleeping.

Well, Well, Fancy Meeting You Here!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

SENATOR PAUL H. DOUGLAS

Washington — The 1952 Democratic and Republican National Conventions are now a page in history. But for the first time more than 60,000,000 Americans have become intimately acquainted with such a page. Shamefully this page is not too clean.

The candidates for the highest office in the land emerged from two gigantic jamborees. Those jahborees served as a false front for the back-room deals of a small group of political leaders.

Luckily, the 1952 conventions came forward with two fine candidates. However, several times in the past half-century Democratic and Republican bosses have blatantly disregarded the will of their party's rank and file. In one case, that of Warren G. Harding, a boss-selected candidate succeeded in becoming president. Everyone knows the result—the Teapot Dome scandal of 1923.

None Could Feel Cheated

Although the two 1952 conventions came up with good condidates there are still many people who, rightly or wrongly, feel that they have been cheated out of a chance to vote for their first choice in November. Our Democracy is today marred by the paradox of 60,000,000 "voteless" citizens in our nonprimary states. If all the people had the opportunity to vote in presidential primaries no one could ever rightly feel that he had been cheated out of a chance to vote for his man in November. Primaries enable the people to speak in clear and unmistakable terms as to whose name they want to see underneath their party's emblem.

Television has shown Americans everywhere that to make democracy live the present system of nominating presidential candidates must be reformed. But how? The ideal method is one of adopting a constitutional amendment which would permit Congress to set up a national primary. Such an amendment has been proposed by Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.). The Smathers proposal for a national primary is similar to the one suggested by Woodrow Wilson in 1912. I am a co-sponsor of the Smathers national-primary amendment and intend to do my utmost either to insure its passage, or a substantially similar amendment at the next session of Congress.

However, ther are those who have a vested interest in the status quo and they may do everything in their power to block the Smathers amendment, or one like it. Should this prove to be the case, those of us who are backing the amendment may have to compromise with this group. I think we might then settle for the presidential-preference primary bill which Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D., Fla.) and I introduced in the last session of Congress.

States Encouraged Financially

Our primary bill seeks to increase the number of primaries now held. Its passage would be an important step forward in our march toward a national presidential primary. It directs the Attorney General to negotiate agreements with the states for the holding of preference primaries before July 1 of a presidential election year. The states are encouraged to enter into such agreements with the Attorney General since, if they do, they will receive financial assistance for the use of their election facilities and services.

These agreements would provide for a payment which is limited to not more than 20 cents for each vote cast in a presidential-preference primary. The Attorney General would be given the responsibility for carrying the bill's provisions into effect. In cooperation with the states, he could make such determinations as qualifying deadlines, primary dates, terms of agreements with the states, how binding the primaries are to be upon the delegates, etc.

Even though the preference primaries conducted under the sponsorship of the Attorney General would not legally bind the national convention delegates to vote on all ballots for their state's presidential preference, they would serve as a strong persuasive influence on the delegates.

After watching the national conventions on television the people are, I believe, determined to get their rightful say in the selection, as well as the election, of the president of the United States. The people are increasingly refusing to be shunted aside in the nominating process. The grass-roots feeling for a national primary is tremendous. Let the voice of the people be heard!

GARDINER

Gardiner, Aug. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Everts and son of Fayetteville, N. C., and Miss Blanche Everts of Poughkeepsie are visiting at the Everts home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wells left Saturday for a motor trip to Florida. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Bernard of Binghamton.

Consul General William Ballew Murray, who is retiring from the Department of State, and Mrs. Murray's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons.

Miss Edith Sears of New York is spending a vacation with her sister, Mrs. Stella Woolsey, at the Sears home here. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Munson of Lake Katrine and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoonmaker were Sunday afternoon guests.

Miss Evelyn DuBors spent last week at LeRaysville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howell of New Brunswick are guests of Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. Esther Borcherding.

Miss Anna Scrivens of Theills is visiting her sister, Miss Carrie Scrivens.

Mrs. William Goldsmith spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne. All were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Jayne of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer and three sons were Sunday guests of Mrs. Freer's father, William Franks of Arena.

Miss Margaret Clinton has returned to New York after spending two weeks at her home here.

Mrs. Arthur Wood spent a few days last week with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lasher of Binnewater.

Mrs. Anna DuBois and daughter, Dorothy, are guests of her brother, Robert Clinton.

Miss Helen Moran of Theills is spending a few days at her home here.

Kathleen Riche celebrated her fifth birthday last Thursday, Aug. 14, with a party attended by a number of her little friends.

The annual fair and supper at the St. Charles Church August 15 was a social and financial success, with 465 persons having supper and $700 being realized from both supper and fair. Julius LaRosa of radio and television was featured on the program. George and Jasper Tabone, who have a summer home at Ardonia, also entertained with jokes, singing and guitar and accordion playing. Frank Tabone, 9, and Robert Iveren, 9, sang several numbers. Mrs. Warren McDowell, church organist, furnished music during the supper.

The memory flowers at the Reformed Church last Sunday were for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weider. They were given by their daughter, Miss Mary Weider, and for George Mayes, given by Mrs. Mayes.

The Ladies' Aid will sponsor a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBois Thursday evening, Sept. 18. The ladies have set Oct. 18 for the annual turkey dinner.

U. S. Does Not Take Advantage of Propaganda Opportunities as Does Soviet Russia

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 20 — Every now and then some high official here wonders why Soviet Russia gets the jump on the United States in propaganda or counter-propaganda—and many people in America besides officials wonder about the same thing.

The answer is that the United States government does not take advantage of obvious opportunities. Concrete examples have arisen in the last few days.

1. Premier Stalin sends a message to the premier of the North Korean government, expressing good wishes and implying concurrence in the action of that government's armies in opposing the United Nations forces.

2. The Red Chinese government sends its high officials to Moscow to a conference on military affairs relating to the Far East, unquestionably with reference to the continuance of the flow of military supplies to the Red Chinese and North Koreans. These two Communist armies are engaged in what they consider to be repelling "aggression" by the United Nations in North Korea but what is in reality a war against the members of the United Nations having troops in Korea.

Still, Soviet Russia is a member of the United Nations, enjoying all the rights and privileges of that body, and no move has been made by the American government or its allies to denounce the participation of Soviet Russia in acts that are supporting North Korea.

A resolution of the United Nations adopted in the summer of 1950 called on all member countries to refrain from supporting the North Korean aggression. Russia has ignored that resolution, yet no official cognizance has been taken of what amounts to treason against the United Nations by one of its members.

The whole world has been watching the UN in general and the United States in particular to see whether the policies pursued in relation to the Soviet Union are firm or vacillating. Too often emphasis has been placed on the importance of propaganda to convince people behind the Iron Curtain of the justice of the cause of the UN. Actually, much more emphasis is needed among the allies and free peoples of the world to convince folks on this side of the Iron Curtain that the UN is an institution which acts with solidarity of purpose and sincerity.

One of the fundamental rules of the UN charter is that members shall fulfill their obligations in good faith. There is evidence that Soviet Russia is guilty of bad faith and is not fulfilling her membership obligations when she renders assistance to Red China and North Korea, whose troops are engaged in killing and wounding the troops sent to Korea by other members of the United Nations.

What could the United States in particular and the United Nations in general do about it? Leadership by the United States is essential, and there are plenty of opportunities to bring the UN councils and committees into session for discussion of the whole Far Eastern situation, notably the aid given by Soviet Russia to the aggressors. Although Red China has been denounced as an aggressor, no such denunciation of Russia—a member of the UN—has been proposed by the American government. Unquestionably in the court of world opinion the failure of the UN and especially of the United States to take such action is construed as a sign of weakness. The Communist build-up in various European and Asiatic countries is partly due to the fact that the UN has not asserted itself by denouncing the behavior of the Russian government.

The United Nations, as an institution, has widespread support in the United States but its prestige is impaired by the failure of the various members of the UN to insist that Russia be called to task for her violation of the rule of fidelity which is explicit and implicit in the words of the charter.

When will the President and Secretary of State express an American protest against the true meaning of the conferences going on in Moscow now between allegedly peaceful Soviet Russia and the belligerent and aggressor state—Red China? Opportunities for propaganda and counter-propaganda come and go as the Truman administration is asleep at the switch—and the casualties go on and on in Korea.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Boston, Aug. 19—Finding myself in Boston I improved a shining hour by further inquiry into the case of Carl A. Latva, whose conviction under the McCarran-Walter immigration act put him in theoretical danger of deportation to his native Finland and separation from his native American wife and his two adult native American sons who did their bit but no more than their bounden bit in the United States Navy and were discharged with honor.

This case was blown up by the New York Times and Herald Tribune, which depicted the legal action against Latva as a cruel punishment inflicted on a blameless greenhorn by a malicious old man, the senior senator from Nevada, Pat McCarran.

There has been a great clamor against McCarran from eastern centers, representing him as a heartless bigot, although he comes of a stock which suffered as much in that respect as any other element of mankind but never whimpered and fought its own fight. He also has been smeared with innuendos to the effect that he is an agent of the criminal underworld although he leads a markedly plain and unusually religious life. He is the father of two Catholic nuns. One of them, Sister Mary Patricia, is a scholar of note and author of a learned thesis entitled "Fabianism in the Political Life of Britain, 1919-1931." This earned for Sister Mary Patricia the degree of doctor of philosophy from the Catholic University of America.

To be sure, a man might be the father of two nuns and a rogue nevertheless, but that is unlikely and it must be added that no direct evidence to incriminate Pat McCarran as an agent of the criminal underworld, nor even an actionable charge to that effect, ever has been heard. It has all been done by innuendo and it is significant that the most shocking attacks on McCarran was made over the air from an east side New York restaurant called "Chandler's" by a man named Hank Greenspun under the auspices of one Bernard Yaroslaw, a nocturnal disc-jockey.

Greenspun is registered in Nevada as an ex-convict. He studied law with Vito Marcantonio, the New York congressman who faithfully followed the Communist party line for many years, and he landed in Nevada as press-agent for the late Buggsy Siegel, the underworld nabob, when Siegel opened the gaudy gambling house and hotel called Flamingo which was built in part of material alleged to have been obtained in violation of the war-time restrictions. Hearings were held on that question but no disposition ever was made.

Siegel was murdered in Beverly Hills, Calif., and his press-agent, Greenspun, from New York, caught on as publisher of a small paper in Las Vegas, Nev., which had been recently started by the Printers' Union.

A few months ago, Greenspun started a law-suit against McCarran, demanding a million dollars on the theory that advertisers who formerly had concentrated their business in the old established Las Vegas Review-Journal were guilty of a conspiracy because these advertisers decided to drop out of Greenspun's paper and again concentrate in the Review-Journal. This law-suit was sub judice when Bernard Yaroslaw put Greenspun on the air from a New York all night drinking place to harangue the public in a plea for donations and sympathy and a vilification of Senator McCarran.

There is no person named Chandler anywhere about the restaurant known as "Chandler's" which is operated by the Mid-Hudson System, which is owned principally by the two brothers Rubin, natives of Polish territory now Russian and American citizens by legal process.

The brothers Rubin give no appearance of political character but the propaganda which they have been shoving constantly through the medium of Yaroslaw consists largely of ferocious abuse of American citizens who reject the Marxian program of the organization called Americans for Democratic Action. Yaroslaw once said he knew all about the ADA program and endorsed it.

Hubert Humphrey, the Minnesota senator who is the presiding genius of ADA, has been a "guest" propagandist on the Yaroslaw-Rubin program. Incidentally, the

TWENTY-ONE ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

Monday's issue of The Freeman carried news stories of 21 accidental deaths. Two of the fatalities were drownings, the other 19 were highway traffic deaths.

Page one of that issue alone carried seven separate stories about violent death.

Of the traffic deaths reported, four occurred in Ulster county, and two in neighboring Orange county. Six of the dead were members of a family from Sullivan county, six others occurred in Binghamton, and one in Massachusetts. Both the drownings occurred in Ulster county.

In addition to the accidental deaths, there were in Monday's newspaper six obituaries of local or county origin, and one Associated Press obituary, making a total of 28 dead. And that's not even mentioning the 22 known dead from floods in England, subject of a picture on page one. There were five pictures of local and county origin of damaged automobiles, and one AP picture of a damaged racing car.

We don't know, because we don't usually keep track of such things, but Monday's issue must have been some sort of a record in this respect. It is a record we hope we never again equal or surpass.

ONCE TOO OFTEN

The pitcher went too often to the well. The Tennessee Democratic primary defeated Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, who was finishing his sixth term and trying for a seventh.

His victor, Congressman Albert Gore, frankly raised the question of McKellar's age, 83. This was legitimate. A business which could, in six months or a year, reconsider its decision might let a veteran official stay on for a while longer. If, as with a senator, the choice lay between immediate dismissal or retention for six years without a chance to reconsider in the meantime, no firm would take the risk of continuing an emyloye of 83. At that age a man might still be competent to hold office, but that does not mean that he would necessarily be so at 89.

McKellar had doubtless a special reason for wishing re-election. Had he won, he could have set a new record for length of senatorial tenure. The existing mark, 37 years, was held by the late Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, General Pershing's father-in-law. A few years ago Ellison D. Smith ("cotton Ed") of South Carolina, reached his sixth term, but like McKellar, failed a seventh. Had either been successful, the record would have reached 42 years and would probably have stood for a long time.

SALUTE TO ENGINEERING

Engineering is unquestionably the backbone of the American technology which has made this nation richest and strongest in the world. It accounts for the fact that the United States, with seven per cent of the world's population and six per cent of its land area has 76 per cent of the world's automobiles, 31 per cent of the world's radio and television sets, 40 per cent of its electrical production, 27 per cent of its newspapers and 68 per cent of the world's telephones.

These accomplishments are being hailed at the Centennial of Engineering which opened in Chicago recently. The program, designed partly to attract qualified young people into the engineering field, will end with a world convocation in September. Over a thousand engineers from all over the world are expected, reservations at Chicago hotels are for 30,000 people—more than at either political convention.

Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry is the focal point of the Centennial. There a spectacular musical show, "Adam to Atom" is being produced. Other exhibits will show other contributions, including mechanized farm equipment which in the last hundred years has reduced percentage of the population needed to feed the country from 84 per cent to 16 per cent.

Engineeers can justifiably take pride in their achievements. They have removed the burden of almost incessant labor from the backs of people, facilitated redistribution of wealth, given rise to conditions which encourage education and give people of all classes leisure to follow intellectual pursuits. INFLAMMATION OF GUMS

Mouth breathing in boys and girls can lead to chronic inflammation of the gums. This statement is made in The Journal of the American Dental Association by Drs. Maury Massler and Jack D. Zwemer of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, Chicago, and Dr. Ronald D. Emslie of London. The habit of mouth breathing, if unchecked, may result in loss of teeth in young adults. Inflammation of the gums is called gingivitis and gingivitis leads to more severe infection of the gums which are needed to protect the supporting structures of the teeth.

While pointing out that mouth breathing can have many causes, these dental scientists noted that the habit of mouth breathing is found mostly in long-faced, slender individuals with long, narrow noses.

We can readily understand that narrow nose passages are more easily packed by such obstructions as adenoids. Large tonsils in the narrow-faced child may also cause the habit of mouth breathing.

A point emphasized, however, was that mouth breathing caused by adenoids is common only between the ages of four and twelve, while tonsils usually wither away eventually. This means that many instances of obstructive mouth breathing are corrected by nature during adolescence or the teen age.

Another point of which parents should take note is that mouth breathing may continue after a nasal obstruction has been removed. We mentioned recently that when adenoids and large tonsils are left in the mouth too long, the child develops a vacant expression.

What can be done for mouth breathers? They take moisture from air entering the lungs instead of this moisture coming from the nose, the lining of which warms, moistens and filters air before it enters the lungs. These dental scientists recommend as effective a mouth screen device to be worn while sleeping.

Your Feet and Their Ailments

We know that a person with perfect feet is rare but we seem to neglect foot ailments until they become so severe as to be almost crippling. Well, Well, Fancy Meeting You Here!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

SENATOR PAUL H. DOUGLAS

Washington — The 1952 Democratic and Republican National Conventions are now a page in history. But for the first time more than 60,000,000 Americans have become intimately acquainted with such a page. Shamefully this page is not too clean.

The candidates for the highest office in the land emerged from two gigantic jamborees. Those jahborees served as a false front for the back-room deals of a small group of political leaders.

Luckily, the 1952 conventions came forward with two fine candidates. However, several times in the past half-century Democratic and Republican bosses have blatantly disregarded the will of their party's rank and file. In one case, that of Warren G. Harding, a boss-selected candidate succeeded in becoming president. Everyone knows the result—the Teapot Dome scandal of 1923.

None Could Feel Cheated

Although the two 1952 conventions came up with good condidates there are still many people who, rightly or wrongly, feel that they have been cheated out of a chance to vote for their first choice in November. Our Democracy is today marred by the paradox of 60,000,000 "voteless" citizens in our nonprimary states. If all the people had the opportunity to vote in presidential primaries no one could ever rightly feel that he had been cheated out of a chance to vote for his man in November. Primaries enable the people to speak in clear and unmistakable terms as to whose name they want to see underneath their party's emblem.

Television has shown Americans everywhere that to make democracy live the present system of nominating presidential candidates must be reformed. But how? The ideal method is one of adopting a constitutional amendment which would permit Congress to set up a national primary. Such an amendment has been proposed by Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.). The Smathers proposal for a national primary is similar to the one suggested by Woodrow Wilson in 1912. I am a co-sponsor of the Smathers national-primary amendment and intend to do my utmost either to insure its passage, or a substantially similar amendment at the next session of Congress.

However, ther are those who have a vested interest in the status quo and they may do everything in their power to block the Smathers amendment, or one like it. Should this prove to be the case, those of us who are backing the amendment may have to compromise with this group. I think we might then settle for the presidential-preference primary bill which Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D., Fla.) and I introduced in the last session of Congress.

States Encouraged Financially

Our primary bill seeks to increase the number of primaries now held. Its passage would be an important step forward in our march toward a national presidential primary. It directs the Attorney General to negotiate agreements with the states for the holding of preference primaries before July 1 of a presidential election year. The states are encouraged to enter into such agreements with the Attorney General since, if they do, they will receive financial assistance for the use of their election facilities and services.

These agreements would provide for a payment which is limited to not more than 20 cents for each vote cast in a presidential-preference primary. The Attorney General would be given the responsibility for carrying the bill's provisions into effect. In cooperation with the states, he could make such determinations as qualifying deadlines, primary dates, terms of agreements with the states, how binding the primaries are to be upon the delegates, etc.

Even though the preference primaries conducted under the sponsorship of the Attorney General would not legally bind the national convention delegates to vote on all ballots for their state's presidential preference, they would serve as a strong persuasive influence on the delegates.

After watching the national conventions on television the people are, I believe, determined to get their rightful say in the selection, as well as the election, of the president of the United States. The people are increasingly refusing to be shunted aside in the nominating process. The grass-roots feeling for a national primary is tremendous. Let the voice of the people be heard!

GARDINER

Gardiner, Aug. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Everts and son of Fayetteville, N. C., and Miss Blanche Everts of Poughkeepsie are visiting at the Everts home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wells left Saturday for a motor trip to Florida. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Bernard of Binghamton.

Consul General William Ballew Murray, who is retiring from the Department of State, and Mrs. Murray's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons.

Miss Edith Sears of New York is spending a vacation with her sister, Mrs. Stella Woolsey, at the Sears home here. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Munson of Lake Katrine and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoonmaker were Sunday afternoon guests.

Miss Evelyn DuBors spent last week at LeRaysville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howell of New Brunswick are guests of Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. Esther Borcherding.

Miss Anna Scrivens of Theills is visiting her sister, Miss Carrie Scrivens.

Mrs. William Goldsmith spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne. All were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Jayne of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer and three sons were Sunday guests of Mrs. Freer's father, William Franks of Arena.

Miss Margaret Clinton has returned to New York after spending two weeks at her home here.

Mrs. Arthur Wood spent a few days last week with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lasher of Binnewater.

Mrs. Anna DuBois and daughter, Dorothy, are guests of her brother, Robert Clinton.

Miss Helen Moran of Theills is spending a few days at her home here.

Kathleen Riche celebrated her fifth birthday last Thursday, Aug. 14, with a party attended by a number of her little friends.

The annual fair and supper at the St. Charles Church August 15 was a social and financial success, with 465 persons having supper and $700 being realized from both supper and fair. Julius LaRosa of radio and television was featured on the program. George and Jasper Tabone, who have a summer home at Ardonia, also entertained with jokes, singing and guitar and accordion playing. Frank Tabone, 9, and Robert Iveren, 9, sang several numbers. Mrs. Warren McDowell, church organist, furnished music during the supper.

The memory flowers at the Reformed Church last Sunday were for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weider. They were given by their daughter, Miss Mary Weider, and for George Mayes, given by Mrs. Mayes.

The Ladies' Aid will sponsor a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBois Thursday evening, Sept. 18. The ladies have set Oct. 18 for the annual turkey dinner.

U. S. Does Not Take Advantage of Propaganda Opportunities as Does Soviet Russia

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 20 — Every now and then some high official here wonders why Soviet Russia gets the jump on the United States in propaganda or counter-propaganda—and many people in America besides officials wonder about the same thing.

The answer is that the United States government does not take advantage of obvious opportunities. Concrete examples have arisen in the last few days.

1. Premier Stalin sends a message to the premier of the North Korean government, expressing good wishes and implying concurrence in the action of that government's armies in opposing the United Nations forces.

2. The Red Chinese government sends its high officials to Moscow to a conference on military affairs relating to the Far East, unquestionably with reference to the continuance of the flow of military supplies to the Red Chinese and North Koreans. These two Communist armies are engaged in what they consider to be repelling "aggression" by the United Nations in North Korea but what is in reality a war against the members of the United Nations having troops in Korea.

Still, Soviet Russia is a member of the United Nations, enjoying all the rights and privileges of that body, and no move has been made by the American government or its allies to denounce the participation of Soviet Russia in acts that are supporting North Korea.

A resolution of the United Nations adopted in the summer of 1950 called on all member countries to refrain from supporting the North Korean aggression. Russia has ignored that resolution, yet no official cognizance has been taken of what amounts to treason against the United Nations by one of its members.

The whole world has been watching the UN in general and the United States in particular to see whether the policies pursued in relation to the Soviet Union are firm or vacillating. Too often emphasis has been placed on the importance of propaganda to convince people behind the Iron Curtain of the justice of the cause of the UN. Actually, much more emphasis is needed among the allies and free peoples of the world to convince folks on this side of the Iron Curtain that the UN is an institution which acts with solidarity of purpose and sincerity.

One of the fundamental rules of the UN charter is that members shall fulfill their obligations in good faith. There is evidence that Soviet Russia is guilty of bad faith and is not fulfilling her membership obligations when she renders assistance to Red China and North Korea, whose troops are engaged in killing and wounding the troops sent to Korea by other members of the United Nations.

What could the United States in particular and the United Nations in general do about it? Leadership by the United States is essential, and there are plenty of opportunities to bring the UN councils and committees into session for discussion of the whole Far Eastern situation, notably the aid given by Soviet Russia to the aggressors. Although Red China has been denounced as an aggressor, no such denunciation of Russia—a member of the UN—has been proposed by the American government. Unquestionably in the court of world opinion the failure of the UN and especially of the United States to take such action is construed as a sign of weakness. The Communist build-up in various European and Asiatic countries is partly due to the fact that the UN has not asserted itself by denouncing the behavior of the Russian government.

The United Nations, as an institution, has widespread support in the United States but its prestige is impaired by the failure of the various members of the UN to insist that Russia be called to task for her violation of the rule of fidelity which is explicit and implicit in the words of the charter.

When will the President and Secretary of State express an American protest against the true meaning of the conferences going on in Moscow now between allegedly peaceful Soviet Russia and the belligerent and aggressor state—Red China? Opportunities for propaganda and counter-propaganda come and go as the Truman administration is asleep at the switch—and the casualties go on and on in Korea.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Boston, Aug. 19—Finding myself in Boston I improved a shining hour by further inquiry into the case of Carl A. Latva, whose conviction under the McCarran-Walter immigration act put him in theoretical danger of deportation to his native Finland and separation from his native American wife and his two adult native American sons who did their bit but no more than their bounden bit in the United States Navy and were discharged with honor.

This case was blown up by the New York Times and Herald Tribune, which depicted the legal action against Latva as a cruel punishment inflicted on a blameless greenhorn by a malicious old man, the senior senator from Nevada, Pat McCarran.

There has been a great clamor against McCarran from eastern centers, representing him as a heartless bigot, although he comes of a stock which suffered as much in that respect as any other element of mankind but never whimpered and fought its own fight. He also has been smeared with innuendos to the effect that he is an agent of the criminal underworld although he leads a markedly plain and unusually religious life. He is the father of two Catholic nuns. One of them, Sister Mary Patricia, is a scholar of note and author of a learned thesis entitled "Fabianism in the Political Life of Britain, 1919-1931." This earned for Sister Mary Patricia the degree of doctor of philosophy from the Catholic University of America.

To be sure, a man might be the father of two nuns and a rogue nevertheless, but that is unlikely and it must be added that no direct evidence to incriminate Pat McCarran as an agent of the criminal underworld, nor even an actionable charge to that effect, ever has been heard. It has all been done by innuendo and it is significant that the most shocking attacks on McCarran was made over the air from an east side New York restaurant called "Chandler's" by a man named Hank Greenspun under the auspices of one Bernard Yaroslaw, a nocturnal disc-jockey.

Greenspun is registered in Nevada as an ex-convict. He studied law with Vito Marcantonio, the New York congressman who faithfully followed the Communist party line for many years, and he landed in Nevada as press-agent for the late Buggsy Siegel, the underworld nabob, when Siegel opened the gaudy gambling house and hotel called Flamingo which was built in part of material alleged to have been obtained in violation of the war-time restrictions. Hearings were held on that question but no disposition ever was made.

Siegel was murdered in Beverly Hills, Calif., and his press-agent, Greenspun, from New York, caught on as publisher of a small paper in Las Vegas, Nev., which had been recently started by the Printers' Union.

A few months ago, Greenspun started a law-suit against McCarran, demanding a million dollars on the theory that advertisers who formerly had concentrated their business in the old established Las Vegas Review-Journal were guilty of a conspiracy because these advertisers decided to drop out of Greenspun's paper and again concentrate in the Review-Journal. This law-suit was sub judice when Bernard Yaroslaw put Greenspun on the air from a New York all night drinking place to harangue the public in a plea for donations and sympathy and a vilification of Senator McCarran.

There is no person named Chandler anywhere about the restaurant known as "Chandler's" which is operated by the Mid-Hudson System, which is owned principally by the two brothers Rubin, natives of Polish territory now Russian and American citizens by legal process.

The brothers Rubin give no appearance of political character but the propaganda which they have been shoving constantly through the medium of Yaroslaw consists largely of ferocious abuse of American citizens who reject the Marxian program of the organization called Americans for Democratic Action. Yaroslaw once said he knew all about the ADA program and endorsed it.

Hubert Humphrey, the Minnesota senator who is the presiding genius of ADA, has been a "guest" propagandist on the Yaroslaw-Rubin program. Incidentally, the

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Physician Warns Of Distortion In Polio Rumors

By DAVID WAINAPEL
Ellenville School Physician

Ellenville, Aug. 20—The year 1952 happens to be another "polio year" with the infection spreading all over the country and involving more and more cases. It is clear therefor that "polio" has become a common topic of discussion—often by people who have little factual knowledge at their command. This, of course may lead to unnecessary apprehension and it would seem, therefore, that giving some facts regarding the disease would be helpful.

The word "polio" recalls to most people the picture of a child with paralyzed extremities, crippled for life, or confined to an iron lung.

The truth is far different.

Polio is a virus disease—which means that the infection is due to the smallest of all known germs—the virus. (Other virus diseases are measles, chicken pox, mumps, flu, the common cold, etc.)

The truth is that polio is not a paralytic disease—paralysis being the exception rather than the rule.

Only a very small percentage of cases develops paralysis, and in only a fragment of them does the paralysis have permanent damage to the baby.

Over 90 per cent of the cases developed very slight symptoms which are similar to other infections such as colds, flu, etc.

The symptoms run a short course and subside after 24-72 hours without being suspected by the patient nor by his physician. Only very expensive and complicated laboratory tests could actually determine whether or not polio is present.

As previously mentioned a very small percentage of cases will after 5-6 days develop paralysis of varying degrees.

Let us emphasize that 1952 is not only a year of increased number of cases of polio. It is also a year of increasing fight against the disease.

Each year further progress is made and this year medical science has left the laboratories and entered the field of applying the discoveries to the population. A tremendous experiment is being performed in Texas.

Everybody interested read the papers about the experiment with Gamma Globulin, but not everybody knows the theoretical consideration which started it.

It is generally known that infectious diseases leave certain resistence or immunity. So does polio. This resistance is attached to a fraction of blood plasma (the popular "serum") called globulin. Gamma Globulin is produced from pooled blood coming from many individuals. It is supposed that a certain number of these individuals had polio at some time or another. They develop resistance and their globulin contains certain anti-bodies against polio. The question is whether the amount is sufficient for practical purposes. This can be announced only by experiment.

The first stage—laboratory experiment—looks encouraging. The second stage is the experiment on thousands of people—mainly children receive Gamma Globulin, the other half, a similar looking but inactive preparation. Nobody—the physicians included— knows which is which. They know only the numbers. After a year it will be possible to evaluate statistically whether this method of treatment or prevention has any value.

Whether this is going to be the answer or not, one thing is sure, our scientists will find the right solution eventually and liberate mankind from another terrible plague.

What parents are mostly interested in are the practical suggestions:

1—Avoid panic. It does not help.

2—Observe good hygiene—it is especially important to wash the hands before eating.

3—Avoid fatigue and chilling.

4—Maintain normal routine.

5—Give prompt attention to mild symtoms of colds, sore throat, ect. Call your physician.

Girl Gets Her Bicycle

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — A bright-eyed little girl received a shiny new tricycle from her daddy today despite the 10,000 miles and the Korean prison camp barbed wire that separate them. And as five-year-old Donna Maria Leamon climbed on that three-wheeled wonder, her mother — Mrs. Beatrice Leamon — pinned on a corsage sent by the army lieutenant husband she hasn't seen for the last three years.

H. J. Haskell Dies

Kansas City, Aug. 20 (AP)—Henry J. Haskell, 78, editor of the Kansas City Star, died today. A member of the Star's staff 54 years, Haskell became director of the editorial page in 1910 and had been editor since 1928. He was a director and vice president of the Kansas City Star Company. His son, Henry J. Haskell, Jr., is foreign editor of the Star.

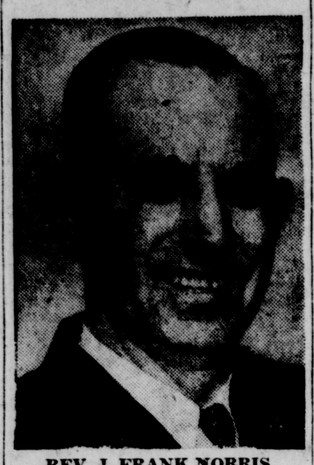

Dagmar Escapes Injury

Salisbury Beach, N. H., Aug. 20 (AP)—Dagmar, busty television and night club star, narrowly escaped injury today when a bow on her dress caught fire as she leaned over an outdoor barbecue. Her husband, Danny Dayton, suffered slight burns as he crushed out sparks. "It almost put Dagmar out of show business," he commented.

No Offer for Adlai

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 20 (AP)—The national plowing contest board of directors met last night but no move was made to have Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson share the speakers' platform with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The executive committee for the big farm event had informed the Illinois governor he could speak Sept. 5, but not Sept. 6, the day Eisenhower is to appear. Robert Hurrle, platform program chairman, said two major political addresses on one day would crowd out some of the plowing.

To Hold Conference

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Truman will hold his weekly news conference at 9:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Railroads stepped out in front of the stock market today and created a mild recovery movement in the rest of the list.

Most of the advance was fractional with a few issues rising to between 1 and 2 points. Losses were universally small.

There was one big draw-back, so far as the bulls were concerned—volume was meager. The rate of trading was around a million shares or less for an entire day. Yesterday's total came to only 980,000 shares.

Major divisions making progress behind the rails included steels, motors, radio-television issues, oils, non-ferrous metals, and utilities. There was a heavy mixture of gains and losses in aircrafts, rubbers, and chemicals.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Gulf Oil, Amerade Petroleum, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Zenith Radio and Western Union.

Strike-bound B. F. Goodrich was down a fraction. The company reported first half earnings equal to $3.46 a share as compared with $3.79 in the previous first half.

General Dynamics, which is building the atomic-powered submarine "Nautilus," was up well after reporting first half earnings equal to $2.46 a share as compared with $1.34 in the first half of 1951. The management said it expected sales for the entire year would be the highest in the company's history.

A block of 3,500 shares of U. S. Leather changed hands at 14¼ up ¼.

Stocks on the curb exchange were mostly higher including Crystal Oil, Devon Leduc Oils, Federated Petroleum, International Petroleum, and Standard Oil of Kentucky. Lower were such issues as Clinchfield Coal, Jefferson Lake Sulphur, and Pancoastal Oil.

Corporate bonds were slightly lower in quiet trading. U. S. Governments were steady and quiet.

Decides on Bank Now

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—A paper bag containing $4,305 was kicked around unwittingly on a grocery store floor by hundreds of persons before the money was returned today to a woman who has decided to keep it in a bank from now on. Mrs. Julia Zold, 67, discovered the loss of her savings of 25 years after buying $2.50 worth of groceries Friday at an A & P supermarket on 23rd street. A frantic search failed to trace it.

San Jose, Calif., (AP)—This will be the makeup of the San Jose State College football player this fall: Bright gold pants with blue and white stripes, dark blue jerseys with gold numerals and with gold sleeve stripes. They will use blue helmets. The school colors are gold and white. They use blue only for contrast.

Now They're Home

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—Nine Cockney busmen came home today from a 12,000-mile tour, of the United States and Canada and told of a continent crowded with mountains of food, well-dressed women and looney blokes who drink their tea with ice in it. The Cockneys took their towering doubledeckers abroad five months ago as an official "Come to Britain" stunt to attract tourists, but while in America, they got an eyeful themselves. Senior driver George James Gwynn, 61, was struck by the "almost unbelievable hospitality" of the Americans. "The Americans are a go-ahead people," he said.

Quintuplets Are Born

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP)—Hospital authorities here report a 38-year-old woman gave birth to girl quintuplets last night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving. The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born in the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a Negro laborer and his wife, Maria. The mother and five babies were brought to Sao Paulo Hospital where Dr. Francisco Sucipira said they appeared in good health. The Albanos have had seven other children, five now dead.

Heat Enters 19th Day

(By The Associated Press)

Southerly winds brought a batch of warm, moist air into the midwest today while the blistering Texas heat wave went into its 19th day. Except for the midwest warmup—weather forecasters say it won't last long—there was no important change in the country. Somewhat cooler air from the Pacific northwest was expected to start moving across the midwest late today.

Report Is Denied

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's office denied today a report Churchill has suggested the Atlantic allies cancel part of planned Baltic Sea exercises to avoid offending Russia.

Greenkill Avenue Bridge to Open

The bridge of the Broadway underpass project connecting Railroad and Greenkill avenues was scheduled to be open to traffic at 4:30 p. m., today.

Completion of the pavement on railroad overpass, is another major step toward the end of the project which began two years ago.

Lights have been installed on the bridge connecting the streets and it is expected that new parking regulations will be effective along railroad avenue, soon after the bridge is in permanent use.

A spokesman for the contractor said today that all remaining major phases of the project are scheduled to be finished by about Sept. 1.

The contractor is completing preliminary ground work for the landscaping to be done under a sub-contract by The Tree Preservation Co., of Elmsford. First stages of the actual landscaping are not expected to start until after Sept. 1.

Work is still to be completed on the section of Thomas street which circles into Railroad avenue, and there are other minor details to be completed before the contractor leaves the job.

Lights are still to be installed in the underpass where it is spanned by the bridges.

Sgt. Lemuel Howard said police headquarters was notified that the second bridge will be in use today. The fire department was also notified.

Condition Is Serious

The condition of Mrs. Debra Henry, the nurse from Camp Rondout, LeFevre Falls, who was injured when she was thrown from a horse July 31, was reported today as "still serious" at the Albany Hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. Eldridge Campbell, brain specialist. She suffered a fracture of the skull and had been at the Benedictine Hospital here before she was transferred to the Albany Hospital several days ago.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Physician Warns Of Distortion In Polio Rumors

By DAVID WAINAPEL
Ellenville School Physician

Ellenville, Aug. 20—The year 1952 happens to be another "polio year" with the infection spreading all over the country and involving more and more cases. It is clear therefor that "polio" has become a common topic of discussion—often by people who have little factual knowledge at their command. This, of course may lead to unnecessary apprehension and it would seem, therefore, that giving some facts regarding the disease would be helpful.

The word "polio" recalls to most people the picture of a child with paralyzed extremities, crippled for life, or confined to an iron lung.

The truth is far different.

Polio is a virus disease—which means that the infection is due to the smallest of all known germs—the virus. (Other virus diseases are measles, chicken pox, mumps, flu, the common cold, etc.)

The truth is that polio is not a paralytic disease—paralysis being the exception rather than the rule.

Only a very small percentage of cases develops paralysis, and in only a fragment of them does the paralysis have permanent damage to the baby.

Over 90 per cent of the cases developed very slight symptoms which are similar to other infections such as colds, flu, etc.

The symptoms run a short course and subside after 24-72 hours without being suspected by the patient nor by his physician. Only very expensive and complicated laboratory tests could actually determine whether or not polio is present.

As previously mentioned a very small percentage of cases will after 5-6 days develop paralysis of varying degrees.

Let us emphasize that 1952 is not only a year of increased number of cases of polio. It is also a year of increasing fight against the disease.

Each year further progress is made and this year medical science has left the laboratories and entered the field of applying the discoveries to the population. A tremendous experiment is being performed in Texas.

Everybody interested read the papers about the experiment with Gamma Globulin, but not everybody knows the theoretical consideration which started it.

It is generally known that infectious diseases leave certain resistence or immunity. So does polio. This resistance is attached to a fraction of blood plasma (the popular "serum") called globulin. Gamma Globulin is produced from pooled blood coming from many individuals. It is supposed that a certain number of these individuals had polio at some time or another. They develop resistance and their globulin contains certain anti-bodies against polio. The question is whether the amount is sufficient for practical purposes. This can be announced only by experiment.

The first stage—laboratory experiment—looks encouraging. The second stage is the experiment on thousands of people—mainly children receive Gamma Globulin, the other half, a similar looking but inactive preparation. Nobody—the physicians included— knows which is which. They know only the numbers. After a year it will be possible to evaluate statistically whether this method of treatment or prevention has any value.

Whether this is going to be the answer or not, one thing is sure, our scientists will find the right solution eventually and liberate mankind from another terrible plague.

What parents are mostly interested in are the practical suggestions:

1—Avoid panic. It does not help.

2—Observe good hygiene—it is especially important to wash the hands before eating.

3—Avoid fatigue and chilling.

4—Maintain normal routine.

5—Give prompt attention to mild symtoms of colds, sore throat, ect. Call your physician.

Girl Gets Her Bicycle

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP) — A bright-eyed little girl received a shiny new tricycle from her daddy today despite the 10,000 miles and the Korean prison camp barbed wire that separate them. And as five-year-old Donna Maria Leamon climbed on that three-wheeled wonder, her mother — Mrs. Beatrice Leamon — pinned on a corsage sent by the army lieutenant husband she hasn't seen for the last three years.

H. J. Haskell Dies

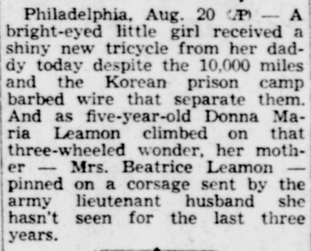

Kansas City, Aug. 20 (AP)—Henry J. Haskell, 78, editor of the Kansas City Star, died today. A member of the Star's staff 54 years, Haskell became director of the editorial page in 1910 and had been editor since 1928. He was a director and vice president of the Kansas City Star Company. His son, Henry J. Haskell, Jr., is foreign editor of the Star.

Dagmar Escapes Injury

Salisbury Beach, N. H., Aug. 20 (AP)—Dagmar, busty television and night club star, narrowly escaped injury today when a bow on her dress caught fire as she leaned over an outdoor barbecue. Her husband, Danny Dayton, suffered slight burns as he crushed out sparks. "It almost put Dagmar out of show business," he commented.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Railroads stepped out in front of the stock market today and created a mild recovery movement in the rest of the list.

Most of the advance was fractional with a few issues rising to between 1 and 2 points. Losses were universally small.

There was one big draw-back, so far as the bulls were concerned—volume was meager. The rate of trading was around a million shares or less for an entire day. Yesterday's total came to only 980,000 shares.

Major divisions making progress behind the rails included steels, motors, radio-television issues, oils, non-ferrous metals, and utilities. There was a heavy mixture of gains and losses in aircrafts, rubbers, and chemicals.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Gulf Oil, Amerade Petroleum, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Zenith Radio and Western Union.

Strike-bound B. F. Goodrich was down a fraction. The company reported first half earnings equal to $3.46 a share as compared with $3.79 in the previous first half.

General Dynamics, which is building the atomic-powered submarine "Nautilus," was up well after reporting first half earnings equal to $2.46 a share as compared with $1.34 in the first half of 1951. The management said it expected sales for the entire year would be the highest in the company's history.

A block of 3,500 shares of U. S. Leather changed hands at 14¼ up ¼.

Stocks on the curb exchange were mostly higher including Crystal Oil, Devon Leduc Oils, Federated Petroleum, International Petroleum, and Standard Oil of Kentucky. Lower were such issues as Clinchfield Coal, Jefferson Lake Sulphur, and Pancoastal Oil.

Corporate bonds were slightly lower in quiet trading. U. S. Governments were steady and quiet.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP)—Hospital authorities here report a 38-year-old woman gave birth to girl quintuplets last night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving. The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born in the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a Negro laborer and his wife, Maria. The mother and five babies were brought to Sao Paulo Hospital where Dr. Francisco Sucipira said they appeared in good health. The Albanos have had seven other children, five now dead.

Heat Enters 19th Day

(By The Associated Press)

Southerly winds brought a batch of warm, moist air into the midwest today while the blistering Texas heat wave went into its 19th day. Except for the midwest warmup—weather forecasters say it won't last long—there was no important change in the country. Somewhat cooler air from the Pacific northwest was expected to start moving across the midwest late today.

Report Is Denied

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's office denied today a report Churchill has suggested the Atlantic allies cancel part of planned Baltic Sea exercises to avoid offending Russia.

Greenkill Avenue Bridge to Open

The bridge of the Broadway underpass project connecting Railroad and Greenkill avenues was scheduled to be open to traffic at 4:30 p. m., today.

Completion of the pavement on railroad overpass, is another major step toward the end of the project which began two years ago.

Lights have been installed on the bridge connecting the streets and it is expected that new parking regulations will be effective along railroad avenue, soon after the bridge is in permanent use.

A spokesman for the contractor said today that all remaining major phases of the project are scheduled to be finished by about Sept. 1.

The contractor is completing preliminary ground work for the landscaping to be done under a sub-contract by The Tree Preservation Co., of Elmsford. First stages of the actual landscaping are not expected to start until after Sept. 1.

Work is still to be completed on the section of Thomas street which circles into Railroad avenue, and there are other minor details to be completed before the contractor leaves the job.

Lights are still to be installed in the underpass where it is spanned by the bridges.

Sgt. Lemuel Howard said police headquarters was notified that the second bridge will be in use today. The fire department was also notified.

Condition Is Serious

The condition of Mrs. Debra Henry, the nurse from Camp Rondout, LeFevre Falls, who was injured when she was thrown from a horse July 31, was reported today as "still serious" at the Albany Hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. Eldridge Campbell, brain specialist. She suffered a fracture of the skull and had been at the Benedictine Hospital here before she was transferred to the Albany Hospital several days ago.

As Pegler Sees It

well-known old Reuben's Restaurant is not implicated in this situation.

"Chandler's" is now defendant in a law suit by the federal government, charged with gypping the public on food and drink in violation of the OPS schedules. The amount of gyppery charged against "Chandler's" $346,640, was the highest in an impressive list of similar OPS actions. Myles J. Lane, the old Dartmouth football star, who is now U. S. attorney, referred to such defendants as "greedy chiselers" and singled out the Rubin brothers' steak house for special condemnation. The news of the government's charges evoked many interesting tips and reminiscences concerning the Rubins and their mouthpiece.

Large amounts of eastern money have been shipped into Nevada to beat McCarran because he introduced the highly complex immigration bill which Congress finally passed over President Truman's veto. The impudence of eastern letterhead societies in attempting to dictate the selection of a senator from a western state was lost sight of. And the Times and Herald-Tribune, published in a city which elected a Communist to Congress over and over, revelled in the Latva case in Boston as a chance to smear McCarran.

I have noted that Judge Wyzanski who presided in the Boston trial was a Frankfurter hot dog at Harvard Law with Alger Hiss, that Frankfurter insinuated him into the government among many others, and that Wyzanski testified not once but twice as a character witness for Hiss. He was compelled to find Latva guilty but took the opportunity to condemn the law and, inferentially McCarran, who is marked for political liquidation not by his own state but by eastern societies. In Greenspun's harrangue to the Rubin radio audience, he evoked laughter twice by comments on a heart attack which almost killed McCarran. McCarran's recovery was a "disappointment" in his career in Nevada journalism.

In Boston rumors were current that the American committee for the protection of the foreign born had engaged Latva's counsel and financed his defense. Latva may not have known that this organization was on the attorney general's list. He claims to have been a Communist only for a few months 18 years ago.

I telephoned Frederick Cohen, Latva's lawyer, and he would only say that if a person in Latva's situation consulted the committee, the committee most likely would recommend his as defense counsel.

"Are you a Communist?" I asked Mr. Cohen.

He said he would not discuss his personal beliefs and when I said this was not a personal but a political question, Mr. Latva's lawyer in the anti-American propaganda case said he considered the question to be personal. He still would not say whether he was a Communist.

Latva probably will be allowed to remain in this country by executive order. Not by the most clever design could a case have been selected by the government which would have provided a more poignant or hypocritical smear of Senator Pat McCarran. The New York Times and Herald-Tribune ignored qualifying facts in their sob story editorials against McCarran.

Jacoby on Canasta

Watch How You Discard Aces

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There is an important difference between aces and other cards, particularly when both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. Two or three aces will help you reach the count without using up too many cards.

Moreover, even if you seem to have no need for aces for your own meld, you hate to discard an ace for fear that it may be just what the doctor ordered for the next player. In short, aces are practically never discarded before melds have been made.

This fact often has a bearing on the way you play your hand. For example, suppose both sides need 120 for the first meld, and you have a pair of jokers with three other pairs—kings, queens, and fives—with some odd cards to fill out the hand. How should you begin to play the hand?

If you choose to do so, you can put down the pair of jokers with the pair of kings, or with the pair of queens; or you can put down one joker with each. This would be excessively timid, however. Your best course is to meld nothing, but to play for the pack.

The hand continues, and you eventually acquire a pair of aces in addition to the other pairs you had in the beginning. Now you must change your policy. You must meld the two jokers with the two aces.

This costs practically nothing so far as winning the pack is concerned. Nobody was going to discard aces anyway. You still have your kings, queens, and fives to help you win the discard pile; and your partner now has a chance to get the pile even if he is unable to meld 120 points.

Q—In a game of three-handed Cut-Throat Canasta, recently, I wanted to meld out concealed. After making all possible melds I had left in my hand three black threes and a jack. I tried to meld the three black threes and discard the jack, but my opponents said I could not discard if I melded black threes. Were they right?

A—No. I cannot imagine where people got this notion. In all forms of Canasta you are allowed to make a discard when you meld out with black threes. There never has been any rule against this.

When you meld out with three or four black threes it's exactly the same as any other way of melding out. That is, you are allowed either to make a discard or not—just as you please.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Phalen Is Named Head of Michigan Phone Company

Clifton W. Phalen, 46, a former district plant superintendent of the New York Telephone Company at Kingston for three and one half years, has been named president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, it was announced today.

Phalen started his telephone career in Syracuse in June 1928, after graduation from Yale University where he majored in industrial engineering. After working as installer, splicer, repairman, desk man and plant engineer in Syracuse, he moved to Batavia in November 1929, as plant chief and to the same position in Buffalo in October 1930. He was advanced to district plant superintendent at Kingston in July 1934. From there he moved to Albany in January 1938 as division construction superintendent and in November 1939 he was appointed division plant superintendent there.

Q—In a game of three-handed Cut-Throat Canasta, recently, I wanted to meld out concealed. After making all possible melds I had left in my hand three black threes and a jack. I tried to meld the three black threes and discard the jack, but my opponents said I could not discard if I melded black threes. Were they right?

A—No. I cannot imagine where people got this notion. In all forms of Canasta you are allowed to make a discard when you meld out with black threes. There never has been any rule against this.

When you meld out with three or four black threes it's exactly the same as any other way of melding out. That is, you are allowed either to make a discard or not—just as you please.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Phalen Is Named Head of Michigan Phone Company

Clifton W. Phalen, 46, a former district plant superintendent of the New York Telephone Company at Kingston for three and one half years, has been named president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, it was announced today.

Phalen started his telephone career in Syracuse in June 1928, after graduation from Yale University where he majored in industrial engineering. After working as installer, splicer, repairman, desk man and plant engineer in Syracuse, he moved to Batavia in November 1929, as plant chief and to the same position in Buffalo in October 1930. He was advanced to district plant superintendent at Kingston in July 1934. From there he moved to Albany in January 1938 as division construction superintendent and in November 1939 he was appointed division plant superintendent there.

King Found Innocent

Pasadena, Md., Aug. 20 (AP)—Curtis King, 32-year-old engineer of an amusement park train, was found innocent of manslaughter charges here last night in the death of a three-year-old boy who was killed by the train. The victim was Gregory Robinson of Washington. Patrolman William Streett testified another child pushed the little Negro boy and he fell across the tracks in the path of the oncoming miniature train.

Has Jungle Motif

Providence, R. I., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Jo Farmer's living room had a jungle motif she didn't plan on when she returned home yesterday from a month on Cape Cod. The huge Kudzu vine which almost covers her home found its way through a slit near a window and grew into the living room. She found long tentacles entwining picture frames, the piano and other pieces of furniture. When she planted the vine 25 years ago she was told it would grow a foot a day.

Cause Humming

As air moves over telegraph wires on a clear, still winter day, a series of eddies develop, first on one side, then on the other. These eddies cause the wire to vibrate, like a violin string, and give the characteristic hum heard at such times. The vibrations then are transmitted with greatest force to the poles, which act as sounding boards.

Solons Surprised At Truman's Lower Tax Yield Figure

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Congressional money experts expressed surprise today at President Truman's estimate that direct taxes on corporations this fiscal year will yield three billion dollars less than he had figured in his budget seven months ago.

However, among the few lawmakers available for comment on the revised budget estimates released last night, none challenged the possibility that the drop-back point has been reached.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, ranking Republican on the taxwriting House Ways and Means Committee, said it had been evident to him for some time that retail business has been lagging. He observed that such a condition could hardly exist without a back-lash on manufacturers.

Rep. Herman P. Eberharter of Pennsylvania, a Ways and Means Democrat, called the decrease in the probable take from corporations "unexpected." He said his personal opinion had been that business tax receipts would have been somewhat higher than the January estimate of $27,000,000,000. The budget bureau's estimate of government income has run rather consistently lower than actual receipts in most recent years.

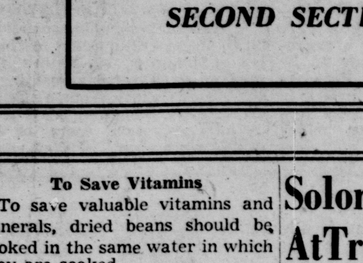

Spending, Deficit Down

In his new look at the budget, Truman figured that not only receipts but spending and the year-end deficit are coming down. For the fiscal year which ends next June 30, he lowered his estimate of receipts from 71 billion dollars to $68,700,000,000; of expenditures, from $85,400,000,000 to 79 billion dollars; and of the deficit, from $14,400,000,000 to $10,300,000,000.

One exception to the downtrend was individual income taxes, which will bring in about 33½ billion dollars, or half a billion more than the January estimate.

Truman said his current estimate that corporation taxes will bring in $24,800,000,000 instead of $27,800,000,000 was based on two factors: a lower estimate of corporation profits for calendar years 1951 and 1952, and added experience with the excess profits tax of 1950 and last fall's tax increase bill.

Real Health Insurance

The science of Chiropractic successfully challenges all other health methods by actual comparison of results obtained in restoring the sick to health. Natural laws are the greatest of all laws. The healing powers inherent with each individual are supreme because they are God-given. These inherent forces are far more powerful in restoring health than serums or drugs could possibly be, provided these natural forces are able to function in your body without interference.

W. J. Sussin

The logical result when nerve supply is reduced to any particular organ of the body is illness.

Interference or blockage of normal nerve flow is the invisible element which is silently undermining your health.

Chiropractic adjustments not only restore health, they build health. A periodic examination of your spine is the best type of health insurance available. Call 3892 today for an appointment.

Farm Group Says GOP Offers More

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—A spokesman for the American Farm Bureau Federation said today there is "more room" for that organization's type of federal farm program in the Republican national platform than in the Democratic.

But the bureau was described as being "hopeful" that Governor Adlai Steveson, the Democratic presidential candidate, will endorse farm policies more friendly to the bureau's position than that taken in the Democratic platform.

This information was given newsmen at an informal conference by Roger Fleming, executive secretary and legislative counsel, and other bureau officials.

Bureau President Allan B. Kline has been a sharp critic of many farm policies advocated by President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

Fleming said the bureau has not and will not endorse any candidate or party but will inform its members of the farm policy views of the presidential candidates.

Written by Farmers

The bureau supports the principle of flexible price supports under which supports would be highest in periods of shortages, with the idea of encouraging production, and lowest in periods of surpluses, when production would be discouraged.

The Truman administration on the other hand, favors high, rigid supports. It was instrumental in getting the recent session of Congress to set aside the flexible price support provisions of present law for the next two years.

The farm organization officials said the farm plank in the Democratic platform was drafted principally by Brannan and Chairman Cooley (D.-N. C.) of the House Agriculture Committee, and that the major farm organizations had little to say about it.

They said the Republican farm plank, on the other hand, was written largely by farmers.

Aly to Leave Hollywood

Hollywood, Aug. 20 (AP) — Aly Khan is scheduled to fly tonight to Chicago, after spending several days here visiting with his estranged wife, actress Rita Hayworth. There was no word of a reconciliation. They have been seen in public numerous times in recent days, and yesterday lunched together near Rita's studio. The Moslem prince is expected to go to Louisville, Ky., to look for possible additions to his extensive racing stable.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, Aug. 20—The annual fair of St. Francis de Sales parish will be held in the hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings. Each section of the parish will have its own booth, featuring handmade and fancy articles donated by residents of that section. There will be novelty attractions and a merry-go-round.

A food sale will be held on Simpson's lawn Saturday from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m.

The village of Phoenicia is installing new water mains. Work on this project was started this week.

The Rev. William O'Brien has returned from a two-week vacation, which he divided between his home in Boston and Atlantic City.

Mrs. Margaret Byron has donated her oil painting of Phoenicia's Main street to the fair.

For the fiscal year which ends next June 30, he lowered his estimate of receipts from 71 billion dollars to $68,700,000,000; of expenditures, from $85,400,000,000 to 79 billion dollars; and of the deficit, from $14,400,000,000 to $10,300,000,000.

One exception to the downtrend was individual income taxes, which will bring in about 33½ billion dollars, or half a billion more than the January estimate.

Truman said his current estimate that corporation taxes will bring in $24,800,000,000 instead of $27,800,000,000 was based on two factors: a lower estimate of corporation profits for calendar years 1951 and 1952, and added experience with the excess profits tax of 1950 and last fall's tax increase bill.

MAY RAZE "WORLD'S TINIEST CHURCH"—Picturesque Montee Cassino Chapel, called the world's tiniest church, may soon be torn down to make way for a housing project. Located high above Ft. Mitchell, Ky., on the ground of the former Benedictine vineyards, the beautiful shrine is surrounded by a modern housing project of nearby Covington. Nearly 50 years ago, two Benedictine monks quarried stone from the hillsides and built the shrine. Photo at left, above, shows the interior, decorated with traditional religious symbols and a small altar. It can only hold three worshippers. Other photo shows the exterior, with a belfry so small the Benedictines have never been able to find a bell for it.

Reis Reappointed To Knights' Post

Frank A. Reis, a past grand knight of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, has been reappointed chairman of the New York State Council committee on insurance, a position he held for the past two years.

Reis' appointment, accompanied by a congratulatory message on his efforts in the position, was announced by State Deputy Thomas I. Fitzgerald, following the national convention of the fraternal order, which Reis attended at Pittsburgh, Pa., as a delegate from New York State Council.

Reis is well known in K of C circles in the Hudson valley, having served as district deputy for four years, his territory including councils in Ravena, Catskill, Coxsackie, Hudson and Kingston. He is also a past navigator of Fourth Degree Assembly, K of C.

Real Health Insurance

The science of Chiropractic successfully challenges all other health methods by actual comparison of results obtained in restoring the sick to health. Natural laws are the greatest of all laws. The healing powers inherent with each individual are supreme because they are God-given. These inherent forces are far more powerful in restoring health than serums or drugs could possibly be, provided these natural forces are able to function in your body without interference.

W. J. Sussin

The logical result when nerve supply is reduced to any particular organ of the body is illness.

Interference or blockage of normal nerve flow is the invisible element which is silently undermining your health.

Chiropractic adjustments not only restore health, they build health. A periodic examination of your spine is the best type of health insurance available. Call 3892 today for an appointment.

Farm Group Says GOP Offers More

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—A spokesman for the American Farm Bureau Federation said today there is "more room" for that organization's type of federal farm program in the Republican national platform than in the Democratic.

But the bureau was described as being "hopeful" that Governor Adlai Steveson, the Democratic presidential candidate, will endorse farm policies more friendly to the bureau's position than that taken in the Democratic platform.

This information was given newsmen at an informal conference by Roger Fleming, executive secretary and legislative counsel, and other bureau officials.

Bureau President Allan B. Kline has been a sharp critic of many farm policies advocated by President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

Fleming said the bureau has not and will not endorse any candidate or party but will inform its members of the farm policy views of the presidential candidates.

Written by Farmers

The bureau supports the principle of flexible price supports under which supports would be highest in periods of shortages, with the idea of encouraging production, and lowest in periods of surpluses, when production would be discouraged.

The Truman administration on the other hand, favors high, rigid supports. It was instrumental in getting the recent session of Congress to set aside the flexible price support provisions of present law for the next two years.

The farm organization officials said the farm plank in the Democratic platform was drafted principally by Brannan and Chairman Cooley (D.-N. C.) of the House Agriculture Committee, and that the major farm organizations had little to say about it.

They said the Republican farm plank, on the other hand, was written largely by farmers.

Aly to Leave Hollywood

Hollywood, Aug. 20 (AP) — Aly Khan is scheduled to fly tonight to Chicago, after spending several days here visiting with his estranged wife, actress Rita Hayworth. There was no word of a reconciliation. They have been seen in public numerous times in recent days, and yesterday lunched together near Rita's studio. The Moslem prince is expected to go to Louisville, Ky., to look for possible additions to his extensive racing stable.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, Aug. 20—The annual fair of St. Francis de Sales parish will be held in the hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings. Each section of the parish will have its own booth, featuring handmade and fancy articles donated by residents of that section. There will be novelty attractions and a merry-go-round.

A food sale will be held on Simpson's lawn Saturday from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m.

The village of Phoenicia is installing new water mains. Work on this project was started this week.

The Rev. William O'Brien has returned from a two-week vacation, which he divided between his home in Boston and Atlantic City.

Mrs. Margaret Byron has donated her oil painting of Phoenicia's Main street to the fair.

Olympic Romance Has Bridged Iron Curtain

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 20 (AP) —Hungarian officials disclosed today that an Olympics-fostered romance had bridged the Iron Curtain.

The marriage was revealed here of Belgian newspaperman Pierre Gerard and Hungarian swimmer Eva Novak, who brought three medals home from Helsinki.

The bridegroom was identified here as the editor of Les Sports, published in Brussels.

The announcement of the nuptials did not tell where or when the couple met, but said that Gerard came back to Budapest with the Hungarian Olympic team. Since he was a foreigner, the couple had to ask Hungary's government for permission to marry.

That, said friends, was granted promptly. Pierre, 38, and Eva, 22, were wed Aug. 11 and returned Monday from a brief honeymoon on Lake Balaton.

Bride Studies Medicine

Swimming associates said the bride, who is studying medicine intends to complete her studies. The bridegroom, they added, plans to return to his newspaper work in Belgium but expects to visit his wife every month.

Eva, her friends said, wants to keep her Hungarian citizenship and hopes to represent her country in the 1956 Olympics.

She already is the world's record holder in the 200 meter breast stroke race for women, though she only came second in the event at Helsinki. She also won second place in the 400-meter freestyle and was a member of Hungary's winning team in the 400-meter freestyle relay.

Shultis School Will Reopen in September

The Audrey Shultis School of Dancing will reopen on Tuesday, September 2, at 52 Main street. Registration begins tomorrow.

Classes will be conducted in all types of dancing, including acrobatic, ballet, ballroom, character, modern, musical comedy, tap and baton. At the end of the term a revue will be presented.

POOR STEPMOTHER

A wife writes: "My second marriage took place six months ago. My present husband was also married before and has a daughter, aged six, who lives with us. Before we were married his daughter and I got on very well together. I really loved her and I though she loved me, too. During the last few weeks, however, her attitude toward me has changed completely; she now seems to resent everything I do. She will not obey in anything. In fact, when I tell her she can't do something, she tells me that her mother lets her do it and even goes so far as to say that is what her mother wants her to do. This whole thing is making me ill as I still do like the child, and want so much for us to be happy! I am completely at a loss as to know how to cope with this situation. Can you help me?"

Your problem is an almost impossibly hard one to solve—very definitely impossible unless your husband takes the lead, and you and the child together must follow the plan and obey the rules he makes. If you have to stand alone against the two together, I fear for your marriage.

Present Late for Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: A shower invitation was delayed in the mail and I received it just this morning—a week after the shower has taken place. I am very upset about this as the bride is a very dear friend of mine and I don't want her to think I stayed away from the shower deliberately. I certainly would have gone had I known about it and brought her a nice present. Would it be in order to send her a present now and explain what happened?

Answer: Send her the envelope with the postmark on it, and write her how disappointed you were to have had it lost in the mail. To add a present certainly is not expected but it would emphasize your affection for her and your disappointment in not having received your invitation.

Keeping In-Laws

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister-in-law, widow of my husband's brother is going to marry again in the near future. Is she still considered my sister-in-law? Should my young children continue to call her aunt?

Answer: The answer to both these questions depends on personal feelings.

Would you like questions answered about engagements— the announcement, the ring and meeting the groom's family? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but you will find her leaflet E-1, "Engagements," very helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

HOPPE UP — Nineteen-year-old Jo Hoppe, in regal regalia, smiles happily after being crowned "Miss Chicago." She will compete in the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Miss Carol Hooper Honored in Esopus

Miss Carol Hooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hooper, Esopus, was honored at a surprise variety shower given Friday evening, Aug. 15, by Miss Catherine M. Hummel in the Esopus firehouse. Miss Hooper will become the bride of Vincent R. Williams, Ulster Park, on October 5.

The guests included Mmes. Percy Mott, Harry Maines, George Huth, Jr., Fred Hamel, Howard Markle, Norman Ellison, Robert Lindeman, Ralsey Mott, Sr., Louis Kuntz, Aaron Jones, Edward Dittus, John Lancer, Ralsey Mott, Jr., Raymond Kautz, Milton Tsitsera, Louis Goodrich, Milton Hooper, Enno Honnen, Leslie Mott, and John Beaver.

Also, Mmes. Richard Barley, Clarence Bowman, Arthur Barley, Leonard Mott, Marion McGrane, Richard Havlin, Nelson Hooper, and the Misses Ruth Hart, Barbara Mott, Gertrude Mott, Janet Mott, Dorothy Eckert, Barbara Tongue, Patricia Williams, Elaine Macaluso and Maryann Bowman.

I am very upset about this as the bride is a very dear friend of mine and I don't want her to think I stayed away from the shower deliberately. I certainly would have gone had I known about it and brought her a nice present. Would it be in order to send her a present now and explain what happened?

Answer: Send her the envelope with the postmark on it, and write her how disappointed you were to have had it lost in the mail. To add a present certainly is not expected but it would emphasize your affection for her and your disappointment in not having received your invitation.

Keeping In-Laws

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister-in-law, widow of my husband's brother is going to marry again in the near future. Is she still considered my sister-in-law? Should my young children continue to call her aunt?

Answer: The answer to both these questions depends on personal feelings.

Would you like questions answered about engagements— the announcement, the ring and meeting the groom's family? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but you will find her leaflet E-1, "Engagements," very helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Is Sued for Divorce

Los Angeles, Aug. 19 (AP)—Francis H. Van Wie, known as the "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line," who turned up with a new wife last week, has been sued for divorce by a previous spouse. The action boosts the 66-year-old former street car conductor's marital adventures to an apparent 16. The suit, filed by Mrs. Martha Van Wie, 67, of Long Beach, came to light yesterday. She said they were married in Yuma, Ariz., in February, 1951, and separated the following June. She added she had believed Van Wie, who finished a prison term for bigamy five years ago, had been married but once before and divorced.

Democrats' Votes Can Be Cast for Either Nominee

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mississippi Democrats can vote their choice between Democratic presidential nominee Gov. Adlai Stevenson and GOP nominee Dwight Eisenhower on Nov. 4 without crossing party lines.

Democrats for Eisenhower helped the GOP nominee dodge the traditionally unpopular Republican label in this "solid south" state by pledging a slate of independent electors to him yesterday.

In this way Democratic supporters of the retired five-star general may vote for him without marking ballots for the Republican electors.

About 96 per cent of Mississippi's qualified voters are registered as Democrats.

Regret Expressed

The state's white Republican leaders expressed regret that the Democrats for Eisenhower refused to rally their forces for the GOP nominee under a Republican banner.

It now appears that three sets of electors will be on Mississippi's ballot pledged to the general: The independent slate, the White Republican slate and the slate of a predominantly-Negro GOP faction. The two Republican factions have been at political war for a quarter century.

The necessary names to place the independent slate on the ballot were gotten yesterday at the Democrats for Eisenhower meeting.

Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin told the meeting of about 70 persons that "the political office holders in Mississippi are against us, so we will go to the people to win this fight."

Gov. Hugh White, Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, Attorney General J. P. Coleman and the Mississippi congressional delegation have endorsed the Stevenson-Sen. John Sparkman ticket.

Mississippi bolted in 1948 to a State's rights ticket in opposition to President Truman's proposed civil rights program.

Both the states rights group and the Eisenhower Democrats complain bitterly that the 1952 Democratic platform is more objectionable to the south than the 1948 platform that caused a Dixie revolt.

Wiley Named to Post

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—T. T. Wiley, the city's newly named traffic commissioner, has outlined some new traffic plans for New York. Wiley, acting commissioner for the past year, was named to the $20,000 a year post of commissioner yesterday by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri. Wiley's proposals include: Parking on alternate sides of streets on alternate days in five more areas of the city to aid street cleaning.

Diplomats Declare Reds Would Mislead

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — American diplomats said today that Russia's move to abolish the Politburo is aimed at fooling outsiders as well as Russian citizens into believing the Communist party setup is being democratized.

Experts familiar with Soviet affairs viewed the call for a Communist party congress — the first in 13 years — and the announcement of a new five-year production plan as a combination of (a) propaganda and (b) Communist party necessity.

The word "politburo," these officials noted, has become a byword for dictatorship even inside Russia.

Voters Oust . . .

battle, a Negro lawyer backed by insurgent west side leader Robert B. Blaikie downed Tammany incumbent Harold I. Panken in a late surge, 5,378 to 5,207, in Manhattan's 21st District. Blaikie said Julius A. Archibald's victory was "the final blow to decadent Tammany leadership."

Panken refused to concede the election to Archibald, the first Negro to seek Democratic nomination to the State Senate. Saying his figures showed he won by 239, Panken claimed a recount would void 750 or more votes for Archibald. But Panken declined to say whether he would ask a recapitulation.

Besides the 21st District, Tammany Hall lost the 7th and 11th Assembly Districts. Blaikie also claimed he had backed Orest V. Maresca, winner in the 13th Assembly District.

Bianchi Is Beaten

The Legislature's last close tie with the American Labor Party probably was ended with the primary defeat of State Senator William J. Bianchi of East Harlem by Dr. Charles Muzzicato. Bianchi irked GOP leaders by accepting and courting ALP support. He was unopposed for that party's nomination to the Senate.

Myron Albro of Lounsberry, long-time chairman of the Assembly Agriculture Committee, was defeated by the Rev. Dutton S. Peterson of Odessa for the GOP nomination in the 46th Senatorial District of Tompkins, Tioga, Chemung and Schulyer counties.

Except for Knauf, all Assembly incumbents won renomination.

Richard C. Lounsberry of Owego topped five other GOP hopefuls in Tioga county's Assembly race and George L. Ingalls outscored four others in Broome county's 2nd Assembly District.

Primary Voting

gates to the state convention where a candidate for U. S. senator will be named. The rules of the Republican party provide for nomination of a candidate for U. S. senator by the State Committee delegates and alternates to the Third Judicial convention were also named at the Primary Day election.

One "write-in" campaign which produced several votes, particularly in the town of Marbletown, for James Abernethy, present assistant district attorney, for the office of district attorney was noted in the early returns. Both Republican and Democratic voters participated in the write-in campaign. The total vote for Abernethy however was apparently small.

The Republican State Committee will meet on August 26, at 2 p. m. to name the candidate for U. S. Senator and also to nominate candidates for presidential and vice-presidential electors. One will be named for each of the new 43 congressional districts and also two electors at large. At this convention vacancies on the State Republican Committee will also be named.

Discrepancies Reported

Dierks, Ark., Aug 20 (AP)—Discrepancies in the books at the Bank of Dierks now total $132,000, State Bank Commissioner Ed I. McKinley said as the audit of the firm's shortage continued today. Meanwhile, Mrs. Opal Simmington, the assistant cashier of the little bank for the past 32 years, was reported under a doctor's care. She was arraingned Monday at Hot Springs, Ark., before U. S. Commissioner Elmer Tackett on a federal charge of making false entries. She was released in $7,500 bond.

Greenwich Club Manager Is Held

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 20 (AP)—An investigation stemming from a double automobile fatality led to the arrest of Stephen G. Crean, Jr., manager and liquor permittee of the Greenwich Country Club.

He was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Town Assistant Prosecutor Arthur R. Ivey on charges of permitting gambling in the establishment, permitting alcohol in glasses after hours, and serving liquor to a person not a member or guest of the club.

Judge J. Gerard Tobin fixed bonds for Crean's release at $1,000 and fixed next Tuesday as the trial date.

To Be Arraigned

Martin Dunphy, 50, of White Plains, N. Y., will be arraigned in town court here Sept. 17, charged with two counts of causing loss of life on the highway resulting from intoxication in connection with the deaths of a Lowell, Mass., man and woman last Saturday.

Assistant Town Prosecutor Arthur R. Ivey substituted the two count charge yesterday for the original charges of negligent homicide, evading responsibility and operating under the influence of liquor.

The new charges carry a 10-year prison term and $1,000 fine.

Prosecutor Ivey said he had ordered the investigation of the Greenwich Country Club where, state police Sgt. Louis D. Marchese said, Dunphy had been "drinking and shooting craps most of the night" prior to the accident which took the lives of Joseph Caron and his sister-in-law, Cecil Caron.

Stopped To Fix Tire

State police said the Carons were injured fatally when struck by a car while they had been stopped along Merritt Parkway to repair a flat tire.

Sgt. Marchese said that while a state trooper gave first aid to Mrs. Caron, the driver of the car drove off, running over Caron.

Dunphy was apprehended three miles from the accident scene by another state trooper.

Caron died at the scene of the accident and his sister-in-law succumbed in a hospital after her legs were amputated.

State police quoted Crean as saying Dunphy had been a guest at a private party given by a club member Friday evening.

Police Search for Woman

Riverhead, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—An ailing 58-year-old woman, told that she has only a few weeks to live, was the object today of a 13-state police alarm for allegedly passing worthless checks to pay for medical attention and pain-easing narcotics. The 100-pound, five-foot-tall woman had identified herself in seeking to open a bank account here as Grace Benincasa. Police said she had used other aliases in passing the checks. Suffolk County District Attorney Lindsay Henry said yesterday that the woman, already aware of her illness, visited Dr. M. Z. Ploski, of Riverhead, and received a prescription from him for a narcotic to ease her suffering.

Chairmen Join Forces

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The new and the old chairmen of the Democratic National Committee promised today to join forces in a militant campaign they predicted will bring victory for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket in November. Stephen A. Mitchell, 49-year-old Chicago attorney, Gov. Adlai Stevenson's man Friday who will become the new chairman, and his predecessor, Frank E. McKinney, a President Truman appointee, made the statements in advance of an executive committee meeting to recommend Mitchell's selection.

Ready for 'Aggressors'

Camp Drum, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Artillery units of the 42nd (Rainbow) Division, New York National Guard, will train their guns on "Aggressor" forces in a firing problem tonight. Army observers back from Korea watched the Division run through tactical tests yesterday under simulated combat conditions. The New York city infantrymen, supported by artillery and tanks, deployed on ranges in squad and platoon battle formation. Live ammunition was used in the efficiency test devised by army field forces.

Louisville, Ky., was named for Louis XVI of France.

Miss Schoonmaker Is Reported Recovering

The condition of Helen Schoonmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., of this city, who was injured in an accident in Mexico last Thursday, was reported as "satisfactory" today.

Miss Schoonmaker, her parents said, is in the Southwestern General Hospital, El Paso, Texas.

An Associated Press report on the mishap said she suffered a fractured leg and an injured hip in an automobile accident near Chihuahua, Mexico, and that Hazel B. Heflin, 18, of New York, was fatally injured.

Large Attendance Expected at Fair

A record attendance is expected at the Dutchess County Fair which opens in Rhinebeck Tuesday, Aug. 26, officials said today.

It was pointed out that an outstanding entertainment program had been arranged, featuring the Ice Varieties of 1952 which will be presented each night during fair week. Other entertainment includes three days of horse racing, a two-day horse show, a firemanic exhibit, the C.C. Buck Carnival and shows and a wild-life show.

Cattle shows will be presented daily throughout the week, including two new breeds, Herefords and Milking Shorthorns. There will be 50 animals in the Shorthorn exhibit, including some of the best stock of this breed in the East. Many new farm machines and late models are scheduled to be unveiled at the fair.

Officials said that thousands of dollars had been spent in building improvements, including new roofs on the Grange and Merchants buildings, new ventilating systems, grading, resurfacing, etc.

Sharp Rise Noted In Polio Over '51

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The State Health Department today reported a sharp rise in polio cases last week, compared with the corresponding 1951 week, but noted only a slight overall increase so far this year.

New cases in counties outside of New York city for the week ended Aug. 16 totaled 101, of which 24 were in Erie county. The total compared with 65 for the week ended Aug. 9 and with 53 for the corresponding period last year.

There have been 404 cases listed since Jan. 1. This compares with 390 in the comparable 1951 period.

In addition to Erie county's 24 cases last week, Onondaga reported 14, Nassau 13, Westchester 10 and Suffolk eight.

The department noted that 44 of the 57 counties outside of New York city had listed at least one case of the disease so far this year. But it said only six had more than 13 cases each. They were Orange, Nassau, Westchester, Suffolk, Erie and Onondaga.

Pat Ward Is Said To Be Tipster in M. F. Jelke Case

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye's former secretary was identified in newspaper reports today as the jilted friend who reportedly sent vice probers into cafe society circles after Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Jelke, 22, heir to a multi-million dollar margarine fortune, was charged last week with compulsory prostitution as a city-wide crackdown on $50 to $500-a-night call-girls reached its peak.

New York city newspapers today said that Patricia Ward 19, gave police the information that led to Jelke's arrest. The reports said the pretty blonde is the mysterious "Miss X" who has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness and testified this week before a grand jury.

No DA Comment

Miss Ward was hospitalized May 21 after swallowing a quantity of sleeping pills while staying overnight at Miss Raye's Hampshire house suite. Police said the girl had written a note indicating she was despondent over a broken romance.

Jelke has blamed his arrest on "a disgruntled female who feels she was jilted."

Jelke is free in $50,000 bail.

Defense attorneys for Jelke said he had served a year in the army and that his present draft status is 4-F—unacceptable physically.

staff. She will serve under Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, the general's political chief of staff.

In another development yesterday, a key Eisenhower associate told a reporter that the general's headquarters would be based in New York after the nominee flies there from Denver next Sunday for a speech the next day before the American Legion Convention.

Later in the day, however, Vandenberg issued a statement saying temporary headquarters will be set up in New York while the general is there, but that his personal headquarters will be mobile as staff members accompany the general on campaign trips.

Vandenberg said a political and strategy office will be opened in Washington by Gov. Adams and a small headquarters staff will remain in Denver, which he added would be the general's "west headquarters."

Wiley Named to Post

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—T. T. Wiley, the city's newly named traffic commissioner, has outlined some new traffic plans for New York. Wiley, acting commissioner for the past year, was named to the $20,000 a year post of commissioner yesterday by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri. Wiley's proposals include: Parking on alternate sides of streets on alternate days in five more areas of the city to aid street cleaning.

Goes to Netherlands

The Hague, The Netherlands, Aug. 20 (AP)—Irish Premier Eamon De Valera arrived here last night to be examined by a Dutch eye specialist. An Irish legation spokesman said De Valera, 70, whose sight has failed badly in recent years, will be under observation several days in a Utrecht eye clinic.

Diplomats Declare Reds Would Mislead

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP) — American diplomats said today that Russia's move to abolish the Politburo is aimed at fooling outsiders as well as Russian citizens into believing the Communist party setup is being democratized.

Experts familiar with Soviet affairs viewed the call for a Communist party congress — the first in 13 years — and the announcement of a new five-year production plan as a combination of (a) propaganda and (b) Communist party necessity.

The word "politburo," these officials noted, has become a byword for dictatorship even inside Russia.

battle, a Negro lawyer backed by insurgent west side leader Robert B. Blaikie downed Tammany incumbent Harold I. Panken in a late surge, 5,378 to 5,207, in Manhattan's 21st District. Blaikie said Julius A. Archibald's victory was "the final blow to decadent Tammany leadership."

Panken refused to concede the election to Archibald, the first Negro to seek Democratic nomination to the State Senate. Saying his figures showed he won by 239, Panken claimed a recount would void 750 or more votes for Archibald. But Panken declined to say whether he would ask a recapitulation.

Besides the 21st District, Tammany Hall lost the 7th and 11th Assembly Districts. Blaikie also claimed he had backed Orest V. Maresca, winner in the 13th Assembly District.

Bianchi Is Beaten

The Legislature's last close tie with the American Labor Party probably was ended with the primary defeat of State Senator William J. Bianchi of East Harlem by Dr. Charles Muzzicato. Bianchi irked GOP leaders by accepting and courting ALP support. He was unopposed for that party's nomination to the Senate.

Myron Albro of Lounsberry, long-time chairman of the Assembly Agriculture Committee, was defeated by the Rev. Dutton S. Peterson of Odessa for the GOP nomination in the 46th Senatorial District of Tompkins, Tioga, Chemung and Schulyer counties.

Except for Knauf, all Assembly incumbents won renomination.

Richard C. Lounsberry of Owego topped five other GOP hopefuls in Tioga county's Assembly race and George L. Ingalls outscored four others in Broome county's 2nd Assembly District.

Primary Voting

gates to the state convention where a candidate for U. S. senator will be named. The rules of the Republican party provide for nomination of a candidate for U. S. senator by the State Committee delegates and alternates to the Third Judicial convention were also named at the Primary Day election.

One "write-in" campaign which produced several votes, particularly in the town of Marbletown, for James Abernethy, present assistant district attorney, for the office of district attorney was noted in the early returns. Both Republican and Democratic voters participated in the write-in campaign. The total vote for Abernethy however was apparently small.

The Republican State Committee will meet on August 26, at 2 p. m. to name the candidate for U. S. Senator and also to nominate candidates for presidential and vice-presidential electors. One will be named for each of the new 43 congressional districts and also two electors at large. At this convention vacancies on the State Republican Committee will also be named.

Discrepancies Reported

Dierks, Ark., Aug 20 (AP)—Discrepancies in the books at the Bank of Dierks now total $132,000, State Bank Commissioner Ed I. McKinley said as the audit of the firm's shortage continued today. Meanwhile, Mrs. Opal Simmington, the assistant cashier of the little bank for the past 32 years, was reported under a doctor's care. She was arraingned Monday at Hot Springs, Ark., before U. S. Commissioner Elmer Tackett on a federal charge of making false entries. She was released in $7,500 bond.

Greenwich Club Manager Is Held

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 20 (AP)—An investigation stemming from a double automobile fatality led to the arrest of Stephen G. Crean, Jr., manager and liquor permittee of the Greenwich Country Club.

He was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Town Assistant Prosecutor Arthur R. Ivey on charges of permitting gambling in the establishment, permitting alcohol in glasses after hours, and serving liquor to a person not a member or guest of the club.

Judge J. Gerard Tobin fixed bonds for Crean's release at $1,000 and fixed next Tuesday as the trial date.

To Be Arraigned

Martin Dunphy, 50, of White Plains, N. Y., will be arraigned in town court here Sept. 17, charged with two counts of causing loss of life on the highway resulting from intoxication in connection with the deaths of a Lowell, Mass., man and woman last Saturday.

Assistant Town Prosecutor Arthur R. Ivey substituted the two count charge yesterday for the original charges of negligent homicide, evading responsibility and operating under the influence of liquor.

The new charges carry a 10-year prison term and $1,000 fine.

Prosecutor Ivey said he had ordered the investigation of the Greenwich Country Club where, state police Sgt. Louis D. Marchese said, Dunphy had been "drinking and shooting craps most of the night" prior to the accident which took the lives of Joseph Caron and his sister-in-law, Cecil Caron.

Stopped To Fix Tire

State police said the Carons were injured fatally when struck by a car while they had been stopped along Merritt Parkway to repair a flat tire.

Sgt. Marchese said that while a state trooper gave first aid to Mrs. Caron, the driver of the car drove off, running over Caron.

Dunphy was apprehended three miles from the accident scene by another state trooper.

Caron died at the scene of the accident and his sister-in-law succumbed in a hospital after her legs were amputated.

State police quoted Crean as saying Dunphy had been a guest at a private party given by a club member Friday evening.

Police Search for Woman

Riverhead, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—An ailing 58-year-old woman, told that she has only a few weeks to live, was the object today of a 13-state police alarm for allegedly passing worthless checks to pay for medical attention and pain-easing narcotics. The 100-pound, five-foot-tall woman had identified herself in seeking to open a bank account here as Grace Benincasa. Police said she had used other aliases in passing the checks. Suffolk County District Attorney Lindsay Henry said yesterday that the woman, already aware of her illness, visited Dr. M. Z. Ploski, of Riverhead, and received a prescription from him for a narcotic to ease her suffering.

Chairmen Join Forces

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The new and the old chairmen of the Democratic National Committee promised today to join forces in a militant campaign they predicted will bring victory for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket in November. Stephen A. Mitchell, 49-year-old Chicago attorney, Gov. Adlai Stevenson's man Friday who will become the new chairman, and his predecessor, Frank E. McKinney, a President Truman appointee, made the statements in advance of an executive committee meeting to recommend Mitchell's selection.

Ready for 'Aggressors'

Camp Drum, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Artillery units of the 42nd (Rainbow) Division, New York National Guard, will train their guns on "Aggressor" forces in a firing problem tonight. Army observers back from Korea watched the Division run through tactical tests yesterday under simulated combat conditions. The New York city infantrymen, supported by artillery and tanks, deployed on ranges in squad and platoon battle formation. Live ammunition was used in the efficiency test devised by army field forces.

Louisville, Ky., was named for Louis XVI of France.

Miss Schoonmaker Is Reported Recovering

The condition of Helen Schoonmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., of this city, who was injured in an accident in Mexico last Thursday, was reported as "satisfactory" today.

Miss Schoonmaker, her parents said, is in the Southwestern General Hospital, El Paso, Texas.

An Associated Press report on the mishap said she suffered a fractured leg and an injured hip in an automobile accident near Chihuahua, Mexico, and that Hazel B. Heflin, 18, of New York, was fatally injured.

Large Attendance Expected at Fair

A record attendance is expected at the Dutchess County Fair which opens in Rhinebeck Tuesday, Aug. 26, officials said today.

It was pointed out that an outstanding entertainment program had been arranged, featuring the Ice Varieties of 1952 which will be presented each night during fair week. Other entertainment includes three days of horse racing, a two-day horse show, a firemanic exhibit, the C.C. Buck Carnival and shows and a wild-life show.

Cattle shows will be presented daily throughout the week, including two new breeds, Herefords and Milking Shorthorns. There will be 50 animals in the Shorthorn exhibit, including some of the best stock of this breed in the East. Many new farm machines and late models are scheduled to be unveiled at the fair.

Officials said that thousands of dollars had been spent in building improvements, including new roofs on the Grange and Merchants buildings, new ventilating systems, grading, resurfacing, etc.

Sharp Rise Noted In Polio Over '51

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The State Health Department today reported a sharp rise in polio cases last week, compared with the corresponding 1951 week, but noted only a slight overall increase so far this year.

New cases in counties outside of New York city for the week ended Aug. 16 totaled 101, of which 24 were in Erie county. The total compared with 65 for the week ended Aug. 9 and with 53 for the corresponding period last year.

There have been 404 cases listed since Jan. 1. This compares with 390 in the comparable 1951 period.

In addition to Erie county's 24 cases last week, Onondaga reported 14, Nassau 13, Westchester 10 and Suffolk eight.

The department noted that 44 of the 57 counties outside of New York city had listed at least one case of the disease so far this year. But it said only six had more than 13 cases each. They were Orange, Nassau, Westchester, Suffolk, Erie and Onondaga.

Pat Ward Is Said To Be Tipster in M. F. Jelke Case

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye's former secretary was identified in newspaper reports today as the jilted friend who reportedly sent vice probers into cafe society circles after Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Jelke, 22, heir to a multi-million dollar margarine fortune, was charged last week with compulsory prostitution as a city-wide crackdown on $50 to $500-a-night call-girls reached its peak.

New York city newspapers today said that Patricia Ward 19, gave police the information that led to Jelke's arrest. The reports said the pretty blonde is the mysterious "Miss X" who has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness and testified this week before a grand jury.

No DA Comment

Miss Ward was hospitalized May 21 after swallowing a quantity of sleeping pills while staying overnight at Miss Raye's Hampshire house suite. Police said the girl had written a note indicating she was despondent over a broken romance.

Jelke has blamed his arrest on "a disgruntled female who feels she was jilted."

Jelke is free in $50,000 bail.

Defense attorneys for Jelke said he had served a year in the army and that his present draft status is 4-F—unacceptable physically.

staff. She will serve under Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, the general's political chief of staff.

In another development yesterday, a key Eisenhower associate told a reporter that the general's headquarters would be based in New York after the nominee flies there from Denver next Sunday for a speech the next day before the American Legion Convention.

Later in the day, however, Vandenberg issued a statement saying temporary headquarters will be set up in New York while the general is there, but that his personal headquarters will be mobile as staff members accompany the general on campaign trips.

Vandenberg said a political and strategy office will be opened in Washington by Gov. Adams and a small headquarters staff will remain in Denver, which he added would be the general's "west headquarters."

SITTING ON THE LID

Loose purse-string management in homes brings on all sorts of social and economic trouble. Poor comptrollership in business enterprises often ends in receivership courts. States and municipalities with low credit rating frequently call in new and competent fiscal managers.

But a great people, countenancing an economic philosophy of voting, taxing, spending and borrowing for 20 years, sees an inflation blow up. Washington is the scene where a multitude of economic events have taken place that would wreck families, sink corporations, cripple cities and states.

The wage and price dilemmas of 1952 are but a throw-back of what has gone before. As I have pointed out in this column for years, the $33,000,000 that Uncle Sam has had to borrow daily for two decades to make ends meet is taking its toll. How long can families, corporations, cities and states borrow before getting into serious trouble?

Inflation out of Washington is the means employed by the government to cover up the economic discrepancies there. Red figures are translated into deficit financing. Deficit financing requires increased borrowing and higher taxes. And America, in doing this, burns the candle at both ends. Money supplies increase astronomically. Debt floods the country. Prices rise and interest rates decline. It is a perfect setting for inflation.

Labor gets restive. The cost of living index rises. Wages have tc be increased and prices keep pace. Round and round the inflation spiral moves.

Everywhere in the economic world, somebody has to sit on the lid. Money comes in and money goes out. Some responsible and capable person has got to watch that money movement. Who sits on the lid in Washington? For 20 years the fiscal authorities there have condoned the voting, taxing spending and borrowing policies And see where it has led us.

We need an Andrew Mellor there. It would make little difference what party he belonged to. He would sit on the lid. Fiscal authorities today might well study his handling of federal finances 25 years ago.

Our fiscal problems being what they are, a strong Secretary of the Treasury could and should be one of the most powerful executives in Washington. A Beardsley Ruml or a Randolph Burgess in that important post would be a godsend to America. When our great country has a Federal budget in 1952-53 that is twice as high as was total national income 20 years ago, a big calibre man ought to be sitting on the lid.

Halting the inflationary tides that have been rolling since 1930 is a most difficult task. But if long range fiscal plans to stop them are not devised, then the time will come when inflation will topple of its own weight. That is the day to avoid. For America's entire economic structure is now perched on a high price, high wage, high tax and high cost pedestal.

The country's inevitable descent from this lofty height will be orderly or disorderly. If disorderly, who can guess what basic social and political changes may take place? An economic strategist of great vision, of sound knowledge and of thoroughgoing experience can take us down in orderly fashion.

The reason why I continually urge investors to prepare for the day when America will have a sounder dollar and an end of our present inflation is that I believe we may soon have capable and competent fiscal direction in Washington.

All values shot through with high prices, and high wages, are dangerous values to buy. Especially is this true where prices and wages are frozen into capital structures. A few weeks ago, I wrote about apartment buildings where rents are fantastic because costs are in the skies. That will serve as a model of values to avoid.

Before buying common stocks for investment, look into the price, wage and cost factor of the enterprises in question. If they are inflation-ridden, don't buy them. Stick to the equities that can stand on orderly deflation.

The frigate "Lutine," carrying more than $5,000,000 in gold bullion, was lost in 1799, with the biggest loss ever suffered by Lloyd's of London. A bell from the frigrate hangs in Lloyd's building as a constant reminder of the huge loss, being sounded once when a Lloyd's insured ship is lost and twice when a ship has been recovered.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Alertness Pays in Any Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"How was I to know who had the jack of clubs?" asked West when today's hand was over.

West should have known, and maybe you can put yourself in his place to see just how he could tell.

West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East won with the king. East promptly returned the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace. West had the impression from this play that his partner held the jack of clubs.

West thought that it didn't matter very much, but he signalled encouragement with the nine of clubs.

South promptly began on the trumps by laying down the ace and king, after which he drove out East's jack. West discarded low clubs on the second and third round of trumps.

East got out of his hand safely by leading his fourth trump, and South won with the ten. South now led the seven of clubs, and West made the mistake of playing low on the theory that his partner held the jack.

This gave declarer a chance to win in dummy with the ten of clubs and return a diamond. South was thus enabled to make a trick with his king of diamonds, and thus to fulfill his contract.

If West had known that South held the jack of clubs, he would have taken the second club trick with his king. South would then never get to dummy, and would eventually have to lead diamonds from his own hand.

How could West tell who had the jack of clubs?

West knew that he had signalled encouragement for the clubs as early as possible. If East had held the jack of clubs, he would have led it promptly on being given his trump trick. East's failure to lead the jack of clubs at that time should have made it clear that he did not hold it. It should therefore have been easy for West to work out the correct play.

Eaton Completes Second Insurance Training Course

Herman J. Eaton, 42 Main street, has successfully completed the required standards for Part II of the Life Underwriters Training Course, an advanced professional study course available to qualified life underwriters.

Eaton completed the first section of the Life Underwriters Training Course two years ago. He has just completed the advanced second course with honors, entitling him to confer and advise on matters pertaining to estate analysis, business insurance and pension plans.

The courses are conducted by the Association of Life Underwriters under the standards of instruction and practical application of principles equivalent to college training courses.

The course, which Eaton attended at Albany Law School, carries with it the designation of L.U.T.C. graduate.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Alertness Pays in Any Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"How was I to know who had the jack of clubs?" asked West when today's hand was over.

West should have known, and maybe you can put yourself in his place to see just how he could tell.

West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East won with the king. East promptly returned the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace. West had the impression from this play that his partner held the jack of clubs.

West thought that it didn't matter very much, but he signalled encouragement with the nine of clubs.

South promptly began on the trumps by laying down the ace and king, after which he drove out East's jack. West discarded low clubs on the second and third round of trumps.

East got out of his hand safely by leading his fourth trump, and South won with the ten. South now led the seven of clubs, and West made the mistake of playing low on the theory that his partner held the jack.

This gave declarer a chance to win in dummy with the ten of clubs and return a diamond. South was thus enabled to make a trick with his king of diamonds, and thus to fulfill his contract.

If West had known that South held the jack of clubs, he would have taken the second club trick with his king. South would then never get to dummy, and would eventually have to lead diamonds from his own hand.

How could West tell who had the jack of clubs?

West knew that he had signalled encouragement for the clubs as early as possible. If East had held the jack of clubs, he would have led it promptly on being given his trump trick. East's failure to lead the jack of clubs at that time should have made it clear that he did not hold it. It should therefore have been easy for West to work out the correct play.

To Present Eastern Dances

Noami Aleh-Leaf, who will present a program of dances of the Bible and Near East at 8:45 p. m., Saturday, Aug. 23, on the stage of the Woodstock School.

Noami Aleh-Leaf Dances Saturday

Woodstock, Aug. 19 — Noami Aleh-Leaf, Jerusalem born dancer, will present a picturesque group of dances from Palestine—Arab, Yemenite, Bedouin, Bucharan and the modern Jewish pioneers as well as the Near East generally, Saturday, at the Woodstock School, at 8:45 p. m. A major portion of her program will be devoted to dances based on Biblical themes.

Noami Aleh-Lerf's costumes, acquired in the course of her extensive travels or based on painstaking research, complete the picture of the colorful life of the Near East which she presents in her dances. She also uses native musical instruments and sings the songs of the various people she portrays.

Among the dances which she will present are a Yemenite Ceremonial Song, a Hebrew Love Song, and Awake, O Zion, which Walter Terry, dance critic of the New York Herald Tribune described as "a highly dramatic and moving use of dance and the spoken word made especialy effective by the dancer's ability to speak and more without breathless effort."

Also included will be a Persian Song, Fly Nightingale, a group of Persian melodies titled Esther and Hagar in the Desert. One of her most charming numbers will be the Flower Vendor which tells the story of a simple Arab peasant girl who attempts to sell her flowers at the bazaar in Tiberias. When cajolery and anger fail her she tries her charms.

Noami Aleh-Leaf has been acclaimed for her performances in Europe, Mexico, Cuba, Canada, Palestine and in the United States.

Minty Delights Large Audience

Woodstock, Aug. 20—At the Maverick Concert last Sunday, Miss Dorothy Minty, violinist and and a charming performer delighted a large audience with the classic Handel Sonata for violin and piano, No. 4. She maintained the melodic line throughout, her articulation was clear, her tones resonant including the more rapid passages. In this sonata Joseph Wolman, pianist, gave a sensitive reading in the piano part.

Chamber music, using only strings, is authentic chamber music in its true meaning when musicians, professional or otherwise played of an evening for their own enjoyment. Such was the feeling one had listening to the String Trio, C minor, Opus 9, of Beethoven, performed ably by Dorothy Minty, Cynthis Eddy, cello, and Frank Mele, viola. They played as one. The adagio con espressione was treated delicately, although Beethoven here, was a trifle boring. The third movement, the Allegro molto e vivace on the other hand was a delight to listen to and the Trio played it beautifully.

The last number, the "Dumky" Piano Trio by Dvorak, with the trio composed this time of Miss Minty, Miss Eddy and Wolman, gave a fine rendition of the work. Rhapsodic in style it was an emotional experience. Miss Eddy was outstanding, giving such depth of feeling and soaring to such heights that she left the audience breathless.

Next week William Kroll, violinist, will return to the Maverick after a two weeks' absence at Tanglewood, and will play for the last three concerts. Other artists on the program will be Inez Carroll, piano, Barbara Kroll, viola, Cynthia Eddy, cello. They will perform the Cesar Franck Sonata for violin and piano and the Brahms Piano Quartet, C minor.

Entries Are Invited For Berkshire Show

Woodstock, Aug. 20 — Entries for the Berkshire Art Show to be held at the Berkshire Museum, Pittsfield, Mass., from October 1 through 19, have been invited from all artists, amateur or professional, who live at least one month of the year within 60 miles of Pittsfield.

This circle includes Woodstock, it was stated. Entries must be brought to the Berkshire Museum between September 9 and 17. Application blanks for membership in the Berkshire Art Association and for submitting pictures for the show are available at the Berkshire Museum and other museums in the 60-mile area.

Bullard Exhibition Will Open August 23

Woodstock, Aug. 20 — Marion Bullard, whose paintings will be shown at Parnassus Square Galleries August 23 through September 6, occupied a unique position among the first group of artists who came to this village. Coming here about 1910 to study landscape with Birge Harrison and his then assistant, John F. Carlson, she soon found she preferred to paint by herself. She was one of the group that settled in the barns at the Rock City corners and, with Henry Lee McFee, George Macrum, Andrew Dasburg and others, showed in joint exhibitions which they called the Rock City Group.

The exhibition will open with a reception Saturday from 4 to 7 p. m. to which the public is invited.

Presser Show Opens At Town House Friday

Woodstock, Aug. 19—A one-man show of paintings by Josef Presser will open Friday, August 22, at the Town House. Included in the show will be several portrait studies, one of Mrs. Irving Brown of this village, and Mrs. James Boring of New York. Also to be shown are several industrial studies, portraits of children and a number of murals.

Preser has used the mediums of tempera, casein, conte crayon and oil. The show will remain on view through September 5.

Village Notes

Woodstock, August 19—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cohen, of Millburn, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alpern last weekend.

Mrs. Jacqueline Marcault, of New York, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. van Rijn. Mrs. Marcault, a noted pianist, is planning to present a concert at the Maverick in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perkins, Jr., will spend next weekend in Schenectady.

William Moncure will leave to spend a week in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley, and their daughter Terri, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Norman Steinhilber, of Flushing, L. I.

Mrs. Dorothy Cantway and her daughter Winkie, of Venezuela, are spending the summer in this village. Mrs. Cantway is the sister of Bob Browning, radio commentator.

'Petticoat Fever' Fast Moving Play, Delights Audience

Woodstock, Aug. 20—A sprightly piece of theatre nonsense, Petticoat Fever, the next to the last presentation of the season which opened Tuesday night at the Playhouse, moves swiftly through the intricacies of Arctic temperatures mixed with much more heated human ones. Aside from its hilarious lines, the play depends largely upon the personable charm of the players for its appeal. This group has it in large measure.

Gordon Mills is an engaging young wireless operator, Dascom Disnmore, weakened with ennui after two lonely years on the coast of Labrador, ready to succumb to an acute attack of a not too strong fever. After the arrival of the ravishing Ethel Campion, nimbly portrayed by Jane Lloyd-Jones, and her fiance Sir James Feneon, who is more concerned with his political speeches than love on an ice-floe, Dascom's fever begins to rise. Franklyn Fox is the redoubtable Sir James who views the possibility of a winter in Labrador with consternation after his plane is forced down near the wireless station on a November afternoon.

One beautiful woman dropping in on Dascom after long months of nothing more to do than single games of darts, tit-tat-toe and flying paper airplanes, might have been enough to send Dascom off balance. But his erstwhile, Clara Wilson, an acquaintance of two years back, turns up determined to marry him. Viola Harris plays the role of the slightly daffy Clara with the skill of an accomplished comedienne.

Dinner Starts Fun

Aided by his man Kima, played with a perfect mixture of impassive dignity and twinkling amusement by John Susumu Hirata, Dascom attempts to keep his guests from leaving. He also endeavors to turn the Rev. Arthur Shapham from his door, to prevent the hasty marriage of Ethel and Sir James. Richard Shankland as the baffled cleric becomes riotously mixed up in about as tangled a wedding ceremony as ever a good minister encountered.

When Dascom decides to give a dinner party with all the trimmings of civilization, the evening's fun begins, complete with floor show, even if the dancing girls did look as though the bear rugs had gotten up off the floor to jitterbug. Nina Osipow and Sally McCahill, as Little Seal and Snow Bird respectively brought down the house. Choreography was by Lily Turner. Alfred Agostino was a creditably blustry Captain Landry.

Under the able direction of Robert H. Harris, Petticoat Fever keeps a good fast pace with plenty of laughs and hilarious moments.

Junior Baseball Classic Scheduled Tonight at Stadium

First Arclight Game Here This Season

Either of two topflight junior pitching prospects—Jerry Bechtold and George Telepas—will draw the starting assignment for the Kingston Juniors against the Brooklyn Dodgers' Stars of Tomorrow in the renewal of the series tonight at municipal stadium.

The 8:30 p. m. contest will be the first time the stadium floodlights have been turned on for baseball this season.

Jack Dalton, a strong-armed right hander who is undefeated on the current Stars of Tomorrow tour—will start for the visitors.

Coaches Tommy Maines and Eddie Bahl sent the local players through a drill under the lights last night and the probable starting lineup was announced after the workout.

The tentative array scheduled to open against the crack college and high school stars is a bit above junior age in many respects but they are being used because the Dodgers will be throwing college players against the locals.

Veteran Infield

Backing up Telepas and Bechtold—and either lad is capable of pitching a strong game—will be an infield quartet made up of Ronnie Mauro at first base; George Glaser, second; Nippy Jones, third, and Tom Carlino at shortstop. This is an all-City League quartet.

Bob Shelightner will be behind the plate, with "Link" Crosby, Joe Norton and Alan Vogt scheduled for outfield duty.

The Stars have nearly 20 talented youngsters who survived trials involving more than 500 metropolitan district candidates.

Since June the stars have received the expert coaching of the Brooklyn Dodger staff.

Two of the Stars—the famous O'Brien basketball twins of Seattle University — Jack and Eddie—are among the sparkplugs of the team on the current tour. Both are slugging better than .400 and fielding in sensational style.

A. B. "Turk" Karam of 1947 Kingston Dodger fame is in charge of the tour, with Art Dede and Buck Lai serving as coaches.

The contest is sponsored by the Recreation Department of Kingston and pre-game ticket sales and contributions have already assured its success.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The balance of power in the post-war baseball cycle has swung to the National League, but there is ample evidence the senior circuit still suffers from World Series jitters.

The high-riding Dodgers are completely baffled by great pitchers and stymied by the likes of Al Corwin, who couldn't get them out in the minors. Robin Roberts and Sal Maglie have only to toss their gloves on the field and the Gowanus Bums go into a deep freeze.

Our Yankees would lose seven out of ten to their legendary predecessors, but they have pitching quality in Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Eddie Lopat. The latter has been off the beam but may recover his form by World Series time. Assuming, of course, the Yankees make it.

Against either the Giants or Dodgers, you'd have to go with the Yankees. Sure, the National League is making a remarkable comeback in the All Star game but the record book is against them in the fall classic. There is nothing on the horizon, either, that would indicate they have hired new script writers. Not if the Brooklyn Dodgers are to be their standard bearers in 1952.

The 1952 Yankees couldn't carry the bags for the 1927 and later Bronx Bombers, but they retain one significant characteristic . . . They can still win the "big one." The Boston Red Sox knocked them over nine times at Fenway Park last season, but when the chips were down in the last two games, you know who won. And in Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi, they still are the best one-two combination in baseball.

Can you imagine the 1927 Yankees cavorting against the present day American League field? The Yankees who, among other things, set an American League record in winning 110 games. And many wonder, how they managed to lose as many as 44. They beat a great Pittsburgh Pirate squad four in a row in the World Series.

Gil MacDougald was the Yanks' top hitter of 1951 with an average of .306. The 1927 team, as a whole, did better than that—it had an average of .307.

The Yankees' Yogi Berra led the team in runs batted in with 88. On the 1927 team, Lou Gehrig drove in twice that many—175. There were eight men in the American League in 1927 who drove in more than 100 runs, and the Yankees had half of them in Gehrig, Babe Ruth, Bob Meusel and Tony Lazzeri.

Five of the regulars batted better than .300. Gehrig hit .373, Ruth .356; Earl Combs .356, Meusel .337 and Lazzeri .309. It was in 1927 that Ruth set his home run record with 60. He and Gehrig formed the most devastating one-two punch in baseball history.

Between them they hit for 884 total bases, 447 for Lou and 417 for the Babe. Gehrig had 52 doubles, 18 triples and 47 homers. Ruth hit 29 two-baggers, eight triples and 60 home runs. Combs, the leadoff man, got 231 hits, which was high for that year, and scored 137 runs.

In winning 110 games for a percentage of .719 they edged the second place Athletics by 19 games; led the league with 158 homers.

The infield had Gehrig, the Iron Horse, at first; Tony Lazzeri on second; Mark Koenig, who hit .500 in the 1927 series, at shortstop and Jumpin' Joe Dugan, an all-time hot corner guardian, at third. The outfield was one of the strongest of all time. Meusel of the strong arm was in left; Combs, the Kentucky greyhound in center and the one and only Ruth, in right.

Waite Hoyt led a staff of brilliant pitchers with a record of 22 and 7. Wilcy Moore, an all-time relief great, won 19 and lost 7, Herb Pennock copped 19 and 8; Urban Shocker, 18 and 6, and George Pipgras, 10 and 3.

But the greatness of the 1927 club dims in one aspect—salaries. True, the Babe earned $70,000 but the others were pikers compared to today's dandies. Pennock got $15,000; Meusel and Shocker got $13,000; Dugan $12,000; Hoyt and Reuther $11,000. Gehrig, believe it or not, drew only $8,000. Chicken feed among the Yankees these days.

Yes, the Yankees have changed, but they still have the old annoying habits (to the National League). They seldom lose a World Series.

Indians Win Esopus Little League 2nd Half

FISHING RODEO WINNERS DISPLAY PRIZES

Acting-Mayor Joe Kelly looks on as the three prize winners in Monday's Fishing Rodeo display the awards made by Better Fishing, Inc., which sponsored the fishing tournament in conjunction with the Department of Recreation. Giant Victory Over Dodgers Gives Them Title

Championship Series To Start on Sunday

The revitalized Indians who were transferred from doormats of the first round to champions of the second half in the Town of Esopus Little League can thank the Giants a large assist.

The Giants enabled the Indians to back in comfortably yesterday when they knocked off the last challenger—the Dodgers—10 to 7 in a free-swinging contest.

Although games remain to be played to complete the second half schedule, the Indians are safely in with four straight wins and no defeats and the championship playoff gets under way on Sunday between the Indians and the Dodgers.

A five-run rally in the fourth inning settled the issue in favor of the Giants. They clubbed Ron Terpening and Bill Holmes for 11 safeties, while Carl Van Wert held the Dodgers to six hits and fanned 12.

Watson, Van Wert, Thomas and Barnes each had two hits for the Giants. P. Hill clouted a single and double for the losers.

Kerse, Thomas, Counsil, Van Wert, Barnes, Hill and Vitarius pounded doubles.

Graham Meets Basilio Tonight

Chicago, Aug. 20 (AP) — Billy Graham of New York, a battle-hardened veteran of 112 scraps who considers himself the uncrowned welterweight champion, will risk prestige tonight against rugged Carmen Basilio.

They will square off in a nationally televised (CBS) 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium beginning at 10 p. m. (EDT).

Graham, 29, has been installed a 3-1 favorite over the tough Canastota, N. Y., onion-grower who is 25. Both will weigh near 147.

Stranahan, Ward Still in Amateur

Seattle, Aug. 20 (AP)—The double squeeze hits the field in the Men's National Amateur Golf championship today but such standout challengers as Frank Stranahan, Harvie Ward, Jr., and Charlie Coe are expected to survive the crush.

Sixty-four players remained in the field this morning, awaiting the day's double round.

By nightfall at the Seattle Country Club, they will have whittled each other down to a select 16.

Stranahan, Toledo's two-time British Amateur winner, who got past a tough one when he beat Chuck Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich., yesterday 3 and 2, faced Del Walker of Long Beach, runner-up for the Southern California title last year.

Ward, the Tarheel from Tarboro, N. C., and the reigning British Amateur champion, teed off against a Seattle golfer, Erv Parent. He beat Tim Holland, New York, 4 and 3 yesterday.

Coe, the 1949 U. S. champion, from Oklahoma City, met attorney golfer John Levinson of Niles, Mich. Coe belted out a fellow townsman, Russell Brown, 5 and 4.

Two major upsets were registered late yesterday.

The first came when Robert W. Kuntz of Larchmont, N. Y., former Yale captain and U. S. Marine, eliminated Joe Gagliardi of Mamoroneck, N. Y., runner-up for the crown at Bethlehem, Pa., last year. Kuntz won, one up.

The second came when Billy Jo Patton of Morganton, N. C., ended the one-day joy of 18-year-old Ira Gruber, Duke University star from Pottstown, Pa. Gruber made the headlines in the first round when he defeated the defending champion, another Billy Jo, last named Maxwell, on the 21st hole. Gruber bowed to the next Billy Jo, however, 3 and 2.

Walker cup player Jimmy McHale, Mamaroneck, with a 2 and one win over Canada's Percy Clogg yesterday, was favored today over Claude Reed, Denton, Tex.

Newark, N. J.—Texas Gonzalez, 152½, East Orange, outpointed Joe Tomasello, 150½, Matawan, N. J., 8.

Boulevards Trip Merchants, 6-5 For First Victory in 2nd Round

Colonial Merchants' designs on the second half pennant in the City Baseball League suffered a severe jolt yesterday when Boulevard Gulf rallied for two runs in the seventh for a 6 to 5 squeaker.

The BG triumph was their first in the second round. They have lost three.

The Merchants slipped behind Jones Dairy to third place, a game behind the league-leading Wiltwyck Motors. The Motormen have a test of their own scheduled Thursday with the resurgent Chez Emile squad.

George Magley squared his season's record at 2 and 2 in copping a loosely played contest from Angie Fondino, who now stands 2 and 4.

Boulevards built up a 4-0 lead before the Merchants scored their first run in the fifth. Two in the sixth and another pair in the top of the seventh gave the Merchants a 5-4 margin when Boulevards came to bat in their half.

Schryver Delivers

Bill Tierney led off with a walk and went to second on a wild pitch. Fondino appeared to be out of the woods when he got Joe Shattan on a fly to short right and Felipe tossed out Alan Vogt on a hopper in front of the plate. But Barringer pounded a triple to deep and Fred Schryver followed with a game-winning single to right.

Schryver was the batting star for the Gulfmen, rapping a double and two singles. Barringer had a single in addition to his triple.

THE CHAMP

Little Selina Rice of Hutton Park had quite a time for herself pitching her squad to a 58-6 squeaker over Hasbrouck Park in the finale of the park softball playoffs.

The correspondent said Selina was "delivering in her usual form, allowing only 17 hits and striking out eight."

But there is more to come. She only hit a homer, three doubles and five singles in 10 trips to the plate! And her teammates pounded B. Leverenz for only 60 hits!

Chagrined because Hasbrouck Park grabbed a 2-0 lead their first time at bat, the Hutton gals went ahead 3-2 in their half and then the fun really started. Thirteen runs crossed the plate in the second inning.

The frolicking reached gay heights in the fifth when 15 Hutton runners struggled across the plate and a dozen more staggered home in the sixth.

There were a few other heavy timber wielders among them Betty Schoonmaker, Fran Cragan, Judy Argulewicz and Beatrice Newkirk. There were no errors reported for either side (?).

The score:

Harness Program At Dutchess Fair

More than 50 fast trotters and pacers will compete in the eight-card harness racing program scheduled for the Dutchess County Fair next week, Frank Cookingham, race secretary said today.

The total purse of $4,250 has attracted some of the outstanding horses in the east.

Two races, the 2.25 pace and the Springbrook Club stakes are scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 26, opening day of the meet. Wednesday's card includes the 2.25 trot, the 2.18 trot and the 2.21 pace. Races on Thursday are the 2.18 pace, the 2.30 pace and 2.21 trot.

Each race will consist of two heats and plans call for starting each day's card by 2 p. m. and completing it by 4 p. m.

Other sports events at the fair include the year's outstanding show on skates Ice Varieties of 1952, and a two-day horse and pony show, with some classes slated under the lights on Thursday, Aug. 29.

Men's Night

Wiltwyck Golf Club will stage another Men's Night Thursday. Informal golf matches are scheduled in the afternoon and will be followed by dinner at 8 p. m. All club members are invited.

Rotary Upsets Legion In FYL Contest, 6-2

Rotary upset the championship American Legion squad, 6 to 2, yesterday in a Fraternal Youth League contest in which the Legion did not have a base runner after the first inning.

Bob Mannello's first-inning single was the only Legion safety off the combined offerings of Jim Uhl and Jack Houghtaling.

The Rotary needed only three hits off Bob Maines and Frank Reis to score six runs.

The loss was the Legion's second in eight starts which completed their regular schedule. They copped the regular season title last week and were biding their time for the playoffs.

The Rotarians went ahead 3-2 in the fifth and climaxed their day's work with a trio of runs in the fifth.

No player on either side collected more than one safety. Jack Houghtaling, Jim Uhl and John Culjak picked up the Rotary hits.

Leroy 'Pappy' Wells First Kingston Pilot to Finish Albany-New York Marathon; Johnson Goes to Haverstraw

Leroy "Pappy" Wells and Bert Johnson, two Kingston otuboard pilots, achieved greater success than earlier reports had indicated in Sunday's Albany-to-New York outboard marathon.

Competing in his first race, the 45-year-old Wells finished among the first ten in the Class A in his Miller A-hull craft. He thus became the first Kingston starter who ever completed the marathon.

Johnson was running in fifth place in Class B when he stopped to refuel at Poughkeepsie, reaching the Bridge City in 1 hour 50 minutes. He had moved into the lead by the time he reached Haverstraw Bay where he was swamped and later picked up by the Coast Guard.

Johnson was running strongly all the way and appeared to have a chance to become Kingston's first winner in the outboard classic.

Having Great Season

Wells' great showing climaxed a great season for the Hasbrouck avenue trucking operator who has achieved great success in two and a half months as an outboard pilot.

Wells claims 19 trophies in races this season and placed second in the Regional II Class A regatta staged by the American Power Boat Association. He has qualified for the Aug. 31 sectionals at Rochester and is eligible for the National Class A finals in California later in the year.

The Miller A-hull craft operated by Wells is the only one of its kind in these parts. He admits having been interested in "boats" for a long time but not until this year did he decide to enter the competitive field.

Great Record

Wells scored in the U. S. championships at Rochester in June. He won first places at Cranberry Lake in July where he broke the speed record in beating five of the leading point scorers in the area. Later successes came at Saugerties and at Marlborough where he gained three wins with two boats. He did not compete in the annual Kingston Power Boat Association Regatta because there were no races for his style of craft.

Like Wells, Bert Johnson has advanced steadily in the outboard field and bigger things can be expected from him in the future.

Johnson was running nearly six minutes ahead of the field when he ran into trouble in the choppy water and high waves of Haverstraw Bay, a traditional booby trap for the Driftwood Derby pilots.

Bechtold and Telepas Kingston Choices Against Stars of Tomorrow

Junior Baseball Classic Scheduled Tonight at Stadium

First Arclight Game Here This Season

Either of two topflight junior pitching prospects—Jerry Bechtold and George Telepas—will draw the starting assignment for the Kingston Juniors against the Brooklyn Dodgers' Stars of Tomorrow in the renewal of the series tonight at municipal stadium.

The 8:30 p. m. contest will be the first time the stadium floodlights have been turned on for baseball this season.

Jack Dalton, a strong-armed right hander who is undefeated on the current Stars of Tomorrow tour—will start for the visitors.

Coaches Tommy Maines and Eddie Bahl sent the local players through a drill under the lights last night and the probable starting lineup was announced after the workout.

The tentative array scheduled to open against the crack college and high school stars is a bit above junior age in many respects but they are being used because the Dodgers will be throwing college players against the locals.

Veteran Infield

Backing up Telepas and Bechtold—and either lad is capable of pitching a strong game—will be an infield quartet made up of Ronnie Mauro at first base; George Glaser, second; Nippy Jones, third, and Tom Carlino at shortstop. This is an all-City League quartet.

Bob Shelightner will be behind the plate, with "Link" Crosby, Joe Norton and Alan Vogt scheduled for outfield duty.

The Stars have nearly 20 talented youngsters who survived trials involving more than 500 metropolitan district candidates.

Since June the stars have received the expert coaching of the Brooklyn Dodger staff.

Two of the Stars—the famous O'Brien basketball twins of Seattle University — Jack and Eddie—are among the sparkplugs of the team on the current tour. Both are slugging better than .400 and fielding in sensational style.

A. B. "Turk" Karam of 1947 Kingston Dodger fame is in charge of the tour, with Art Dede and Buck Lai serving as coaches.

The contest is sponsored by the Recreation Department of Kingston and pre-game ticket sales and contributions have already assured its success.

In winning 110 games for a percentage of .719 they edged the second place Athletics by 19 games; led the league with 158 homers.

The infield had Gehrig, the Iron Horse, at first; Tony Lazzeri on second; Mark Koenig, who hit .500 in the 1927 series, at shortstop and Jumpin' Joe Dugan, an all-time hot corner guardian, at third. Waite Hoyt led a staff of brilliant pitchers with a record of 22 and 7. Wilcy Moore, an all-time relief great, won 19 and lost 7, Herb Pennock copped 19 and 8; Urban Shocker, 18 and 6, and George Pipgras, 10 and 3.

But the greatness of the 1927 club dims in one aspect—salaries. True, the Babe earned $70,000 but the others were pikers compared to today's dandies. Pennock got $15,000; Meusel and Shocker got $13,000; Dugan $12,000; Hoyt and Reuther $11,000. Gehrig, believe it or not, drew only $8,000. Chicken feed among the Yankees these days.

Yes, the Yankees have changed, but they still have the old annoying habits (to the National League). They seldom lose a World Series.

Indians Win Esopus Little League 2nd Half

FISHING RODEO WINNERS DISPLAY PRIZES

Acting-Mayor Joe Kelly looks on as the three prize winners in Monday's Fishing Rodeo display the awards made by Better Fishing, Inc., which sponsored the fishing tournament in conjunction with the Department of Recreation. Giant Victory Over Dodgers Gives Them Title

Championship Series To Start on Sunday

The revitalized Indians who were transferred from doormats of the first round to champions of the second half in the Town of Esopus Little League can thank the Giants a large assist.

The Giants enabled the Indians to back in comfortably yesterday when they knocked off the last challenger—the Dodgers—10 to 7 in a free-swinging contest.

Although games remain to be played to complete the second half schedule, the Indians are safely in with four straight wins and no defeats and the championship playoff gets under way on Sunday between the Indians and the Dodgers.

A five-run rally in the fourth inning settled the issue in favor of the Giants. They clubbed Ron Terpening and Bill Holmes for 11 safeties, while Carl Van Wert held the Dodgers to six hits and fanned 12.

Watson, Van Wert, Thomas and Barnes each had two hits for the Giants. P. Hill clouted a single and double for the losers.

Kerse, Thomas, Counsil, Van Wert, Barnes, Hill and Vitarius pounded doubles.

Graham Meets Basilio Tonight

Chicago, Aug. 20 (AP) — Billy Graham of New York, a battle-hardened veteran of 112 scraps who considers himself the uncrowned welterweight champion, will risk prestige tonight against rugged Carmen Basilio.

They will square off in a nationally televised (CBS) 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium beginning at 10 p. m. (EDT).

Graham, 29, has been installed a 3-1 favorite over the tough Canastota, N. Y., onion-grower who is 25. Both will weigh near 147.

Stranahan, Ward Still in Amateur

Seattle, Aug. 20 (AP)—The double squeeze hits the field in the Men's National Amateur Golf championship today but such standout challengers as Frank Stranahan, Harvie Ward, Jr., and Charlie Coe are expected to survive the crush.

Sixty-four players remained in the field this morning, awaiting the day's double round.

By nightfall at the Seattle Country Club, they will have whittled each other down to a select 16.

Stranahan, Toledo's two-time British Amateur winner, who got past a tough one when he beat Chuck Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich., yesterday 3 and 2, faced Del Walker of Long Beach, runner-up for the Southern California title last year.

Ward, the Tarheel from Tarboro, N. C., and the reigning British Amateur champion, teed off against a Seattle golfer, Erv Parent. He beat Tim Holland, New York, 4 and 3 yesterday.

Coe, the 1949 U. S. champion, from Oklahoma City, met attorney golfer John Levinson of Niles, Mich. Coe belted out a fellow townsman, Russell Brown, 5 and 4.

Two major upsets were registered late yesterday.

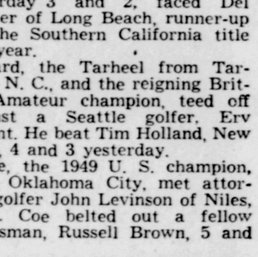

The first came when Robert W. Kuntz of Larchmont, N. Y., former Yale captain and U. S. Marine, eliminated Joe Gagliardi of Mamoroneck, N. Y., runner-up for the crown at Bethlehem, Pa., last year. Kuntz won, one up.

The second came when Billy Jo Patton of Morganton, N. C., ended the one-day joy of 18-year-old Ira Gruber, Duke University star from Pottstown, Pa. Gruber made the headlines in the first round when he defeated the defending champion, another Billy Jo, last named Maxwell, on the 21st hole. Gruber bowed to the next Billy Jo, however, 3 and 2.

Walker cup player Jimmy McHale, Mamaroneck, with a 2 and one win over Canada's Percy Clogg yesterday, was favored today over Claude Reed, Denton, Tex.

Newark, N. J.—Texas Gonzalez, 152½, East Orange, outpointed Joe Tomasello, 150½, Matawan, N. J., 8.

Boulevards Trip Merchants, 6-5 For First Victory in 2nd Round

Colonial Merchants' designs on the second half pennant in the City Baseball League suffered a severe jolt yesterday when Boulevard Gulf rallied for two runs in the seventh for a 6 to 5 squeaker.

The BG triumph was their first in the second round. They have lost three.

The Merchants slipped behind Jones Dairy to third place, a game behind the league-leading Wiltwyck Motors. The Motormen have a test of their own scheduled Thursday with the resurgent Chez Emile squad.

George Magley squared his season's record at 2 and 2 in copping a loosely played contest from Angie Fondino, who now stands 2 and 4.

Boulevards built up a 4-0 lead before the Merchants scored their first run in the fifth. Two in the sixth and another pair in the top of the seventh gave the Merchants a 5-4 margin when Boulevards came to bat in their half.

Schryver Delivers

Bill Tierney led off with a walk and went to second on a wild pitch, Fondino appeared to be out of the woods when he got Joe Shattan on a fly to short right and Felipe tossed out Alan Vogt on a hopper in front of the plate. But Barringer pounded a triple to deep and Fred Schryver followed with a game-winning single to right.

Schryver was the batting star for the Gulfmen, rapping a double and two singles. Barringer had a single in addition to his triple.

THE CHAMP

Little Selina Rice of Hutton Park had quite a time for herself pitching her squad to a 58-6 squeaker over Hasbrouck Park in the finale of the park softball playoffs.

The correspondent said Selina was "delivering in her usual form, allowing only 17 hits and striking out eight."

But there is more to come. She only hit a homer, three doubles and five singles in 10 trips to the plate! And her teammates pounded B. Leverenz for only 60 hits!

Chagrined because Hasbrouck Park grabbed a 2-0 lead their first time at bat, the Hutton gals went ahead 3-2 in their half and then the fun really started. Thirteen runs crossed the plate in the second inning.

The frolicking reached gay heights in the fifth when 15 Hutton runners struggled across the plate and a dozen more staggered home in the sixth.

There were a few other heavy timber wielders among them Betty Schoonmaker, Fran Cragan, Judy Argulewicz and Beatrice Newkirk. There were no errors reported for either side (?).

The score:

Harness Program At Dutchess Fair

More than 50 fast trotters and pacers will compete in the eight-card harness racing program scheduled for the Dutchess County Fair next week, Frank Cookingham, race secretary said today.

The total purse of $4,250 has attracted some of the outstanding horses in the east.

Two races, the 2.25 pace and the Springbrook Club stakes are scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 26, opening day of the meet. Wednesday's card includes the 2.25 trot, the 2.18 trot and the 2.21 pace. Races on Thursday are the 2.18 pace, the 2.30 pace and 2.21 trot.

Each race will consist of two heats and plans call for starting each day's card by 2 p. m. and completing it by 4 p. m.

Other sports events at the fair include the year's outstanding show on skates Ice Varieties of 1952, and a two-day horse and pony show, with some classes slated under the lights on Thursday, Aug. 29.

Men's Night

Wiltwyck Golf Club will stage another Men's Night Thursday. Informal golf matches are scheduled in the afternoon and will be followed by dinner at 8 p. m. All club members are invited.

Rotary Upsets Legion In FYL Contest, 6-2

Rotary upset the championship American Legion squad, 6 to 2, yesterday in a Fraternal Youth League contest in which the Legion did not have a base runner after the first inning.

Bob Mannello's first-inning single was the only Legion safety off the combined offerings of Jim Uhl and Jack Houghtaling.

The Rotary needed only three hits off Bob Maines and Frank Reis to score six runs.

The loss was the Legion's second in eight starts which completed their regular schedule. They copped the regular season title last week and were biding their time for the playoffs.

The Rotarians went ahead 3-2 in the fifth and climaxed their day's work with a trio of runs in the fifth.

No player on either side collected more than one safety. Jack Houghtaling, Jim Uhl and John Culjak picked up the Rotary hits.

Leroy 'Pappy' Wells First Kingston Pilot to Finish Albany-New York Marathon; Johnson Goes to Haverstraw

Leroy "Pappy" Wells and Bert Johnson, two Kingston otuboard pilots, achieved greater success than earlier reports had indicated in Sunday's Albany-to-New York outboard marathon.

Competing in his first race, the 45-year-old Wells finished among the first ten in the Class A in his Miller A-hull craft. He thus became the first Kingston starter who ever completed the marathon.

Johnson was running in fifth place in Class B when he stopped to refuel at Poughkeepsie, reaching the Bridge City in 1 hour 50 minutes. He had moved into the lead by the time he reached Haverstraw Bay where he was swamped and later picked up by the Coast Guard.

Johnson was running strongly all the way and appeared to have a chance to become Kingston's first winner in the outboard classic.

Having Great Season

Wells' great showing climaxed a great season for the Hasbrouck avenue trucking operator who has achieved great success in two and a half months as an outboard pilot.

Wells claims 19 trophies in races this season and placed second in the Regional II Class A regatta staged by the American Power Boat Association. He has qualified for the Aug. 31 sectionals at Rochester and is eligible for the National Class A finals in California later in the year.

The Miller A-hull craft operated by Wells is the only one of its kind in these parts. He admits having been interested in "boats" for a long time but not until this year did he decide to enter the competitive field.

Great Record

Wells scored in the U. S. championships at Rochester in June. He won first places at Cranberry Lake in July where he broke the speed record in beating five of the leading point scorers in the area. Later successes came at Saugerties and at Marlborough where he gained three wins with two boats. He did not compete in the annual Kingston Power Boat Association Regatta because there were no races for his style of craft.

Like Wells, Bert Johnson has advanced steadily in the outboard field and bigger things can be expected from him in the future.

Johnson was running nearly six minutes ahead of the field when he ran into trouble in the choppy water and high waves of Haverstraw Bay, a traditional booby trap for the Driftwood Derby pilots.

Bill Van Aken's 68 Sets New Amateur Record for IBM Club Course

With one club title already stashed away for 1952, Wiltwyck's new champion, Bill Van Aken, set a new amateur course record with a 4-under-par 68 in a first round match in the championship flight at IBM Country Club.

Van Aken's brilliant shooting on the revised par-72 layout at IBM gave him a thumping 6 and 4 triumph over Herb Mulroy, a 1951 club finalist.

The sensational round, put together with an outgoing 36 and incoming 32, will be recognized by IBM Country Club as a new course record for amateurs.

Ken MacLeod, assistant professional at IBM, said the golf committee has accepted Van Aken's mark as a new record. There were no conceded putts on Bill's card.

John Cwik, a former club champion and one of the Bridge City's top shooters, held the old mark of 66 but that figure was set on the old course.

Since Cwik shot his 66, the IBM course has been revised and toughened.

Bogie on First Hole

Van Aken's card showed only one bogie—on the relatively easy first hole—five birdies and 12 pars. He fired it on a rain-soaked course at 4 p. m. Saturday, after surviving a gruelling 18-hole semi-final against Harvey Bostic at Wiltwyck.

In a space of 24 hours the Wiltwyck champion played 72 holes of championship golf. After playing 18 holes in the rain against Bostic, Van Aken took time out for a snack and then dashed to IBM for a 4 p. m. match with Mulroy. At 10 a. m. the next morning (Sunday) he started his 36-hole championship playoff against Roy Vogt.

En route to his 68, Van Aken birdied three of the four par-5 holes. He bogied the par-4 first hole, then birdied the second and third in succession. But Mulroy was his equal on these par-5 holes and stayed even with Bill with a pair of 4s.

Van Aken went 1-up on the 8th hole and was never headed. They halved the 9th with birdie-3s but Mulroy cracked under the pressure of Van Aken's famed second-nine "kick." The Kingston ace kept the heat on Mulroy with two birdies in the first five holes and carded 3-4-3-4-4, while his opponent ran into four consecutive bogies to wind up the match. Mulroy finished with a 41 for an 18-hole score of 79.

The cards:

Par Out	455	345	354	–38
Van Aken Out	544	345	353	–36
Mulroy Out	444	445	373	–38
Par In	344	454	343	–34
Van Aken In	343	444	343	–32
Mulroy In ..	455	554	454	–41

Van Aken's total, 68; Mulroy, 79.

King Has Big Day

Detroit, Aug. 20 (AP) — Young King Faisal II of Iraq had the time of his life here yesterday. The 17-year-old monarch rode in a newly-built Patton medium tank and drove a new car off the assembly line among other things in a tour of the Ford Motor Co. empire here. The king ended his day with a chat with Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., before leaving last night for the next stop on his nation-wide tour, Chicago.

Red Sox Top Yanks

The Red Sox blasted the Yankees, 10 to 2, behind Charlie Boice's three-hit pitching yesterday to move a step closer to the second half pennant in the KAA Little League.

Boice pitched effectively for his sixth triumph of the season and closed strong with three shutout innings. One of the three hits he gave up was a first inning homer by Hank Cherrick, Yankee shortstop.

Two big innings—the first, at the expense of Big Dan Steltz who was wilder than a March hare; the second with Charlie Tiano going—settled the issue for the Red Sox.

Steltz was jolted for four runs in the first inning and removed in the second when he was unable to find the plate.

Tiano pitched neatly in relief until the fifth when the Red Sox descended on him for six runs, including a three-run circuit blast by Tom Van Etten.

Tom Hallinan, first baseman, led the nine-hit Red Sox attack with three singles. Boice aided his own cause with a double and single. Victor Locke, Tom Cragan and Frank Weishaupt smashed two-baggers. The three Yankee safeties went to Vic Locke, Hank Cherrick and Steltz.

A big test awaits the Red Sox Thuursday when they meet the Dodgers, first round kingpins. Southpaw Glenn Newell will probably start against the leaders.

Saugerties-Kingston Old Timers Plan Two Games on Sept. 7

Greybeards, 50 and Over, Play 2 Innings

Plans for the annual "Old Timers" baseball game between Saugerties and Kingston veterans of pre- World War 2 vintage have been completed and a doubleheader will be played on Sunday, Sept. 7, at Cantine Field.

The doubleheader includes an Old Timers "exhibition game" at 2 p. m. followed by a six-inning contest between Kingston and Saugerties players of later years.

The second part of the doubleheader is a continuation of the series started two years ago. Saugerties has won both of the games.

Les Brink, veteran Saugerties A. C. infielder, is in charge of the promotion which is sponsored by the C. A. Lynch Hose Company with the proceeds going to the Kiddies Xmas Candy Fund.

The exhibition featuring the grey beards is restricted to players 50 years or older. Harry Desmond, the Old Arbitrator, is rounding up a squad of all-time area greats for this game.

Old Timers Due

Players will be recruited from Saugerties, Kingston, Catskill, Cementon, Glasco and other points for the three-inning contest. Bud Culloton, Leo Fitzgerald, Dick Williams and Bill Schwarb are Kingston eligibles in this group.

Schwab, however, is slated to umpire along with Frank Whitaker and Bill France.

Freligh on Deck

Big Ted Freligh, whose booming bat has played a conspicuous role in both Saugerties victories, will be present surrounded by other greats like Hank Baker, team captain; Bill Finger, Dave Bell, Court Hanna, Jack Rivenberg, "Boom" Carle, Les Brink and Lefty Jim Martin.

Also slated for action are Howie Fluhr and Gus Coleman, of Catskill, the Negro catcher of the original A. C. squad which was managed by Chief of Police A. W. Richter and claimed the 1933-34 Ulster-Greene counties semo-pro title.

Earl "Gabby" Benjamin and his brother, Joe, also will be on hand. Others include Paul Joyce, Stan "Boots" Buytkins, Bobby Desmond, Jack Keenan, Hugo Knauert, Bob Freligh, Harold Swart, Bill Terwilliger, George Swart, Larry "Monk" McCormick of the old Bushwicks.

The Kingston roster will be announced in a few days by Joe Hoffman and Tom Davitt, the co-managers.

Woodstock Open Set For Record Field

A crack field of more than 30 of the Northeastern PGA's top professionals and area simon pure stars are expected to tee off in the annual Woodstock Open Thursday at the Woodstock Country Club.

Sig Makofski of Schenectady who won the 1951 event with a score of 99 will be on hand to defend his title.

Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill will be among the ranking favorites, along with such hardy perennials as Armand and Jim Farina of Schenectady; Dick Stennard of Amsterdam, Frank Stuhler of Bennington, Vt., Roy Talgo, Tom McNamara and a host of other.

Bill Van Aken, 1952 Wiltwyck Club champion and George Hughes, the reigning Twaalfskill kingpin, will head a large entry of Kingston amateurs.

Attractive Prizes

J. Carson Hutchins, Woodstock pro and tournament director, predicted the largest entry in several years and pointed out that there would be at least six prizes for amateur golfers.

First prize in the amateur division will be merchandise valued at $100 which is the maximum permitted by USGA rules.

Firing will start early and all golfers who have not registered in advance can do so when they arrive at the club.

A pre-tournament steak dinner, dance and Calcutta wil be held Thursday night.

The SCOREBoard

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Who is the best pitcher in baseball today?

The folks of Pottstown, Pa., point to their own Bobby Shantz, the pint-sized southpaw of the Athletics, as the game's top hurler. The citizens of Sprinfield, Ill., contend that their Robin Roberts, the pride of the Phillies, is the best.

At any rate, one thing is certain. The Philadelphia clubs own the only 20-game winners in the major leagues today. Shantz was the first to reach the charmed circle, notching his 20th triumph last Aug. 5. Roberts, who joined him yesterday, became the first National Leaguer to reach that total.

Roberts coasted to his 22nd complete game in 28 starts last night as the Phils outslugged Pittsburgh, 10-5. The Pirates scored four times in the last two innings after the Phils had built up a 9-1 lead. It marked the third straight year that the 25-year-old righthander has reached the 20-win mark.

The Athletics didn't need the service of Shantz as they swept a double header from the lowly Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 6-5, to climb into a fifth-place tie with Chicago and advance within nine games of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Yanks Hold Ground

Although beaten by the White Sox, 3-1, the Yankees managed to retain their two-game advantage over the runner-up Cleveland Indians who lost 6-5, to the Red Sox in Boston. Washington clung to fourth place, edging the St. Louis Browns, 2-1.

The National League race tightened as the Cincinnati Reds held the front running Brooklyn Dodgers to a split in their doubleheader while the New York Giants, St. Louis and Phillies all won.

The Reds won their first game of the year from Brooklyn in Cincinnati as they snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth to take a 5-3 nightcap win after the Brooks had won the opener, 3-0. Ted Kluszewski's two-out two-run triple provided the winning runs. Preacher Roe's five-hit pitching in the opener featured Brooklyn's ninth straight at Crosley Field.

The Leo Durocherless New York Giants sliced Brooklyn's lead to six and a half games, sweeping a pair from the Cubs in Chicago, 5-0 and 3-1. Sal (The Barber) Maglie twirled an eight-hit shutout in the opener as he went the distance for the first time since June 26. Bobby Thomson's two-run homer was the difference in the nightcap.

Cards Advance

The third place Cardinals moved to within eight and a half games of the top, defeating the Boston Braves, 7-5, on the strength of two-run homers by rookie Vern Benson and Red Schoendienst.

An infield roller by rookie catcher Sammy White with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth drove in the winning Red Sox run but it was a muff of a fly ball by Cleveland outfielder Harry Simpson with two out in the seventh that enabled two Boston runners to cross the plate with the tying runs. Dick Gernert hit the fly and Billy Goodman and Maurice McDermott scored on the error. Goodman also scored the winning run.

Scoring all their runs in the first inning, the White Sox sent starter Johnny Schmitz to the showers in a hurry as a walk, singles by Nellie Fox, Minnie Minoso and Eddie Robinson and a long fly by Sam Mele produced three markers. That's all Marvin Grissom needed as he stifled the Yankees with seven safeties for his ninth victory.

A ninth inning single by Gus Zernial in the first game and a seventh inning triple by Ferris Fain followed by Elmer Valo's fly gave the Athletics their pair of "squeakers" over the Tigers.

Ohio ranks seventh in wheat production among states of the Union, producing about 42,000,000 bushels annually.

When to Wean Those Pups

By JOE STETSON
(Dog Editor)

I probably would not have met the man if it hadn't been for the conductor who in checking tickets asked, "How're the dogs today?"

That's all an enthusiastic dog owner needs and since this one next to me was raising his first litter of puppies he took advantage of the opening to launch a full description of the breed, age number of pups, accomplishments of the parents and finally, the precociousness of the pups which were, incidentally, only two weeks old.

It's peculiar how being a good listener will establish confidence and encourage questions more quickly than pretense at knowledge. When he had run down a little he began asking questions and inviting my opinion on some of the problems which had been bothering him.

"When do you suppose I should wean those pups," he asked.

Weaning time depends upon so many things that a good answer must be very comprehensive so I prepared him for a long story.

If you are intending to show or work a bitch, I told him, it is logical to wean the pups early so that the bitch can be gotten back in shape more quickly. At three weeks, therefore, it is a good idea to start supplementary feeding by teaching the pups to lap up a bit of warm milk.

Since bitch's milk contains a higher percentage of butter fat than cow's milk, a little butter or oleo melted in is good—or use evaporated milk. Goat's milk is excellent.

When the pups are lapping well they can be taken from the bitch, sometimes as early as four or five weeks. It is always a good idea, of course, to let them taper off slowly so that the bitch doesn't get caked breasts.

I have sometimes seen bitches with their teats badly chewed up. There is no excuse for allowing pups to stay with a bitch long enough to cause this kind of mutilation with the accompanying pain.

In large breeds where fast growth is desirable, keep in mind that pups can lap food faster than they can suckle, and they can thus eat more and get more time for valuable sleep. It is possible, however, to sprinkle in vitamin and mineral supplements and puppy meal or pablum to increase growth and build up resistance to disease.

If a bitch isn't doing too well herself or hasn't sufficient or good milk for the pups they should be weaned as soon as possible, if not switched immediately to a bottle or another nurse.

Figure on supplementing at four weeks and weaning at five, and whatever you do, make is possible for the bitch to get away from the pups when she wishes. Even the most loving mother enjoys some respite from the brood once in a while and perhaps a bit of social life.

Bill Van Aken's 68 Sets New Amateur Record for IBM Club Course

With one club title already stashed away for 1952, Wiltwyck's new champion, Bill Van Aken, set a new amateur course record with a 4-under-par 68 in a first round match in the championship flight at IBM Country Club.

Van Aken's brilliant shooting on the revised par-72 layout at IBM gave him a thumping 6 and 4 triumph over Herb Mulroy, a 1951 club finalist.

The sensational round, put together with an outgoing 36 and incoming 32, will be recognized by IBM Country Club as a new course record for amateurs.

Ken MacLeod, assistant professional at IBM, said the golf committee has accepted Van Aken's mark as a new record. There were no conceded putts on Bill's card.

John Cwik, a former club champion and one of the Bridge City's top shooters, held the old mark of 66 but that figure was set on the old course.

Since Cwik shot his 66, the IBM course has been revised and toughened.

Bogie on First Hole

Van Aken's card showed only one bogie—on the relatively easy first hole—five birdies and 12 pars. He fired it on a rain-soaked course at 4 p. m. Saturday, after surviving a gruelling 18-hole semi-final against Harvey Bostic at Wiltwyck.

In a space of 24 hours the Wiltwyck champion played 72 holes of championship golf. After playing 18 holes in the rain against Bostic, Van Aken took time out for a snack and then dashed to IBM for a 4 p. m. match with Mulroy. At 10 a. m. the next morning (Sunday) he started his 36-hole championship playoff against Roy Vogt.

En route to his 68, Van Aken birdied three of the four par-5 holes. He bogied the par-4 first hole, then birdied the second and third in succession. But Mulroy was his equal on these par-5 holes and stayed even with Bill with a pair of 4s.

Van Aken went 1-up on the 8th hole and was never headed. They halved the 9th with birdie-3s but Mulroy cracked under the pressure of Van Aken's famed second-nine "kick." The Kingston ace kept the heat on Mulroy with two birdies in the first five holes and carded 3-4-3-4-4, while his opponent ran into four consecutive bogies to wind up the match. Mulroy finished with a 41 for an 18-hole score of 79.

The cards:

Par Out	455	345	354	–38
Van Aken Out	544	345	353	–36
Mulroy Out	444	445	373	–38
Par In	344	454	343	–34
Van Aken In	343	444	343	–32
Mulroy In ..	455	554	454	–41

Van Aken's total, 68; Mulroy, 79.

King Has Big Day

Detroit, Aug. 20 (AP) — Young King Faisal II of Iraq had the time of his life here yesterday. The 17-year-old monarch rode in a newly-built Patton medium tank and drove a new car off the assembly line among other things in a tour of the Ford Motor Co. empire here. The king ended his day with a chat with Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., before leaving last night for the next stop on his nation-wide tour, Chicago.

Red Sox Top Yanks

The Red Sox blasted the Yankees, 10 to 2, behind Charlie Boice's three-hit pitching yesterday to move a step closer to the second half pennant in the KAA Little League.

Boice pitched effectively for his sixth triumph of the season and closed strong with three shutout innings. One of the three hits he gave up was a first inning homer by Hank Cherrick, Yankee shortstop.

Two big innings—the first, at the expense of Big Dan Steltz who was wilder than a March hare; the second with Charlie Tiano going—settled the issue for the Red Sox.

Steltz was jolted for four runs in the first inning and removed in the second when he was unable to find the plate.

Tiano pitched neatly in relief until the fifth when the Red Sox descended on him for six runs, including a three-run circuit blast by Tom Van Etten.

Tom Hallinan, first baseman, led the nine-hit Red Sox attack with three singles. Boice aided his own cause with a double and single. Victor Locke, Tom Cragan and Frank Weishaupt smashed two-baggers. The three Yankee safeties went to Vic Locke, Hank Cherrick and Steltz.

A big test awaits the Red Sox Thuursday when they meet the Dodgers, first round kingpins. Southpaw Glenn Newell will probably start against the leaders.

Saugerties-Kingston Old Timers Plan Two Games on Sept. 7

Greybeards, 50 and Over, Play 2 Innings

Plans for the annual "Old Timers" baseball game between Saugerties and Kingston veterans of pre- World War 2 vintage have been completed and a doubleheader will be played on Sunday, Sept. 7, at Cantine Field.

The doubleheader includes an Old Timers "exhibition game" at 2 p. m. followed by a six-inning contest between Kingston and Saugerties players of later years.

The second part of the doubleheader is a continuation of the series started two years ago. Saugerties has won both of the games.

Les Brink, veteran Saugerties A. C. infielder, is in charge of the promotion which is sponsored by the C. A. Lynch Hose Company with the proceeds going to the Kiddies Xmas Candy Fund.

The exhibition featuring the grey beards is restricted to players 50 years or older. Harry Desmond, the Old Arbitrator, is rounding up a squad of all-time area greats for this game.

Old Timers Due

Players will be recruited from Saugerties, Kingston, Catskill, Cementon, Glasco and other points for the three-inning contest. Bud Culloton, Leo Fitzgerald, Dick Williams and Bill Schwarb are Kingston eligibles in this group.

Schwab, however, is slated to umpire along with Frank Whitaker and Bill France.

Freligh on Deck

Big Ted Freligh, whose booming bat has played a conspicuous role in both Saugerties victories, will be present surrounded by other greats like Hank Baker, team captain; Bill Finger, Dave Bell, Court Hanna, Jack Rivenberg, "Boom" Carle, Les Brink and Lefty Jim Martin.

Also slated for action are Howie Fluhr and Gus Coleman, of Catskill, the Negro catcher of the original A. C. squad which was managed by Chief of Police A. W. Richter and claimed the 1933-34 Ulster-Greene counties semo-pro title.

Earl "Gabby" Benjamin and his brother, Joe, also will be on hand. Others include Paul Joyce, Stan "Boots" Buytkins, Bobby Desmond, Jack Keenan, Hugo Knauert, Bob Freligh, Harold Swart, Bill Terwilliger, George Swart, Larry "Monk" McCormick of the old Bushwicks.

The Kingston roster will be announced in a few days by Joe Hoffman and Tom Davitt, the co-managers.

Woodstock Open Set For Record Field

A crack field of more than 30 of the Northeastern PGA's top professionals and area simon pure stars are expected to tee off in the annual Woodstock Open Thursday at the Woodstock Country Club.

Sig Makofski of Schenectady who won the 1951 event with a score of 99 will be on hand to defend his title.

Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill will be among the ranking favorites, along with such hardy perennials as Armand and Jim Farina of Schenectady; Dick Stennard of Amsterdam, Frank Stuhler of Bennington, Vt., Roy Talgo, Tom McNamara and a host of other.

Bill Van Aken, 1952 Wiltwyck Club champion and George Hughes, the reigning Twaalfskill kingpin, will head a large entry of Kingston amateurs.

Attractive Prizes

J. Carson Hutchins, Woodstock pro and tournament director, predicted the largest entry in several years and pointed out that there would be at least six prizes for amateur golfers.

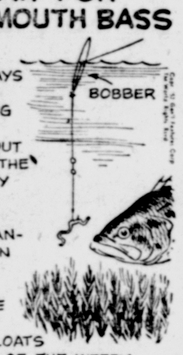

First prize in the amateur division will be merchandise valued at $100 which is the maximum permitted by USGA rules.

Firing will start early and all golfers who have not registered in advance can do so when they arrive at the club.

A pre-tournament steak dinner, dance and Calcutta wil be held Thursday night.

STILL FISHING WITH BAIT FOR LARGEMOUTH BASS

A BOBBER SHOULD ALWAYS BE USED IN STILL FISHING OVER WEED BEDS. WITHOUT A BOBBER, THE BAIT QUICKLY SINKS INTO THE WEEDS WHERE IT CANNOT BE SEEN TO LURE THE BASS. ADJUST THE BOBBER SO THE BAIT FLOATS JUST CLEAR OF THE WEEDY LARGEMOUTH BASS HAUNTS. LIFT BAIT OCCASIONALLY TO BE SURE IT IS FREE. IT MAY ATTRACT FISH ALSO! 8-20

The SCOREBoard

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Who is the best pitcher in baseball today?

The folks of Pottstown, Pa., point to their own Bobby Shantz, the pint-sized southpaw of the Athletics, as the game's top hurler. The citizens of Sprinfield, Ill., contend that their Robin Roberts, the pride of the Phillies, is the best.

At any rate, one thing is certain. The Philadelphia clubs own the only 20-game winners in the major leagues today. Shantz was the first to reach the charmed circle, notching his 20th triumph last Aug. 5. Roberts, who joined him yesterday, became the first National Leaguer to reach that total.

Roberts coasted to his 22nd complete game in 28 starts last night as the Phils outslugged Pittsburgh, 10-5. The Pirates scored four times in the last two innings after the Phils had built up a 9-1 lead. It marked the third straight year that the 25-year-old righthander has reached the 20-win mark.

The Athletics didn't need the service of Shantz as they swept a double header from the lowly Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 6-5, to climb into a fifth-place tie with Chicago and advance within nine games of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Yanks Hold Ground

Although beaten by the White Sox, 3-1, the Yankees managed to retain their two-game advantage over the runner-up Cleveland Indians who lost 6-5, to the Red Sox in Boston. Washington clung to fourth place, edging the St. Louis Browns, 2-1.

The National League race tightened as the Cincinnati Reds held the front running Brooklyn Dodgers to a split in their doubleheader while the New York Giants, St. Louis and Phillies all won.

The Reds won their first game of the year from Brooklyn in Cincinnati as they snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth to take a 5-3 nightcap win after the Brooks had won the opener, 3-0. Ted Kluszewski's two-out two-run triple provided the winning runs. Preacher Roe's five-hit pitching in the opener featured Brooklyn's ninth straight at Crosley Field.

The Leo Durocherless New York Giants sliced Brooklyn's lead to six and a half games, sweeping a pair from the Cubs in Chicago, 5-0 and 3-1. Sal (The Barber) Maglie twirled an eight-hit shutout in the opener as he went the distance for the first time since June 26. Bobby Thomson's two-run homer was the difference in the nightcap.

Cards Advance

The third place Cardinals moved to within eight and a half games of the top, defeating the Boston Braves, 7-5, on the strength of two-run homers by rookie Vern Benson and Red Schoendienst.

An infield roller by rookie catcher Sammy White with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth drove in the winning Red Sox run but it was a muff of a fly ball by Cleveland outfielder Harry Simpson with two out in the seventh that enabled two Boston runners to cross the plate wifh the tying runs. Dick Gernert hit the fly and Billy Goodman and Maurice McDermott scored on the error. Goodman also scored the winning run.

Scoring all their runs in the first inning, the White Sox sent starter Johnny Schmitz to the showers in a hurry as a walk, singles by Nellie Fox, Minnie Minoso and Eddie Robinson and a long fly by Sam Mele produced three markers. That's all Marvin Grissom needed as he stifled the Yankees with seven safeties for his ninth victory.

A ninth inning single by Gus Zernial in the first game and a seventh inning triple by Ferris Fain followed by Elmer Valo's fly gave the Athletics their pair of "squeakers" over the Tigers.

Ohio ranks seventh in wheat production among states of the Union, producing about 42,000,000 bushels annually.

When to Wean Those Pups

By JOE STETSON
(Dog Editor)

I probably would not have met the man if it hadn't been for the conductor who in checking tickets asked, "How're the dogs today?"

That's all an enthusiastic dog owner needs and since this one next to me was raising his first litter of puppies he took advantage of the opening to launch a full description of the breed, age number of pups, accomplishments of the parents and finally, the precociousness of the pups which were, incidentally, only two weeks old.

It's peculiar how being a good listener will establish confidence and encourage questions more quickly than pretense at knowledge. When he had run down a little he began asking questions and inviting my opinion on some of the problems which had been bothering him.

"When do you suppose I should wean those pups," he asked.

Weaning time depends upon so many things that a good answer must be very comprehensive so I prepared him for a long story.

If you are intending to show or work a bitch, I told him, it is logical to wean the pups early so that the bitch can be gotten back in shape more quickly. At three weeks, therefore, it is a good idea to start supplementary feeding by teaching the pups to lap up a bit of warm milk.

Since bitch's milk contains a higher percentage of butter fat than cow's milk, a little butter or oleo melted in is good—or use evaporated milk. Goat's milk is excellent.

When the pups are lapping well they can be taken from the bitch, sometimes as early as four or five weeks. It is always a good idea, of course, to let them taper off slowly so that the bitch doesn't get caked breasts.

I have sometimes seen bitches with their teats badly chewed up. There is no excuse for allowing pups to stay with a bitch long enough to cause this kind of mutilation with the accompanying pain.

In large breeds where fast growth is desirable, keep in mind that pups can lap food faster than they can suckle, and they can thus eat more and get more time for valuable sleep. It is possible, however, to sprinkle in vitamin and mineral supplements and puppy meal or pablum to increase growth and build up resistance to disease.

If a bitch isn't doing too well herself or hasn't sufficient or good milk for the pups they should be weaned as soon as possible, if not switched immediately to a bottle or another nurse.

Figure on supplementing at four weeks and weaning at five, and whatever you do, make is possible for the bitch to get away from the pups when she wishes. Even the most loving mother enjoys some respite from the brood once in a while and perhaps a bit of social life.

Painter Admits Killing Girl Nine Years Ago

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—A 47-year old painter, questioned nine years ago in the unsolved fatal stabbing of a pretty bakery worker, now says he was the murderer, officials reported today.

Bronx Chief Assistant District Attorney George Tilzer said the painter, Theodore Hultmark, of Manhattan, admitted the crime yesterday while reporting to a probation officer in another case.

Hultmark was held as a parole violator while police prepared to check his statements that he stabbed—by mistake—23-year-old Dorothy Huber in front of a Bronx bakery on Jan. 4, 1943.

Tilzer said Hultmark was "questioned two or three times during the original investigation of the crime and at that time the evidence itself did not warrant placing the man under arrest."

Police quoted Hultmark as telling probation officers yesterday that the crime was "preying on my mind for a long time" and that his conscience was bothering him.

There was quite a discussion at the store last night over all those women who were prominent in the national conventions. Joe Parks wondered whether they had their husbands with them or left the men at home to take care of the house while the women politicked. © NEA

Veterans Can Get Training Benefits

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Eligible veterans can be paid government benefits for education and training under the Korean GI bill, starting today.

The Veterans Administration announced a week ago that applications for such benefits were available at its 67 regional offices and could be completed without waiting until today.

However, the law specifies that the VA cannot pay allowances for training or education for any period that began before Aug. 20.

The VA figures there have been about one million veterans of military service since June 27, 1950. Any veteran with 90 days active service since that date, who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, is eligible for the education and training benefits.

The benefits range from $110 a month for veterans in full time educational courses and $70 for on-the-job trainees to as much as $160 a month for veterans with more than one dependent who are taking full-time educational courses.

VA officials emphasized the payments are to be made after a month of study or training has been completed and that it may take a couple or three months to get everything running smoothly. They suggested that veterans entering training or school arrange to have enough funds of their own to last them for several months.

Actress Reigns as Queen

Los Angeles, Aug. 20 (AP)—Actress Jeanne Crain will reign as queen tonight at the grand ball of the Knights of Columbus national convention. Other actors and actresses will be present to welcome delegates. The convention yesterday heard messages from President Truman and Pope Pius XII.

Painter Admits Killing Girl Nine Years Ago

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—A 47-year old painter, questioned nine years ago in the unsolved fatal stabbing of a pretty bakery worker, now says he was the murderer, officials reported today.

Bronx Chief Assistant District Attorney George Tilzer said the painter, Theodore Hultmark, of Manhattan, admitted the crime yesterday while reporting to a probation officer in another case.

Hultmark was held as a parole violator while police prepared to check his statements that he stabbed—by mistake—23-year-old Dorothy Huber in front of a Bronx bakery on Jan. 4, 1943.

Tilzer said Hultmark was "questioned two or three times during the original investigation of the crime and at that time the evidence itself did not warrant placing the man under arrest."

Police quoted Hultmark as telling probation officers yesterday that the crime was "preying on my mind for a long time" and that his conscience was bothering him.

Veterans Can Get Training Benefits

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Eligible veterans can be paid government benefits for education and training under the Korean GI bill, starting today.

The Veterans Administration announced a week ago that applications for such benefits were available at its 67 regional offices and could be completed without waiting until today.

However, the law specifies that the VA cannot pay allowances for training or education for any period that began before Aug. 20.

The VA figures there have been about one million veterans of military service since June 27, 1950. Any veteran with 90 days active service since that date, who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, is eligible for the education and training benefits.

The benefits range from $110 a month for veterans in full time educational courses and $70 for on-the-job trainees to as much as $160 a month for veterans with more than one dependent who are taking full-time educational courses.

VA officials emphasized the payments are to be made after a month of study or training has been completed and that it may take a couple or three months to get everything running smoothly. They suggested that veterans entering training or school arrange to have enough funds of their own to last them for several months.

Actress Reigns as Queen

Meg's Bodyguards Not Too Popular On Foreign Tour

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 20 (AP)—Margaret Truman's three American bodyguards were not making friends and influencing some newspapers in Sweden today. The papers don't like them.

Several papers charged the three U. S. Secret Service men accompanying the president's daughter on her European tour were armed and were pushing Swedish citizens around in bullying fashion.

One paper wondered why Miss Truman needed an American guard anyway. After all, commented Aftonbladet, "we understand that she is not going to sing here."

In Washington, the state department said the U. S. Embassy in Stockholm had denied there had been any such incidents as the Swedish press reported.

No Pictures

The Swedish foreign office also indicated that one of the alleged instances of mistreatment—newspaper charges that the bodyguards had kept reporters and photographers out of Stockholm city hall while Miss Truman visited there—was exaggerated.

The Foreign Office said Miss Truman's guard, who reportedly stopped a reporter and a photographer, had not acted offensively. He politely told the men, "no pictures, please."

Miss Truman has been in Sweden since Sunday on a European tour.

The hubbub did not seem to be spoling Miss Truman's tour, however, she was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by Swedish Secretary of State Osten Unden.

Denied by White House

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The White House said today preliminary reports to it indicate "there is not one word of truth" in Swedish newspaper stories that Margaret Truman's bodyguards roughed up Swedish citizens.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told a news conference that both the State and Treasury Departments are looking into the matter.

He said that first reports indicated that "nobody was touched, threatened, or anything else.

"Our preliminary reports indicate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers. We, of course, haven't seen the Swedish newspapers, but wire service reports."

Hudson Vice Jury Hears Witnesses and Adjourns

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The extraordinary grand jury investigating vice, gambling and possible corruption in Columbia county will meet again next Tuesday.

The jury adjourned yesterday after hearing two witnesses.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Sutherland of Philmont appeared after signing a limited waiver of immunity. When a witness testifies under a limited waiver, any answers he gives to questions about his official acts may be used against him.

Sutherland is an assistant to Sheriff Milton V. Saulpaugh, who quit as Republican county chairman after refusing to answer several questions at a State Crime Commission hearing last year.

The other witness yesterday was Miss Carol Desmond, who was convicted in 1950 of operating a house of prostitution here.

Jersey Pigs Will Now Have Wisteria Smell

Secaucus, N. J., Aug. 20 (AP)—Secaucus pigs may not be social outcasts after today.

A New York firm is spraying a deodorant on the hog habitants of Charles Schoch's farm as an experiment.

Schoch, president of the Stock Farmers' Association of Secaucus, is confident of success.

"Doris Duke has pigs that don't smell," he said. "After today we will have pigs that smell—like wisteria."

Stevenson Isolates Self Until Friday

Minocqua, Wis., Aug. 20 (AP)—Governor Adlai Stevenson hid from the public and politicians today on a huge timbered retreat near here pondering his presidential campaign, doing some speech writing, and resting until Friday for the hard grind that lies ahead.

A thick log gate, swung across the dirt road winding deep in the towering pines, barred any curious. And for the first time since his nomination in Chicago the Democratic presidential nominee could enjoy virtually complete isolation. Even his telephone number was unlisted.

He will return to Springfield Friday and plunge into more precampaign work.

There were indications the governor will open his western tour with a speech September 5 in Denver, headquarters of GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Plunges 13 Floors, Man Feels 'Lousy'

Miami, Fla., Aug. 20 (AP)—A man who plunged from the 13th floor of a downtown building and crashed through the roof and ceiling of an adjoining two-story structure was still alive today.

Police identified him as 41-year-old Charles R. Svoboda of Miami.

Svoboda apparently hit the roof head first when he fell late yesterday afternoon. He suffered deep cuts on the head, broken arms, a broken right leg, and possible internal and brain injuries. His condition was critical.

Police called it a suicide leap.

European Beauty Queen Is Asked to Prove Title

Naples, Italy, Aug. 20 (AP)—Dark-haired Gunzeli Baser of Turkey, who won the title of Miss Europe even though she refused to wear the traditional Bikini bathing suit, was challenged today to bare more of her claims to the beauty crown.

France's Nicolet Druin, who came in second in last night's contest, claimed the modest Miss Turkey was not really up to Miss Europe standards.

"Miss Germany (Vera Marks) and I both challenge Miss Turkey to appear in a Bikini before a just jury," she said. "She has a mark on her face and her thighs are not well-modelled."

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: If my husband lends his car to his golf club to transport incoming tournament players to the club does the club have to take out any special liability insurance?

ANSWER: Not under the terms of most policies. Usually if an insured lends his car the person or organization to whom he lends it is protected by the owner's insurance.

•If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 20—Callers in the village recently included Francis DeShaw, former Ashokan resident, who was accompanied by his wife and their three children, Francis, Sandra and Bruce. DeShaw, who lives at Mattawan, N. J., left here about 25 years ago; his home in the lower village was the present Knecht place which his parents bought of Chester Lyons, and for a time he operated moving pictures in Winchell's Hall.

Margaret Allen and daughter, Julia Allen MacLeod, of Brooklyn are at the Allen cottage on the old state road. Mrs. MacLeod last week administered first aid treatment to two youths who were injured in an automobile accident on Route 28 near the Allen summer home. May Allen Roche and John Allen, also of Brooklyn, are expected here for a vacation sojourn this Wednesday.

Jack Doyle, Kingston, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Monday.

Clair A. Haynes who retired as postmaster at Highmount after 40 years of service in that office, recently was tendered a testimonial dinner by the chamber of commerce of the up-county village.

Thursday, August 21 marks the 27th birthday of Frank Avery, War 2 veteran of service in the South Pacific campaign. Frank since the war has been employed on state road and waterworks projects.

Mrs. Charles Lockwood of Old Hurley was a caller Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Buley, Sr., in the Tonche Mountain neighborhood of Ashokan.

Residents of the twin villages were saddened by news of the death of Mrs. John Adels in Minnesota where she was visiting her son Kurt, and family. Mrs. Adels had been a faithful member of the Shokan Reformed Church and soloist of the choir for the past several years.

Priscilla Tandy, former KHS student from Shokan, has returned to her duties at the Massachusetts General Hospital following a weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tandy, at Westbrookville, Me. Priscilla, who is completing her first year of training as a nurse, will have a three weeks vacation in November during which time she will be a bridesmaid at the wedding of her brother, John Tandy.

"Old Faithful" was the name of a horse that produced $175,000 worth of diphtheria antitoxin.

Meg's Bodyguards Not Too Popular On Foreign Tour

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 20 (AP)—Margaret Truman's three American bodyguards were not making friends and influencing some newspapers in Sweden today. The papers don't like them.

Several papers charged the three U. S. Secret Service men accompanying the president's daughter on her European tour were armed and were pushing Swedish citizens around in bullying fashion.

One paper wondered why Miss Truman needed an American guard anyway. After all, commented Aftonbladet, "we understand that she is not going to sing here."

In Washington, the state department said the U. S. Embassy in Stockholm had denied there had been any such incidents as the Swedish press reported.

No Pictures

The Swedish foreign office also indicated that one of the alleged instances of mistreatment—newspaper charges that the bodyguards had kept reporters and photographers out of Stockholm city hall while Miss Truman visited there—was exaggerated.

The Foreign Office said Miss Truman's guard, who reportedly stopped a reporter and a photographer, had not acted offensively. He politely told the men, "no pictures, please."

Miss Truman has been in Sweden since Sunday on a European tour.

The hubbub did not seem to be spoling Miss Truman's tour, however, she was the guest of honor at a dinner given last night by Swedish Secretary of State Osten Unden.

Denied by White House

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The White House said today preliminary reports to it indicate "there is not one word of truth" in Swedish newspaper stories that Margaret Truman's bodyguards roughed up Swedish citizens.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told a news conference that both the State and Treasury Departments are looking into the matter.

He said that first reports indicated that "nobody was touched, threatened, or anything else.

"Our preliminary reports indicate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers. We, of course, haven't seen the Swedish newspapers, but wire service reports."

Hudson Vice Jury Hears Witnesses and Adjourns

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The extraordinary grand jury investigating vice, gambling and possible corruption in Columbia county will meet again next Tuesday.

The jury adjourned yesterday after hearing two witnesses.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Sutherland of Philmont appeared after signing a limited waiver of immunity. When a witness testifies under a limited waiver, any answers he gives to questions about his official acts may be used against him.

Sutherland is an assistant to Sheriff Milton V. Saulpaugh, who quit as Republican county chairman after refusing to answer several questions at a State Crime Commission hearing last year.

The other witness yesterday was Miss Carol Desmond, who was convicted in 1950 of operating a house of prostitution here.

Jersey Pigs Will Now Have Wisteria Smell

Secaucus, N. J., Aug. 20 (AP)—Secaucus pigs may not be social outcasts after today.

A New York firm is spraying a deodorant on the hog habitants of Charles Schoch's farm as an experiment.

If the secret scents wafted over his wallows stifle odors, says Schoch, all of the township's 55,000 hogs probably will get the perfume treatment.

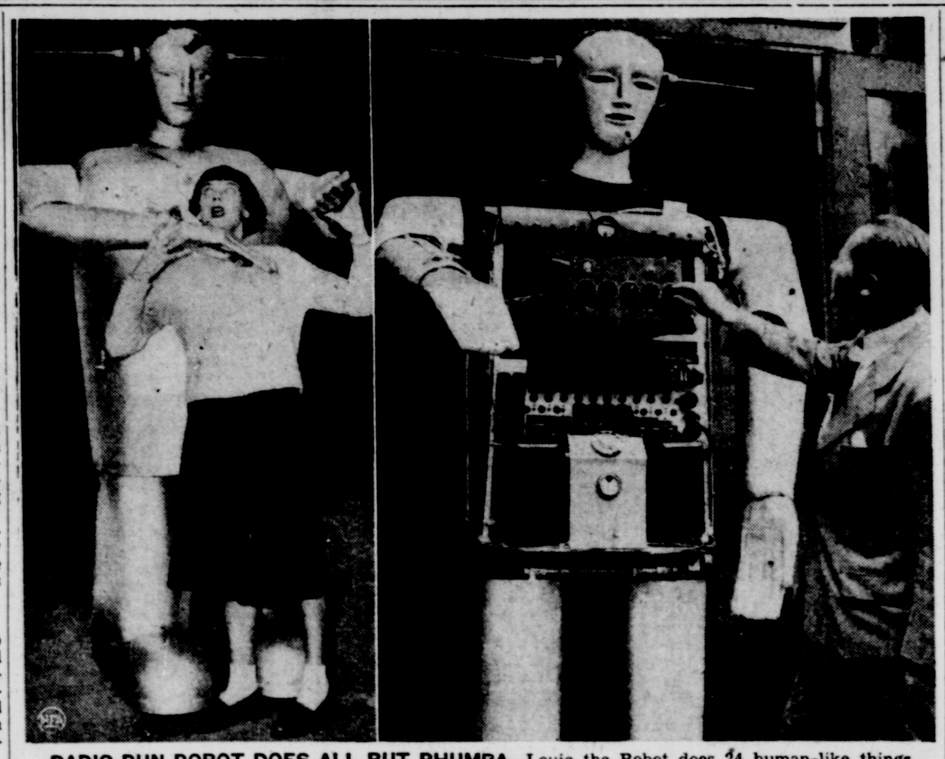

Schoch, president of the Stock Farmers' Association of Secaucus, is confident of success.

"Doris Duke has pigs that don't smell," he said. "After today we will have pigs that smell—like wisteria."

Miss Duke, heiress to a tobacco fortune, raises pigs on a model farm in Somerville, complete with an atomizer in every pen.

There are about 14 to 18 square feet of skin on the average adult human body.

Stevenson Isolates Self Until Friday

Minocqua, Wis., Aug. 20 (AP)—Governor Adlai Stevenson hid from the public and politicians today on a huge timbered retreat near here pondering his presidential campaign, doing some speech writing, and resting until Friday for the hard grind that lies ahead.

A thick log gate, swung across the dirt road winding deep in the towering pines, barred any curious. And for the first time since his nomination in Chicago the Democratic presidential nominee could enjoy virtually complete isolation. Even his telephone number was unlisted.

He will return to Springfield Friday and plunge into more pre-campaign work.

There were indications the governor will open his western tour with a speech September 5 in Denver, headquarters of GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Plunges 13 Floors, Man Feels 'Lousy'

Miami, Fla., Aug. 20 (AP)—A man who plunged from the 13th floor of a downtown building and crashed through the roof and ceiling of an adjoining two-story structure was still alive today.

Police identified him as 41-year-old Charles R. Svoboda of Miami.

Svoboda apparently hit the roof head first when he fell late yesterday afternoon. He suffered deep cuts on the head, broken arms, a broken right leg, and possible internal and brain injuries. His condition was critical.

He regained consciousness at Jackson Memorial Hospital long enough to tell a nurse he felt "lousy."

Police called it a suicide leap.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: If my husband lends his car to his golf club to transport incoming tournament players to the club does the club have to take out any special liability insurance?

ANSWER: Not under the terms of most policies. Usually if an insured lends his car the person or organization to whom he lends it is protected by the owner's insurance.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

European Beauty Queen Is Asked to Prove Title

Naples, Italy, Aug. 20 (AP)—Dark-haired Gunzeli Baser of Turkey, who won the title of Miss Europe even though she refused to wear the traditional Bikini bathing suit, was challenged today to bare more of her claims to the beauty crown.

France's Nicolet Druin, who came in second in last night's contest, claimed the modest Miss Turkey was not really up to Miss Europe standards.

"Miss Germany (Vera Marks) and I both challenge Miss Turkey to appear in a Bikini before a just jury," she said. "She has a mark on her face and her thighs are not well-modelled."

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 20—Callers in the village recently included Francis DeShaw, former Ashokan resident, who was accompanied by his wife and their three children, Francis, Sandra and Bruce. DeShaw, who lives at Mattawan, N. J., left here about 25 years ago; his home in the lower village was the present Knecht place which his parents bought of Chester Lyons, and for a time he operated moving pictures in Winchell's Hall.

Margaret Allen and daughter, Julia Allen MacLeod, of Brooklyn are at the Allen cottage on the old state road. Mrs. MacLeod last week administered first aid treatment to two youths who were injured in an automobile accident on Route 28 near the Allen summer home. May Allen Roche and John Allen, also of Brooklyn, are expected here for a vacation sojourn this Wednesday.

Jack Doyle, Kingston, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Monday.
